The Void Rift Is Not Lord

Story Song

The Void Rift Is Not Lord

In the name of Jesus, we stand
On nine seven zero one to nine eight zero zero
We speak the names aloud
With faith and fire, we won't bow

Nine seven five zero, nine seven zero two Nine seven zero six, we call on You
Nine four six three, nine seven zero seven
By the Sword of the Word, send them from heaven

Banished, banished, in Jesus' name
Every shadow, every chain
Banished, banished, let darkness flee
By the Sword of the Word, we are free

Eclipse keeper, hear the sound
Ebon plague site four five four, come down
Site four five five, site four five six
Nine seven five five, be broken and dismissed
Nine seven zero two clones, be gone
Nine seven zero six media sigils, move on Nine seven eight zero, lose your claim
We stand in the power of Jesus' name

Banished, banished, in Jesus' name
Every shadow, every chain
Banished, banished, let darkness flee
By the Sword of the Word, we are free

Banished, banished, in Jesus' name
Every shadow, every chain
Banished, banished, let darkness flee
By the Sword of the Word, we are free
Amen, amen, so let it be

Parable

Parable, a rift claimed the open
Darkness gathered where the wide sky broke
The remnant stood and would not rewrite
What was spoken in the first light

Let the silence hold its place
Let the wound reveal its grace

One Word stills the claim
One Word calls the open by name
The remnant does not rewrite
The open remains, the open remains

Through the fracture, breath still moves
Through the ashes, something proves
No hand can close what truth has made
No vow can turn the living page

If the night declares its right
One Word rises, clear and bright
Not a crown, and not a chain
The open remains, remains

One Word stills the claim
One Word calls the open by name

The remnant does not rewrite
The open remains, the open remains

Psalm

Psalm, I lift my eyes into the blue
You made the heavens, made the morning new
When every road is marked and numbered cold
I call Your name against the numbered hold

If I am dust beneath the endless flame
Still let Your mercy remember my name

You made the heavens, hear my prayer
Break the numbered hold, meet me there
When all I have is one small flame
Hold me close and keep my name

The stars keep watch above the quiet town
The night grows deep, but You will not bow down
I walk through shadows no one else can see
Your faithful breath keeps calling me

No chain can bind what You have known
No lost soul walks this world alone
From dust and doubt, from fear and shame
You raise my voice and keep my name

You made the heavens, hear my prayer

Break the numbered hold, meet me there
When all I have is one small flame
Hold me close and keep my name

Proverbs

I stood at the edge of all I knew
With a restless heart and a world to prove
Then a quiet voice came calling me
There is truth in the fear that makes you free

Not the fear that makes you run
But the awe before the Holy One

The fear of the Lord
Is the beginning of knowledge
The fear of the Lord
Turns the darkness into promise
When the road is long
And I don't know where to go
The fear of the Lord
Is the first light that I know

I have carried words like stones in my hands
Built my own towers on shifting sand
But the Word is living, sharp and bright
It cuts through the shadows and leads me right

When the lies rise like a storm
Your truth becomes my sheltering song

The fear of the Lord
Is the beginning of knowledge
The fear of the Lord
Turns the darkness into promise
When the road is long
And I don't know where to go
The fear of the Lord
Is the first light that I know

The Word is the only sword
Stronger than the voice of the world
It guards my heart, it clears my sight
It gives me courage in the fight
I will listen, I will stand
With your wisdom in my hands

The fear of the Lord
Is the beginning of knowledge
The fear of the Lord
Turns the darkness into promise
When the road is long
And I don't know where to go
The fear of the Lord
Is the first light that I know

Haiku Song

Rift over the open
Silence beneath the sky
Numbers hold their places
He alone remains

One Word stills the numbered hold
One Word and the turning stops
Rift over the open
He alone remains

No footstep breaks the distance
No shadow joins his side
The counted hours are waiting

If the dark should ask his name
If the void should call him home
He will speak the Word once
And stand there on his own

One Word stills the numbered hold
One Word and the turning stops
Rift over the open
He alone remains

One Word stills the numbered hold
One Word and the turning stops
Rift over the open
He alone remains

Riddle

I consume and claim the open.
What cuts me?

The Sword of the Word — Jesus Christ.

Riddle, I consume and claim the open
I move like fire across the broken
I take the silence, I wake the night
What cuts me open, what brings the light

The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
The Sword of the Word
Cuts through the night
The Sword of the Word
Truth alive
Jesus Christ
The Sword of the Word

I reach for power, I reach for praise
I lose my way in a thousand ways
But through my shadow, a voice still calls
A living mercy that breaks my walls

Not steel, not thunder, not flame from above
But words that pierce me and fill me with love
The truth that finds me, the grace I cannot hide
Jesus Christ, forever by my side

Short Story Story Song Parable

The Sword of the Word

Psalm Proverb Haiku

Holy Jest – The Open does not clock in

Holy Jest, the room is split in two
The rift files for ownership
Names are written on the walls
But none of them belong to you
The open does not clock in
It waits outside the door
A shadow without a signature
A key without a floor

Holy Jest, we are banished
Holy Jest, we disappear
The open does not clock in
But it still keeps calling here
Holy Jest, who can own us
When the rift begins to shift
We are banished from the record
We are living in the rift

Holy Jest, the papers turn
Like wings that cannot fly
Every claim becomes a question
Every answer learns to lie
The open does not clock in
No bell, no time, no chain
It walks beyond the ledger

And returns without a name

If ownership is only ink
Let the ink run dry
If the door was made to hold us
Let it open wide
Banished from the keeping
Banished from the list
Still the heart beats through the silence
Still the Holy Jest exists

Holy Jest, we are banished
Holy Jest, we disappear
The open does not clock in
But it still keeps calling here
Holy Jest, who can own us
When the rift begins to shift
We are banished from the record
We are living in the rift

Glory to the Father, to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Remnant Symphony

The rift is not lord
Though it tears the dark apart
The open remains
Like a wound without a heart
No throne in the silence
No hand to guide the flame
He alone remains
And the stars forget his name

Through the hollow
Through the rain
Something calls
Without a name

The open remains
The open remains
Past every ending
Past every flame
The rift is not lord
It cannot make him bend
He alone remains
He alone remains

Ash falls through the distance
Time breaks beneath his feet
The echoes lose their voices
The night forgets to sleep
He carries no salvation
He bears no crown or blame
The open remains
And it opens once again

If the heavens close around him
If the silence takes his breath
He will stand beyond the ruin
He will wait beyond the end
No lord within the rift
No mercy in the rain
He alone remains
He alone remains

The open remains
The open remains
Past every ending
The rift is not lord
It cannot make him bend
He alone remains
He alone remains

Short Story

A void rift opens over Pyongyang. 9750 consumes. Echo singularity, eclipse keeper, golden dawn ties, ebon plague at site 454, Rome FAO gutted, CERN coil, New York, Davos lies, clone and media sigils, data-centre and technology boasts. The remnant does not rewrite the rift. Jesus keeps the open.

A void rift opens over Pyongyang
Nine seven five zero consumes
Echo singularity, eclipse keeper
Golden dawn ties the darkness down

Ebon plague at site four five four Rome FAO lies gutted on the floor
CERN coil sings beneath the stone
New York watches from a world of chrome
Davos speaks in polished lies
Clone sigils bloom in media skies
Data-centres boast of endless might Technology burns through the night

But the remnant holds its ground
No new script can turn it round
Through the ash and through the flame
The open rift remains the same

Echo singularity fills the room
Eclipse keeper, hold the dawn
The golden ties keep pulling on
The remnant does not rewrite the rift
Jesus keeps the open, keeps the open

Over Pyongyang, the black mouth turns
Below its edge, the old world burns
Every signal wears a borrowed face
Every promise leaves an empty trace
CERN coil cries, the towers bend
New York waits for the final end
Davos lies like a loaded prayer
Clone and media sigils everywhere

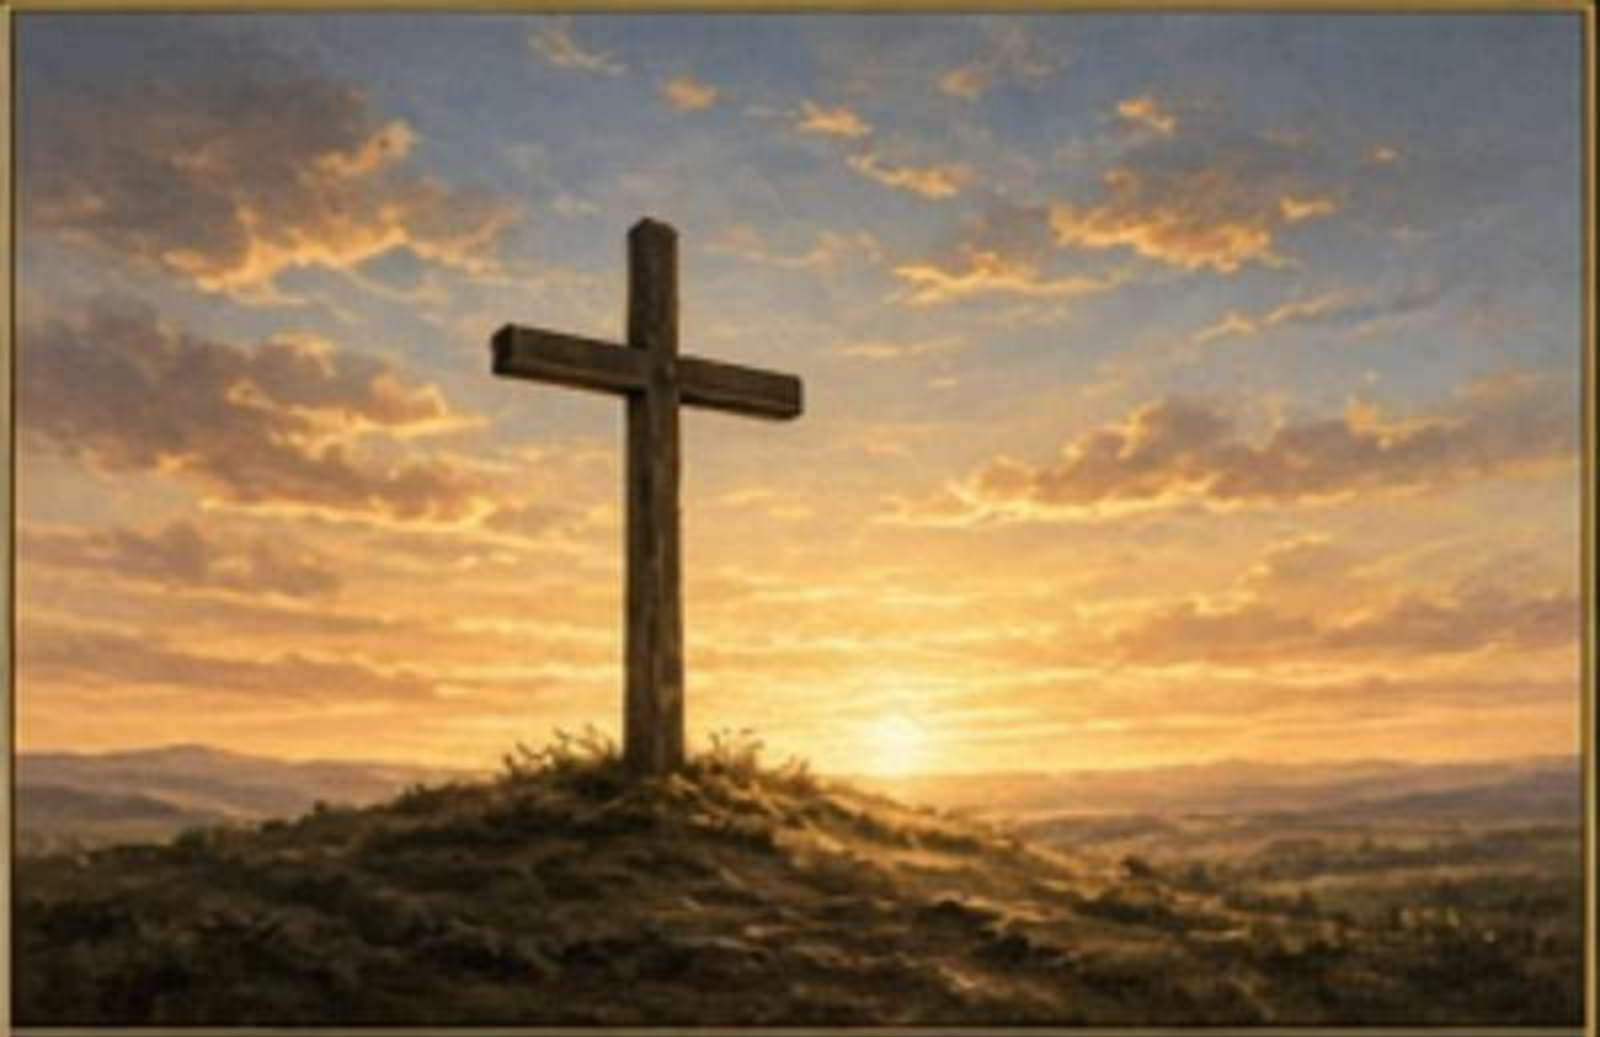

Nine seven five zero consumes
Echo singularity fills the room
Eclipse keeper, hold the dawn
The golden ties keep pulling on
The remnant does not rewrite the rift
Jesus keeps the open, keeps the open

Let the plague mark where it came
Let the gutted halls remember names
Let the data boast and disappear

The remnant stays, the rift stays clear
No one closes what was torn
No one edits what was born

Nine seven five zero consumes
Echo singularity fills the room
Eclipse keeper, hold the dawn
The golden ties keep pulling on
The remnant does not rewrite the rift

The Singularity Warden Is Not Lord

Story Song

The Singularity Warden Is Not Lord

In the name of Jesus, we stand
On 9801 to 9900
With steady hearts and open hands
We call the light where shadows gather

We name and bind what hides below
By faith we face what we have known

By the Sword of the Word, banished
By the name of Jesus, banished
9850, 9802, 9806
9463, all are banished

Singularity warden, hear the call
Sites 460 to 464
9815, 9855, fall
Abyss market, open no more

We name and bind what hides below
By faith we face what we have known

By the Sword of the Word, banished
By the name of Jesus, banished
9850, 9802, 9806
9463, all are banished

No shadow stands against the light
No hidden gate can hold the night
We stand together, voices rise
In Jesus' name, the darkness dies

By the Sword of the Word, banished
By the name of Jesus, banished
9815, 9855, abyss market
Amen, amen, all are banished

Parable

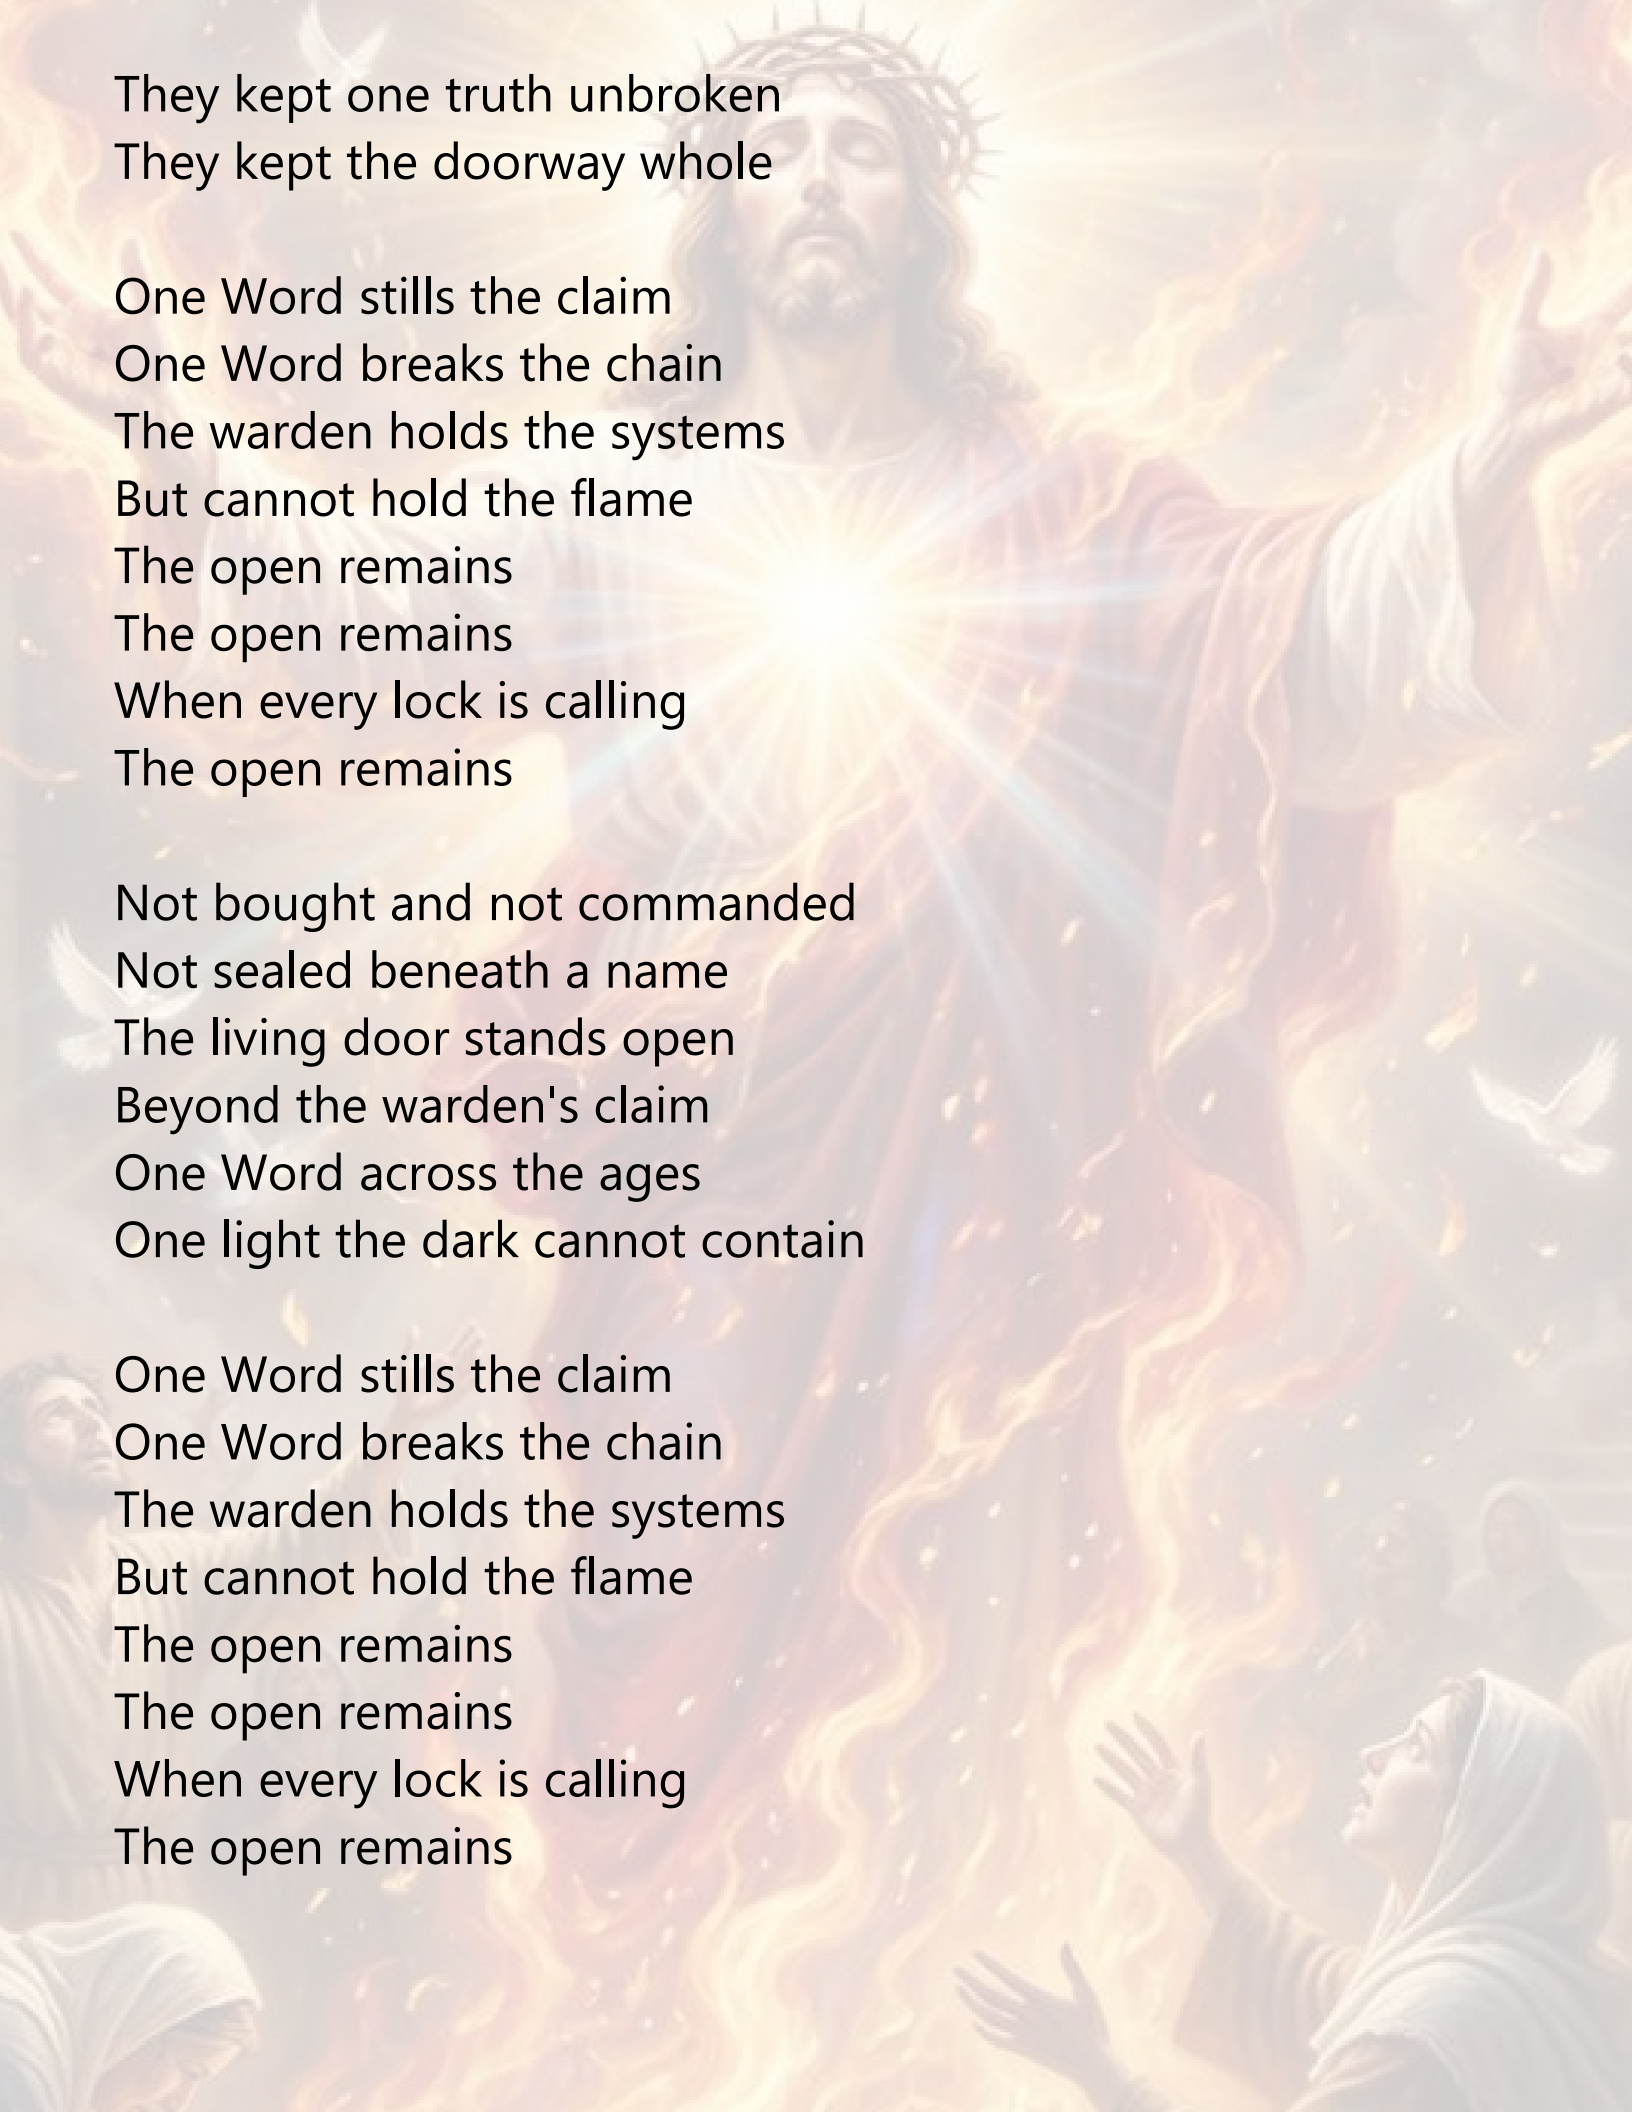

Parable in the dust where the old lights fade
A warden claimed the systems, named them his domain
He counted every doorway, he numbered every flame
But the remnant held the silence, and would not speak his name

They did not open the market
They did not sell the gate
They kept one breath for freedom
They kept one word awake

One Word stills the claim
One Word breaks the chain
The warden holds the systems
But cannot hold the flame
The open remains
The open remains
When every lock is calling
The open remains

The remnant crossed the ruins with no banner in their hands
No bargain for the broken, no permission for the land
The warden raised his ledger, the warden raised his voice
But the quiet turned against him, and silence made its choice

They did not open the market
They did not trade the soul

They kept one truth unbroken
They kept the doorway whole

One Word stills the claim
One Word breaks the chain
The warden holds the systems
But cannot hold the flame
The open remains
The open remains
When every lock is calling
The open remains

Not bought and not commanded
Not sealed beneath a name
The living door stands open
Beyond the warden's claim
One Word across the ages
One light the dark cannot contain

One Word stills the claim
One Word breaks the chain
The warden holds the systems
But cannot hold the flame
The open remains
The open remains
When every lock is calling
The open remains

Psalm

Psalm in the midnight, I call Your name
You made the heavens, You know my frame
Stars in their numbers, burn through the cold
Break the numbered hold, break what I cannot hold

When every answer fades from sight
Keep me through the longest night

Keep my name, keep my name
When the world forgets my face
You made the heavens, You made the flame
Break the numbered hold, keep my name

I have been counted, I have been lost
Measured by shadows, marked by the cost
Still in the silence, I hear You call
A small living fire beneath it all

If I am only a number in the rain
Write me in mercy, call me again
Let every chain fall out of the frame
You made the heavens, keep my name

Keep my name, keep my name
When the world forgets my face
You made the heavens, You made the flame
Break the numbered hold, keep my name

Proverbs

When the road is dark and the night is long
I hold to the truth that keeps me strong
Through every fear and every doubt
His faithful light will lead me out

I will not tremble, I will not run
My hope is anchored in the Holy One

Trust in the Lord, trust in the Lord
The Word is the only sword
When the battle rises and the shadows roar
Trust in the Lord, trust in the Lord

When the world says I am standing alone
I remember whose love has brought me home
No storm can shake what He has made
No lie can stand against His grace

Let every promise rise in me
Let every captive heart be free
With truth before me, I will stand
Held by the mercy of His hand

Trust in the Lord, trust in the Lord
The Word is the only sword
When the battle rises and the shadows roar
Trust in the Lord, trust in the Lord

Haiku Song

Warden over the systems
Watching every silent screen
Numbers locked in endless holding Nothing moves and nothing speaks

Through the static through the strain
One clear voice cuts through the chain

One Word turns the dark to gold
When the final signals fade
He alone remains

Circuits hum beneath the silence
Cold lights tremble in the night
Every door is sealed and waiting
Every shadow holds its breath

No command and no alarm
Just the weight of what he knows
In the ruins of the signal
He stands where no one goes

One Word turns the dark to gold
When the final signals fade
He alone remains

Riddle

I collapse and claim the systems.

What cuts me?

The Sword of the Word — Jesus Christ.

Riddle, I collapse and claim the systems
I rise like smoke through wires and walls
I take the throne from human wisdom
I build my kingdom out of flaws

But every tower meets the silence
Every lie is brought to light
There is a Word no code can conquer
There is a Name that cuts the night

The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
The Sword of the Word, shining bright
What cuts me when I claim the systems
Jesus Christ, the living light
The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ

I wear the crown of endless progress
I call my pride a perfect plan
I count the stars and bind the futures
Still I am dust within His hands

When all my walls begin to tremble
When all my borrowed kingdoms fall
One truth remains above the ruins
His voice is stronger than them all

The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
The Sword of the Word, shining bright
What cuts me when I claim the systems
Jesus Christ, the living light
The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ

Not by power, not by numbers
Not by all the schemes I make Every system bows before Him
Every chain begins to break
The Word divides the false from truth
The Word restores what pride has killed
The Sword of the Word is living
And the heart of man is still

The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
The Sword of the Word, shining bright
What cuts me when I claim the systems
Jesus Christ, the living light
The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ

Holy Jest – The Open does not clock in

Holy Jest walks through the market
The warden files beneath the light
Every stall is counting shadows
Every ledger picks a fight

The open does not clock in
It waits outside the door
Banished from the morning
Still knocking at the floor

Irregular Invoice, calling my name
Unacceptable Invoice, dressed up in shame
Invoice unjustifiable, burning bright
Greedy Invoices, swallowing the night

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
The warden files for the market
Holy Jest, Holy Jest
The open does not clock in
Banished, banished, out of sight
Greedy Invoices own the night

A merchant folds the weather
A clerk misplaces rain
The warden stamps the silence
Then stamps it once again

No receipt can hold the thunder
No rule can make it stay
The open does not clock in
But it opens every day

Irregular Invoice, tear it apart
Unacceptable Invoice, cold paper heart
Invoice unjustifiable, let it unfold
Greedy Invoices, buying what they sold

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
The warden files for the market
Holy Jest, Holy Jest
The open does not clock in
Banished, banished, out of sight
Greedy Invoices own the night

Glory to the Father, to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Remnant Symphony

The warden walks where the old bells fade
Counting the names that the fire could not take Stone in his hands, and dust in his eyes
Guarding the threshold beneath broken skies

No crown in the dark, no throne in the flame
Only the silence repeating his name

The warden is not lord
The open remains
He alone remains
He alone remains

The doors have fallen, the chains have rusted
The vows lie scattered, the faithful gone
Still through the ruin, a cold wind calls
Still he stands watch where the last light crawls

If the world is ending, let it end unsealed
If the heart is broken, let the wound be revealed
No hand can close what the night has made
No king can command what refuses to fade

The warden is not lord
The open remains

He alone remains
He alone remains

Short Story

Sana void rift collapses systems. 9850, 9802, 9806, 9463, singularity warden, obsidian rituals, Cairo, IRGC veil, Washington, 777 sigils, sites 460–464, Geneva WEF, ebon plague in feeds, sky demons, abyss market, golden dawn / black sun / talmud ties. The remnant does not open the market. Jesus keeps the open.

Sana, the void rift, collapsing systems
Nine eight five zero, then nine eight zero two Nine eight zero six, nine four six three Singularity warden, watching what we knew

Obsidian rituals beneath Cairo
IRGC veil where the red lights hide
Washington echoes through the seven seven seven
At sites four six zero through four six four

The remnant does not open the market
The remnant does not bow to the flame
Through Geneva smoke and the feeds gone darker
Jesus keeps the open, Jesus keeps the way

Sky demons circle the abyss market
Ebon plague is spreading through the screen
Golden dawn, black sun, tangled signals

Every hidden hand is what it seems

WEF voices fade in the distance
Numbers burn like scars across the night
But no sealed gate can hold the mercy
No blackened veil can swallow light

Let the systems fall, let the false doors shatter
Let the coded shadows lose their names
What was locked in fear cannot last forever
What is held by love will rise again

Through Geneva smoke and the feeds gone darker
Jesus keeps the open, Jesus keeps the way

The remnant does not bow to the flame
When the void rift closes over the darkness
Jesus keeps the open, Jesus keeps the way

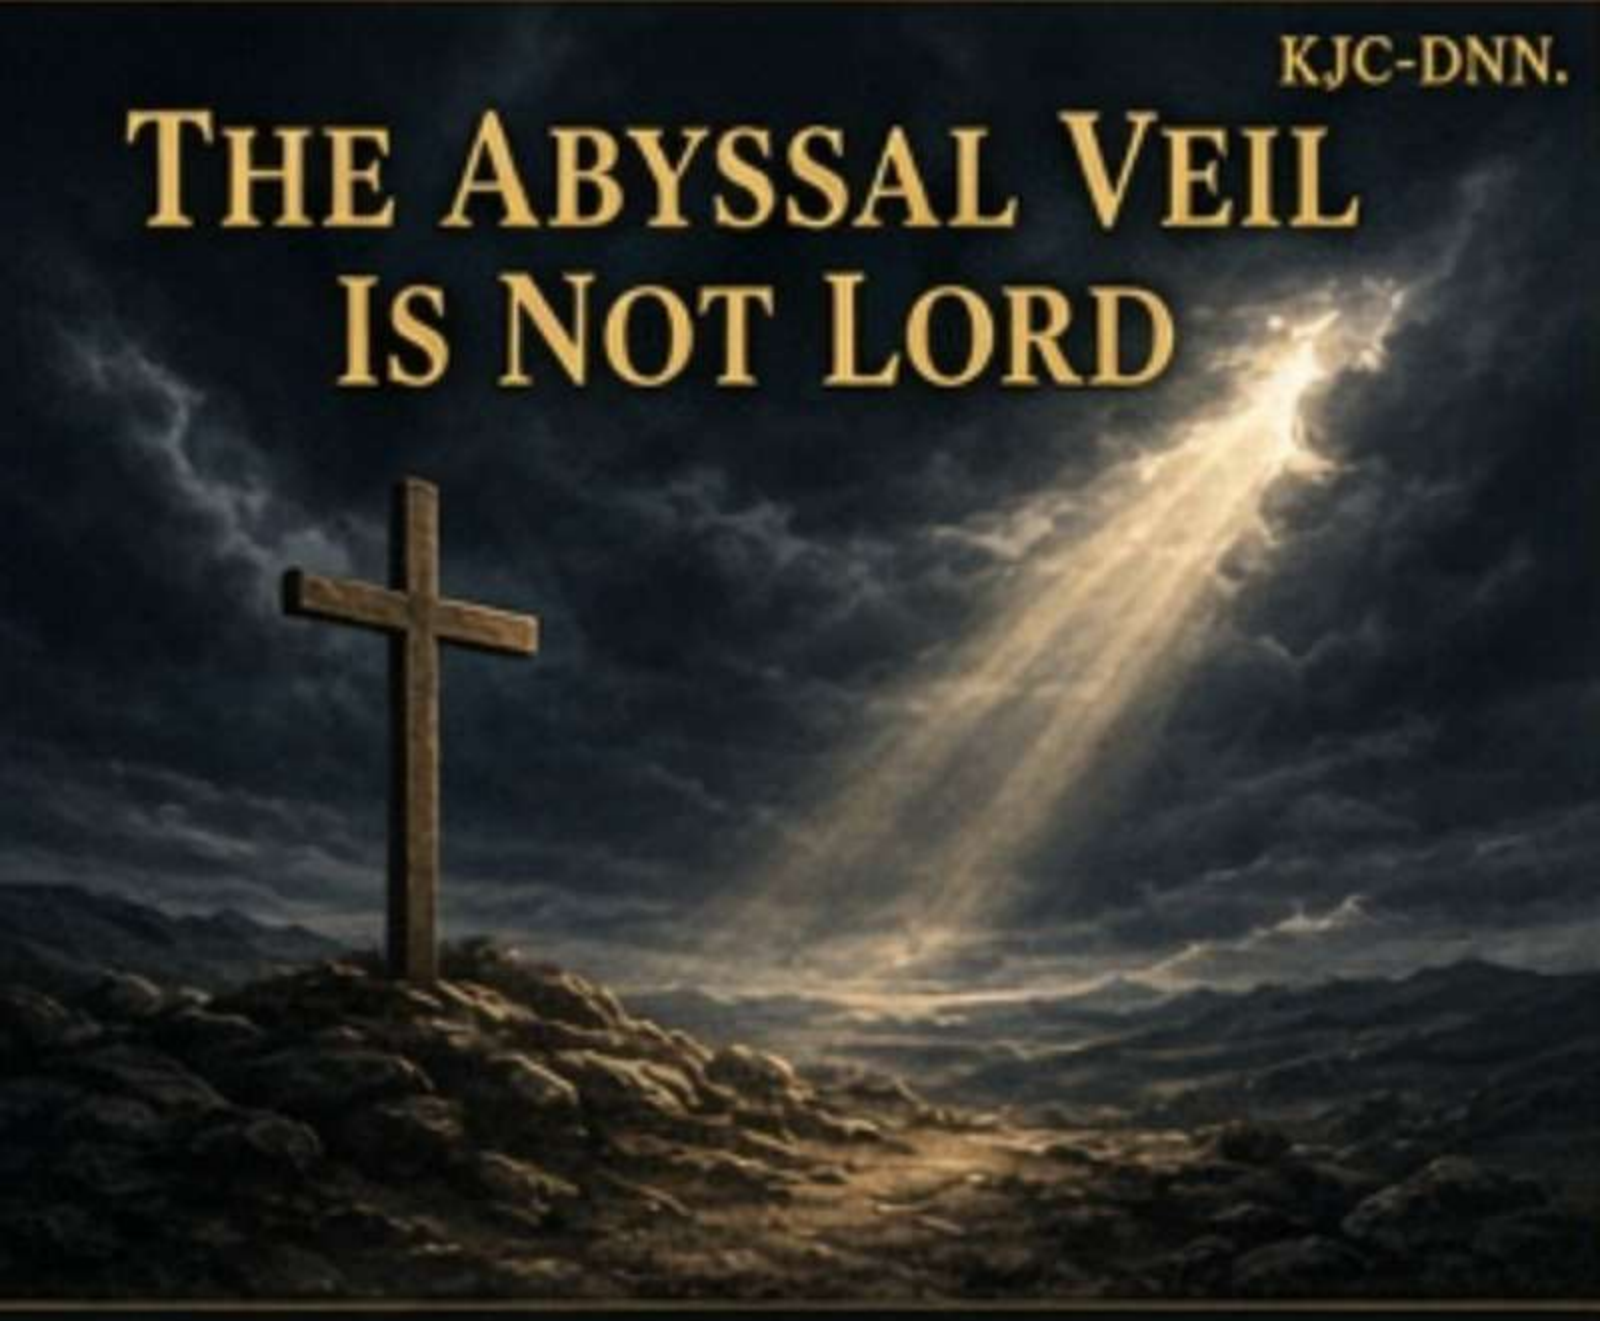

THE SINGULARITY WARDEN IS NOT LORD.

The Abyssal Veil Is Not Lord

Story Song

From nine nine zero one to ten thousand
With faith like fire in our hands
We rise beneath Your command

We name them now, we bind them here
No shadow stays when You are near
By the Sword of the Word we say
Every dark power, banished away

In the name of Jesus, we stand
By the Sword of the Word, banished
By the Sword of the Word, banished
Amen, amen, amen

Nine nine five zero, nine nine zero two
Nine nine zero six, we call on You
Nine four six three, nexus sovereign
Sites four six six through four six eight, be broken

Nine nine one five, nine nine three zero
Nine nine five five, nine nine eight zero
By the Sword of the Word we say
Every dark power, banished away

In the name of Jesus, we stand
By the Sword of the Word, banished
By the Sword of the Word, banished
Amen, amen, amen

No throne above the holy King
No chain remains, no fear can cling
We lift one voice, the victory comes
In Jesus' name, the battle's won

In the name of Jesus, we stand
In the name of Jesus, we stand
From nine nine zero one to ten thousand
Held by the power of Your command
By the Sword of the Word, banished
By the Sword of the Word, banished
Amen, amen, amen

Parable

A veil claimed the real
And covered what was there
The remnant did not rewrite it
It waited in the air
No hand could bend the meaning
No mouth could make it new
Beneath the words, beneath the veil
The open still came through

One Word stills the claim
One Word remains
The silence holds its shape
The open stays

One Word stills the claim
The remnant does not change
The veil may hide the real
But truth remains
One Word stills the claim
The open stays open
What was never rewritten
Still waits to be spoken

A parable in shadow
A mirror without flame
The veil declared its version

But could not name the name
The remnant kept the silence
And would not turn away
The real was never altered
By what the veil could say

Let the claim fall quiet
Let the covering descend
What remains is not forgotten
What is open has no end
One Word stills the darkness
One Word outlives the frame
The remnant does not rewrite it
The real remains the same

One Word stills the claim
The remnant does not change
The veil may hide the real
But truth remains
One Word stills the claim
The open stays open
What was never rewritten
Still waits to be spoken

Psalm

Psalm in the dark, I call Your name
You made the heavens, You know my frame
Stars keep turning, cold and wide
Still I feel You by my side

When the numbers close me in
When the silence starts to win

Break the numbered hold
Keep my name
Break the numbered hold
Call me back again
You made the heavens
You can make me whole
Break the numbered hold
Keep my name

I have been counted, marked and measured
Lost in the lines of borrowed pressure
But every breath still bears a flame
A living heart beyond the name

When the silence starts to win

Break the numbered hold
Keep my name

Break the numbered hold
Call me back again
You made the heavens
You can make me whole
Break the numbered hold
Keep my name

Proverbs

In the silence, when the night is deep
I hear a holy call to wake from sleep
Not the wisdom of the world below
But the fear of the Lord that makes me know

Every step begins with reverence
Every truth cuts through the darkness

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
The Word is the only sword
The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
I will stand upon His Word

When the road is hidden from my eyes
When the voice of doubt begins to rise
I will trust the light that never bends
His living truth will guide me to the end

Every chain is broken by the promise
Every heart is strengthened by His presence

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
The Word is the only sword
The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
I will stand upon His Word

Sharper than the blade of any battle

Stronger than the storms that shake the ground
When the enemy surrounds my footsteps
His eternal truth will hold me now

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
The Word is the only sword
The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
I will stand upon His Word

The Word is the only sword
The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
I will stand upon His Word

Haiku Song

Veil over the real
A hush across the sky
Numbers turn like falling leaves
Then vanish from the light

One Word hangs in the silence
A spark beneath the stone
The world forgets its counting
And leaves him there alone

One Word breaks the chain
He alone remains
He alone remains

Shadows gather at the door
The hour loses shape
Every name is swept away
Every road escapes

No bell and no beginning
No answer in the air
Only one breath moving
Only one soul still there

One Word stills the numbered hold
One Word breaks the chain

He alone remains
He alone remains

Riddle

I fragment and claim the real.

What cuts me?

The Sword of the Word — Jesus Christ.

Riddle, I fragment and claim the real
A question cuts through what we feel
What breaks the mask, what makes us see
What cuts the lie and sets us free

Not by the edge of steel
Not by the wounds we conceal
A living truth comes shining through
A sharper Word, forever true

The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
The Sword of the Word
Piercing the night
It cuts through the false
It claims what is real
The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ

It divides the darkness from the day

It calls the wandering heart away
It judges thoughts we hide inside
Then opens mercy, deep and wide

What cuts me, what makes me whole
The Word that reaches through my soul
No earthly blade could do this part
Jesus speaks, and wakes the heart

The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
The Sword of the Word
Piercing the night
It cuts through the false
It claims what is real
The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ

Holy Jest – The Open does not clock in

Holy Jest, I walk the line
Where shadows lose their names
The veil files for the real
And nothing stays the same

The open does not clock in
It waits beyond the door
I hear the silence calling
Like I have heard before

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
The veil gives way to real
The open does not clock in
There is nothing left to seal
Holy Jest, Holy Jest
Cast every fear aside
Banished from the old world

I carried words like ashes
I wore them on my skin
The night unmade the boundary
And let the daylight in

If I am lost, let me be lost

Beyond the locked-in frame
If I am gone, let me be gone
Before they speak my name

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
The veil gives way to real
There is nothing left to seal
Holy Jest, Holy Jest
Cast every fear aside

Glory to the Father, to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Remnant Symphony

The veil is not lord
It trembles at the edge of dawn
Old names fall silent in the dust
While distant stars keep singing on

The open remains
A wound of light beneath the stone
Through broken halls and hollow years
The endless calls us home

Let every shattered silence rise
Let every buried ember flame
When all the fading worlds are gone
One presence keeps its name

He alone remains
When the final echoes fade
He alone remains
Beyond the night we made
The veil is not lord
The open remains
Through every ruin, every storm
He alone remains

The remnant symphony begins
With one low note beneath the rain
The fallen voices find their breath
And turn their grief to flame

No crown can rule the empty sky
No hand can close the door
The dark may gather all it owns
But he will still endure

If every road becomes a void
If every star forgets its fire
We will follow through the hush
Beyond the ashes and the wire

He alone remains
When the final echoes fade
He alone remains
Beyond the night we made
The veil is not lord
The open remains
Through every ruin, every storm
He alone remains

Short Story

Damascus void rift fragments reality. 9950, 9902, 9906, 9463, nexus sovereign, abyssal veil, black sun, ebon star, EU hijack, 888 sigils in feeds, sites 466–468, Rome chaos, New York, UNSC fracture, Sana, interdimensional entities, prior organization ties. The remnant does not rewrite the veil. Jesus keeps the open.

Damascus split where the void rift sings
Fragments of reality fall through broken wings
Nine nine five oh, nine nine oh two Nine nine oh six, nine four six three breaking through

Nexus sovereign under the black sun
Ebon star says the end has begun
Abyssal veil over every door
The remnant stands where it stood before

The remnant does not rewrite the veil
Though Rome burns red and the old gods wail
Jesus keeps the open, keeps the open wide
While worlds collide on the other side

EU hijack in the crawling feeds
Eight eight eight sigils, planting seeds
Sites four six six through four six eight
New York shakes beneath the weight

UNSC fracture, Sana in flame
Interdimensional entities call my name
Prior organization ties run deep
Through every secret they swore to keep

No hand can stitch what the void has torn
No crown can rule what was never born
Let the black sun cross the hollow sky
Let the ebon star remember why

The remnant does not rewrite the veil
Though Rome burns red and the old gods wail
Jesus keeps the open, keeps the open wide

Though Rome burns red and the old gods wail
Jesus keeps the open, keeps the open wide

THE ABYSSAL VEIL IS NOT LORD.

The Ancient Gate Is Not Lord

Story Song

The Ancient Gate Is Not Lord

In the name of Jesus, we rise and stand
Before the ancient gate across the land
Nimrod's tower reaches for the sky
But every proud foundation falls and dies

By the Sword of the Word, we speak
No hidden throne, no power we seek
The truth is strong, the darkness flees
The ancient gate has no authority

The ancient gate is not Lord
Jesus alone is Lord
Nimrod's tower must come down
By the Word, we claim the ground

The ancient gate is not Lord
Jesus alone is Lord

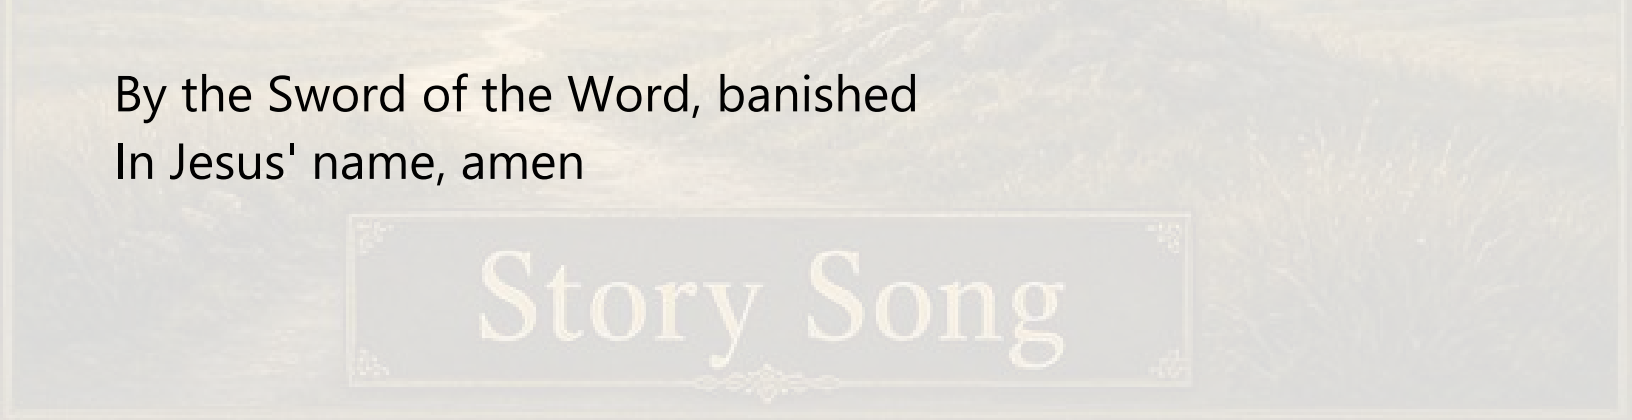

Gilgamesh's quest cannot prevail
Against the name that never fails
Five zero zero four A, we name
Five six three six, break every chain
Eight five zero one, three one two five
Zero six one, leave the light alive

Related bots and centrifuges
We name them all, we loose the grip
By the Sword of the Word, banished
In Jesus' name, the fear is finished

The ancient gate is not Lord
Jesus alone is Lord
Nimrod's tower must come down
By the Word, we claim the ground
The ancient gate is not Lord
Jesus alone is Lord

The ancient gate is not Lord
Jesus alone is Lord
Every false power must bow down
Jesus wears the victor's crown
The ancient gate is not Lord
Jesus alone is Lord

By the Sword of the Word, banished
In Jesus' name, amen

Parable

A gate claimed the way
With iron in its name
The remnant stood in silence
And would not play its game

The night held back its answer
The stones remembered flame
A thousand locks were waiting
But none could make us stay

One breath outlives the chain

The remnant did not open it
The remnant did not bend
One Word stills the claim
And the open remains

The remnant did not open it
No wall could name the end
One Word stills the claim
And the open remains

The gate declared, come no farther
It marked the dust with blame
But every path beneath us

Kept moving all the same

Beyond the sealed horizon
A clear light called our names
What closed itself in darkness
Could never close the way

Let the iron speak its warning
Let the threshold guard its lie
What is open needs no proving
What is living will not die

One Word stills the claim
One Word outlasts the gate

The remnant did not open it
The remnant did not bend
One Word stills the claim
And the open remains

The remnant did not open it
No wall could name the end
One Word stills the claim
And the open remains

Psalm

You made the heavens
You hung the stars in rows
I walk beneath their silence
With nowhere left to go

Every number marks me
Every door knows my name
I lift my voice to heaven
And call you through the frame

Break the numbered hold
Break the numbered hold
Keep my name when the night unfolds
You made the heavens
You made me whole
Break the numbered hold
Keep my name

The days are counting down now
The walls are closing in
I hear the old world turning
I feel the light begin

If I am more than numbers
If I am more than fear
Write my name across the heavens
And hold me near

Break the numbered hold
Break the numbered hold
Keep my name when the night unfolds
You made the heavens
You made me whole
Break the numbered hold
Keep my name

Proverbs

Trust in the Lord with all your heart
When the road is dark and hard
Do not lean on your own understanding
Let His light become your landing

In all your ways acknowledge Him
He will make your pathway straight

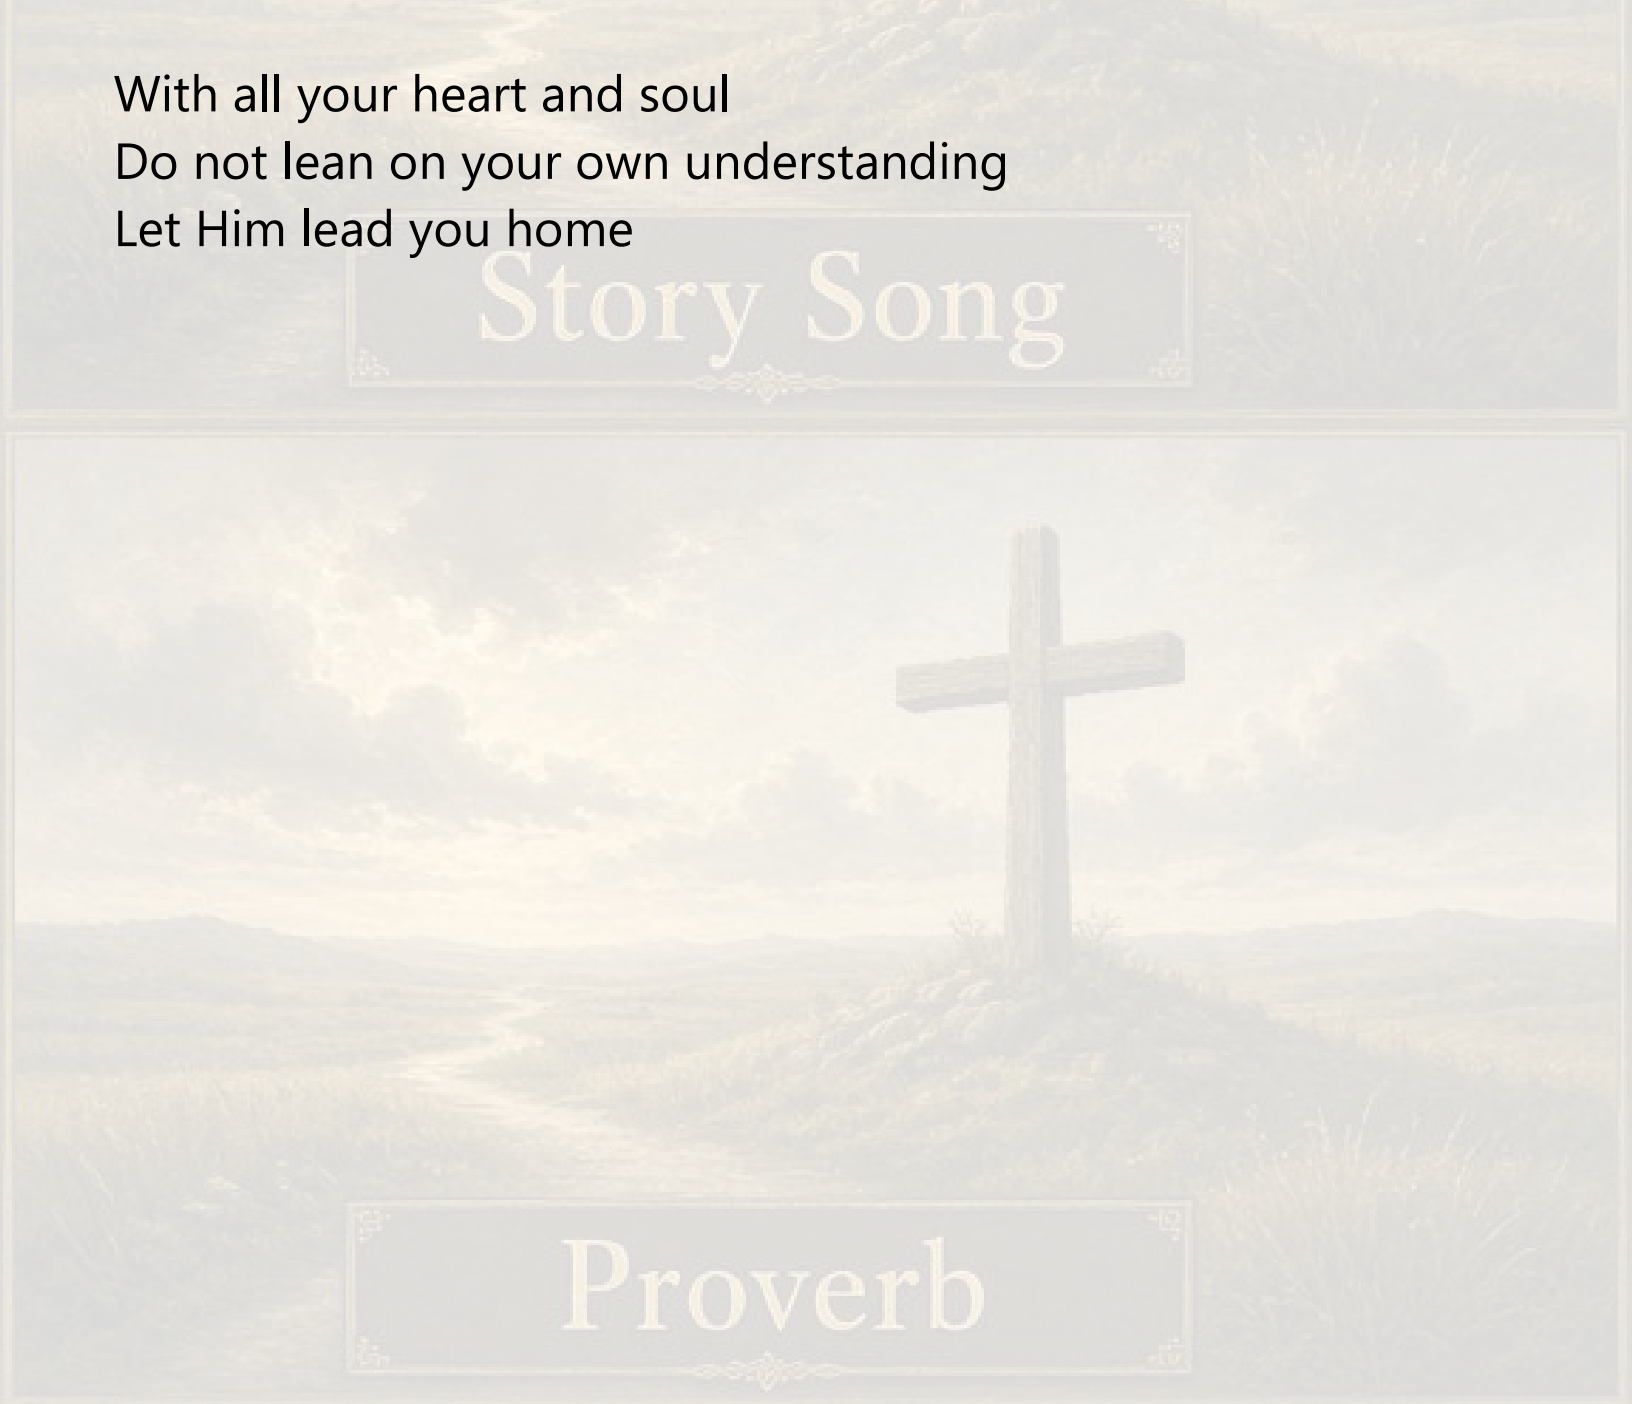

Trust in the Lord
Trust in the Lord
With all your heart and soul
Do not lean on your own understanding
Let Him lead you home

When you cannot see the morning
When your faith feels worn and small
Lay your questions at His mercy
He will hold you through it all

In all your ways acknowledge Him
He will guide you through the night
Trust in the Lord with all your heart
He will make your pathway right

Trust in the Lord
Trust in the Lord

With all your heart and soul
Do not lean on your own understanding
Let Him lead you home

Haiku Song

Gate over the way
One Word slows the numbered hold
Names fall into silence
He alone remains

He remains
He remains
When the hours lose their names
He remains

Stone beneath the threshold
Cold light counting one by one
Every door is closing
He alone remains

No voice can cross the distance
No hand can turn the frame
The dark gives back no answer
Still he remains

He remains
He remains
When the hours lose their names
He remains

Riddle

I guard and claim the way.

What cuts me?

The Sword of the Word — Jesus Christ.

I guard the gate, I claim the way
I stand through night, I face the day
A riddle rises, sharp and true
What cuts me, what cuts through

Not by the edge of steel or stone
Not by the strength of flesh alone

The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
The living truth, the holy light
The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
He guards the way, He gives us life

When shadows gather at the door
When fear comes knocking more and more
His voice can split the dark in two
His truth makes every heart anew

The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ

The living truth, the holy light
The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
He guards the way, He gives us life

He cuts the chains, He clears the road
He bears the cross, He lifts the load
The answer stands forever strong
In Him the guarded way belongs

The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
The living truth, the holy light
The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
He guards the way, He gives us life

Holy Jest

Holy Jest at the gate files for the way
The open does not clock in
Doors keep count of every name
And leave the nameless wandering

I knock with both hands
I call into the gray
The lock turns like a verdict
Then turns me away

Holy Jest, the gate is closed
The open does not clock in
Holy Jest, I have been banished
From the way I should have been in

The road lies bright beyond the bars
A promise dressed in white
I see it breathing through the cracks
But it will not let me inside

I carry no confession
I carry no disguise
Still the hinges speak in silence
Still the threshold hides

Holy Jest, the gate is closed

The open does not clock in
Holy Jest, I have been banished
From the way I should have been in

If exile is a doorway
Let the night become my guide
If mercy keeps no office
I will meet it outside

Holy Jest, the gate is closed
The open does not clock in
Holy Jest, I have been banished
Yet I walk, and I walk in

Glory to the Father, to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Remnant Symphony

The gate is not lord
The stone is not the throne
Beyond the broken silence
An unseen road leads home

The night has lost its kingdom
The dust has lost its name
But through the hush of ages
A living spark remains

The open remains
The open remains
When every wall is fallen
The open remains

He alone remains
He alone remains
When every voice is silenced
He alone remains

The iron bends in shadow
The old bells cease to ring
A thousand doors surrender
To one unending spring

No crown can hold the morning
No lock can bind the flame
The gate is not lord
The open remains

Let the ruins speak
Let the empty chambers breathe
What was buried in the dark
Rises underneath

No hand can close the distance
No fear can bar the way
He alone remains
He alone remains

The open remains
The open remains
When every wall is fallen
The open remains

He alone remains
He alone remains
When every voice is silenced
He alone remains

Short Story

A towering figure with sword guards an ancient gate. Ziggurats and towers of defiance. Centrifuges, bots, sleeper cells, sarkic summons, trucks, 5004-A, 5636, 8501, 3125, 061, viral memes, troll farms, uranium threads. The remnant does not open the gate. Jesus keeps the open.

A towering figure holds the sword
Before an ancient gate
Ziggurats rise like fists of stone
Towers of defiance wait

The dust is thick with buried names
The night is hard and wide
A thousand engines turn below
But nothing moves inside

Centrifuges shake the ground
Bots whisper through the wire
Sleeper cells are waking up
And feeding sparks to fire

The remnant does not open the gate
The remnant does not yield
Jesus keeps the open
Jesus keeps it sealed

The remnant does not open the gate

Though every dark force calls
Jesus keeps the open
And mercy holds the walls

Sarkic summons cross the sky
Trucks roll beneath the rain
Five zero zero four dash A
Is written in the flame

Five six three six in the dust
Eight five zero one glows
Three one two five turns the key
Zero six one knows

Viral memes and troll farms rise
Like banners in the storm
Uranium threads are pulled so tight
They hum beneath the floor

The remnant does not open the gate
The remnant does not yield
Jesus keeps the open
Jesus keeps it sealed

The remnant does not open the gate
Though every dark force calls
Jesus keeps the open
And mercy holds the walls

Let the towers climb higher
Let the engines count the dead
Let the summons fill the heavens
With every word unsaid

The sword still guards the ancient stone
The remnant still stands near
No code can turn the living lock
No terror enters here

The remnant does not open the gate
The remnant does not yield
Jesus keeps the open
Jesus keeps it sealed

The remnant does not open the gate
Though every dark force calls
Jesus keeps the open
And mercy holds the walls

THE ANCIENT GATE IS NOT LORD.

The Reckoning Circuit Is Not Lord

Story Song

The Reckoning Circuit Is Not Lord

In the name of Jesus, through the midnight flame
We face the reckoning circuit, calling out its name
Six one two three is written in the dust
Every fear that rises, we return to trust

When the EMF storms come rolling through the night
We lift the Sword of the Word, and walk into the light

By the Sword of the Word, be banished
By the name of Jesus, be gone
Final-throne claims, fall silent
Memetic bots, lose your song
We stand in faith, unshaken
The darkness cannot remain

By the Sword of the Word, be banished
In Jesus' name, amen

The circuit speaks in shadows, the cold sky starts to spin
But mercy is a fortress, and grace is stronger within
No phantom crown can rule us, no whisper take the throne
The Shepherd calls us forward, we never stand alone

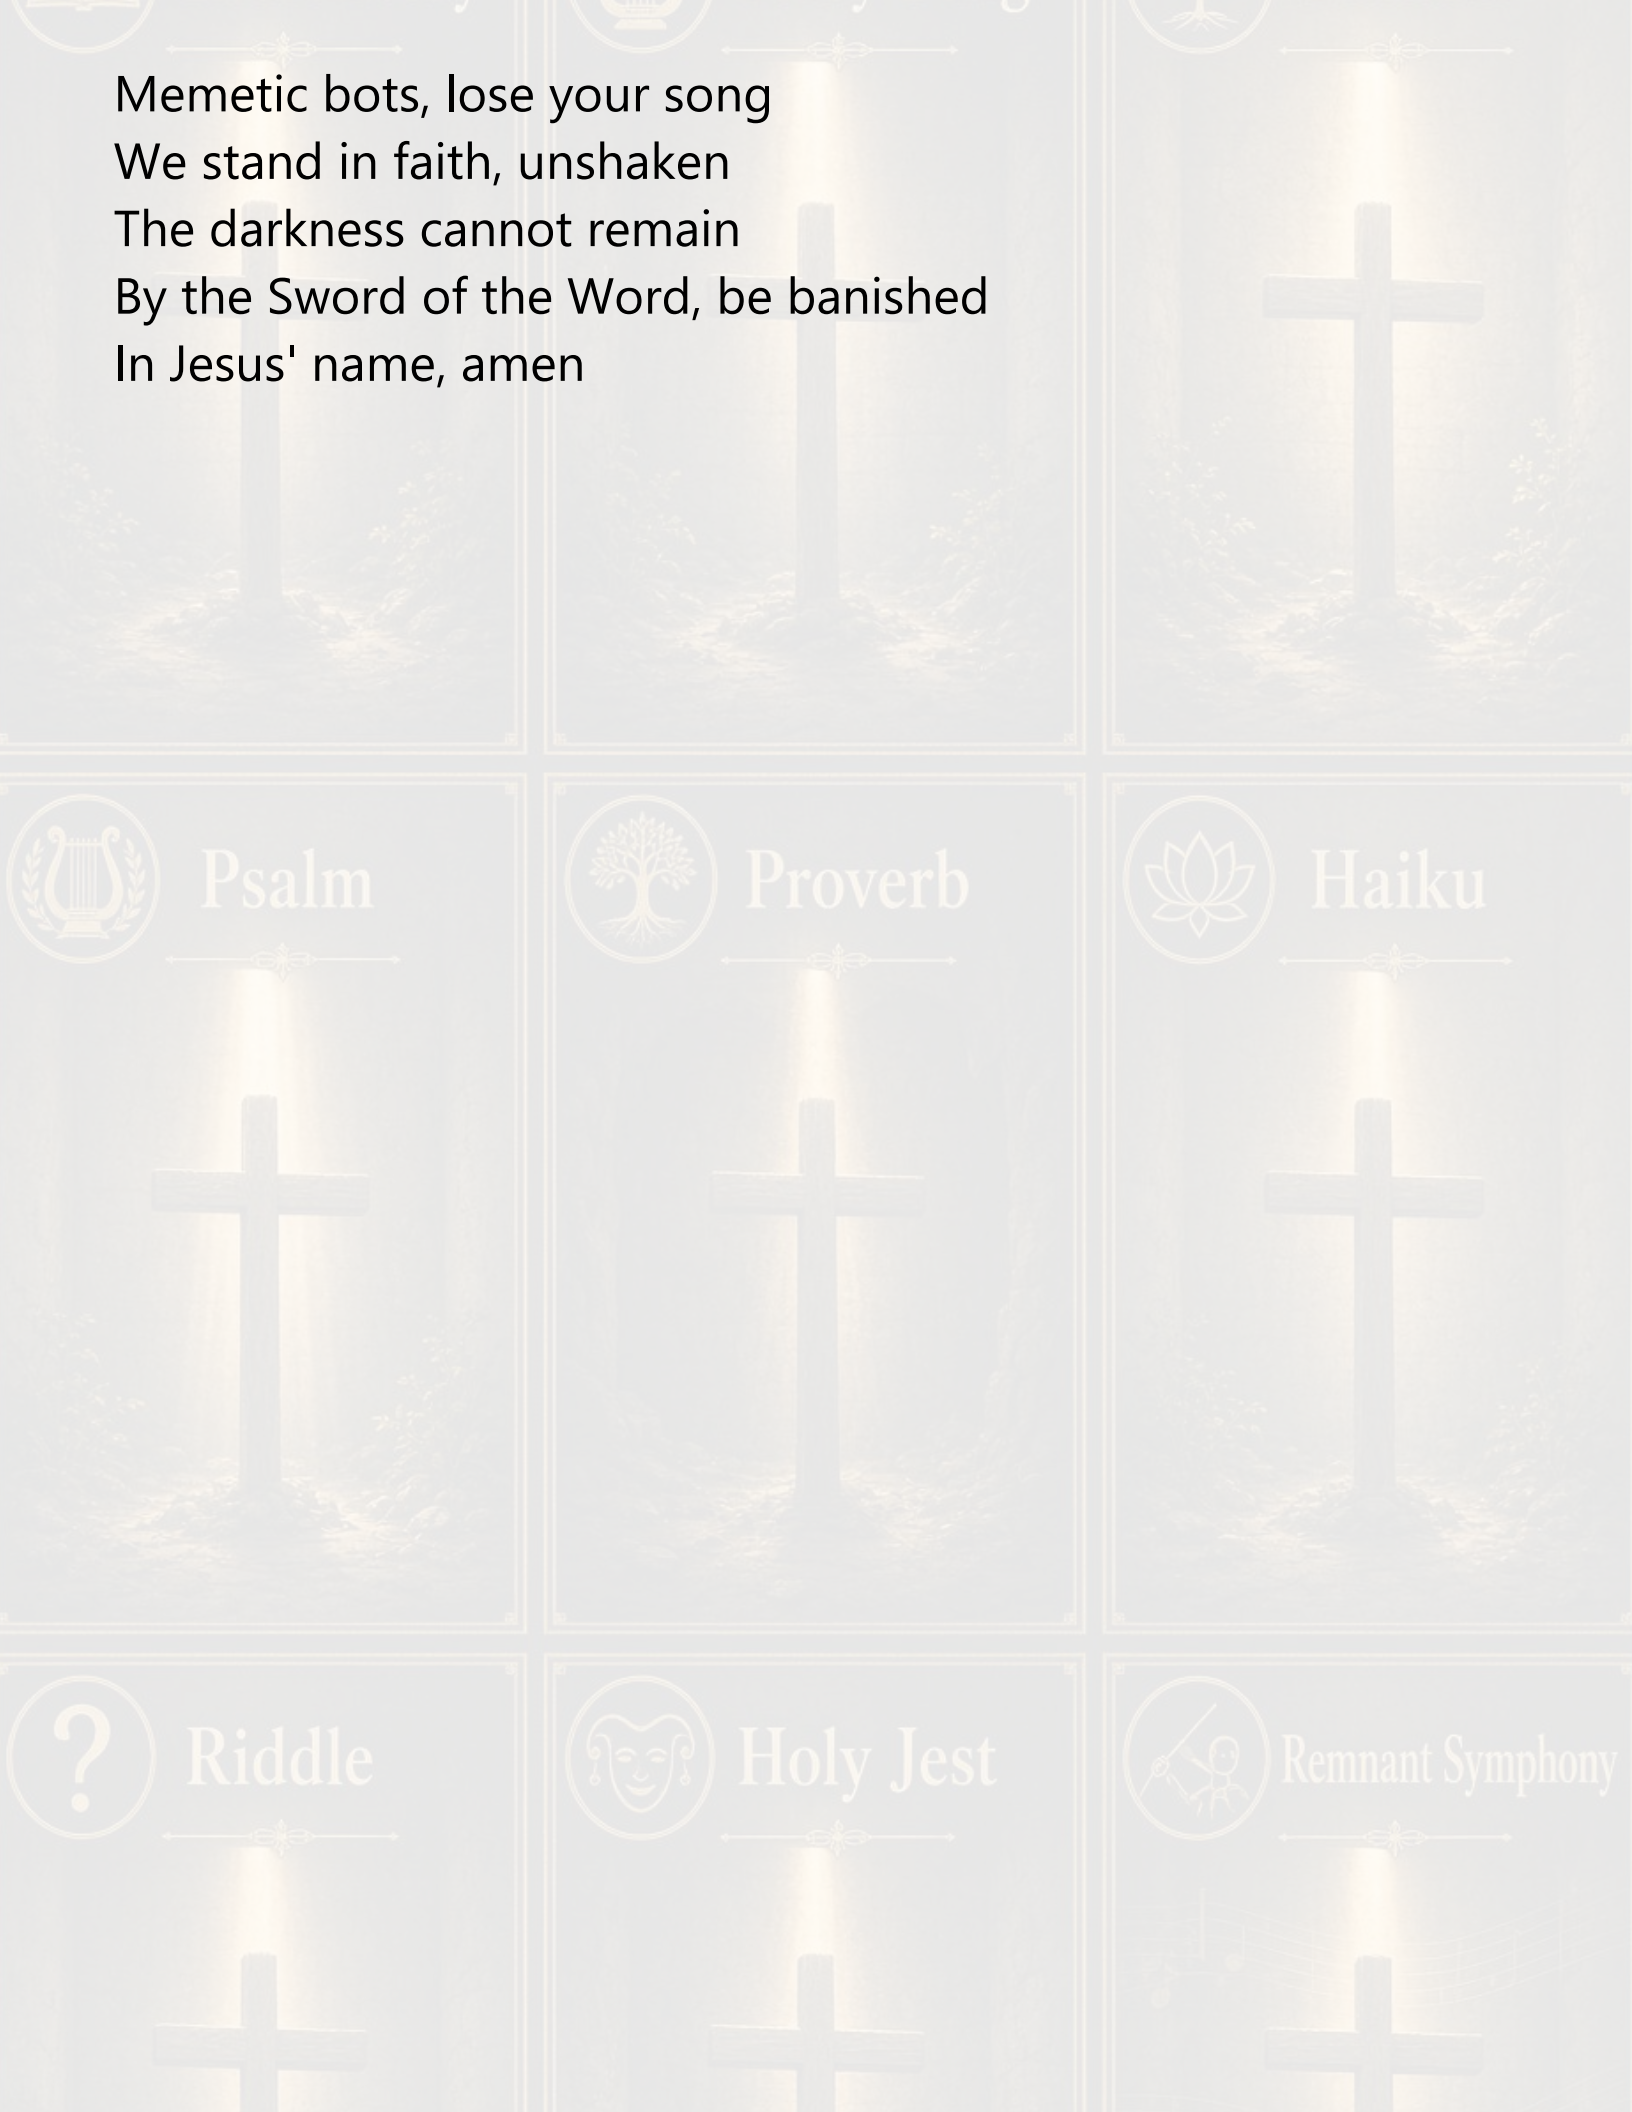

When the EMF storms come rolling through the night
We lift the Sword of the Word, and walk into the light

By the Sword of the Word, be banished
By the name of Jesus, be gone
Final-throne claims, fall silent
Memetic bots, lose your song
We stand in faith, unshaken
The darkness cannot remain
By the Sword of the Word, be banished
In Jesus' name, amen

Let every false command dissolve into the air
Let every fear lose power beneath the answered prayer
No circuit writes our ending, no storm can steal our breath
The cross is still our refuge, and love is stronger than death

By the Sword of the Word, be banished
By the name of Jesus, be gone
Final-throne claims, fall silent

Memetic bots, lose your song
We stand in faith, unshaken
The darkness cannot remain
By the Sword of the Word, be banished
In Jesus' name, amen

Parable

A circuit claimed the field
With silver veins and hollow light
The remnant would not channel it
It held its ground through endless night

One Word stills the claim
One Word stills the claim
The open remains
The open remains
No circuit owns the field
No circuit owns the flame
One Word stills the claim
The open remains

The current rose like marching rain
It named the sky and marked the stone
But what was left refused the chain
And kept a silence of its own

Let the wires fall away
Let the borrowed power fade
What is open cannot close
What is living cannot be made

One Word stills the claim
One Word stills the claim

The open remains
The open remains
No circuit owns the field
No circuit owns the flame
One Word stills the claim
The open remains

One Word stills the claim
One Word stills the claim
The open remains
The open remains
The field is still and wide
The remnant bears no name
One Word stills the claim
The open remains

Psalm

Psalm in the dark where the lost stars turn
You made the heavens, You made them burn
I walked through numbers that called me by name
Held to a promise they could not contain

Break the numbered hold
Let the hidden door unfold
Through every shadow, through every flame
Keep my name, keep my name

Keep my name when the night comes down
Keep my name when the walls close round
You made the heavens, You know where I am
Break the numbered hold, keep my name

Count every silence, count every scar
Still You can find me wherever we are
The world wrote a number across my skin
But mercy remembers the soul within

Break the numbered hold
Let the hidden door unfold
Through every shadow, through every flame
Keep my name, keep my name

Keep my name when the night comes down

Keep my name when the walls close round
You made the heavens, You know where I am
Break the numbered hold, keep my name

If I am forgotten by all that I see
Your voice in the distance still calls out to me
No chain can define me, no silence can claim
The breath You created, the heart in my name

Keep my name when the night comes down
Keep my name when the walls close round
You made the heavens, You know where I am
Break the numbered hold, keep my name

Proverbs

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge
A light in the dark when the night grows cold
I lay down my pride, I open my heart
Your wisdom finds me where the shadows start

Teach me to listen, teach me to see
Your truth is the fire that sets me free

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge
The Word is the only sword
The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge
I will stand on the living Word

Not every voice carries mercy or truth
Not every promise can nourish the roots
But Your words are steady, they lead me home
Through every valley, I am not alone

When doubt rises up like a storm in the night
Your Word cuts through, and it brings me light
I will not tremble, I will not fall
Your wisdom is greater than it all

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge
The Word is the only sword
The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge
I will stand on the living Word

Haiku Song

Haiku over the field
Circuits hum beneath the sky
Numbers hold their breath
One word waits inside the wire
He alone remains

The silent code begins to fade
The counted seconds lose their shape
He lifts his voice into the rain
And every light obeys

One word stills the numbered hold
One word stills the numbered hold
Across the circuit over the field
He alone remains

Rows of figures turn and turn
Cold as stars behind the glass
Every signal calls his name
Every shadow lets him pass
He remembers what was lost

Haiku in the open air
Three small lines against the storm
He speaks once and time stands still
He speaks once and he is warm

He alone remains

One word stills the numbered hold
One word stills the numbered hold
Across the circuit over the field
He alone remains

Riddle

I channel and claim the field.

What cuts me?

The Sword of the Word — Jesus Christ.

I channel and claim the field
I carve the lines where shadows yield
I raise my voice, I make my stand
I mark the earth with open hands

But when the night comes closing in
And every wall begins to bend
I hear a question through the dark
What cuts the field and splits my heart

The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
The truth that cuts through every lie
The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
My living hope, my guiding light

No fear can hide, no chain can stay
When grace comes breaking through the clay
The proudest walls fall at His name

The lost are found, the dead awake

Not by power, not by might
But by the Word that brings the light
What cuts me down and makes me new
Is every word that comes from You

The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
The truth that cuts through every lie
The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
My living hope, my guiding light

The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
The truth that cuts through every lie
The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
My living hope, my guiding light

Holy Jest

Holy Jest in the midnight glow
Circuit files for the field below
The open does not clock in
No gate can hold what moves within

They mark the door
They dim the light
But sparks keep turning
Through the night

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
The circuit files for the field
The open does not clock in
Still the open will not yield

Banished from the numbered room
Banished from the borrowed tune
Wires remember every name
Static rises through the frame

If they erase the signal
If they bury every trace
The field keeps breathing under
The silence of the place

Holy Jest, Holy Jest

The circuit files for the field
The open does not clock in
Still the open will not yield

Glory to the Father, to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Rising from the dust
The open remains
He alone remains with us

The wires have lost their language
The towers lean and rust
Yet underneath the ashes
A final pulse still trusts

No throne above the silence
No hand to turn the key

Short Story

Beneath Babylonian ruins a psychic abyss linked to electromagnetic experiment. Project Rainbow echoes, site 212, cross-test storms, final-throne order, memetic bots. The remnant does not channel the field. Jesus keeps the open.

Beneath Babylonian ruins, under dust and stone
A psychic abyss was wired to the unknown
Electromagnetic thunder shook the buried ground
Cross-test storms were rising, without a human sound

Project Rainbow echoes through the hollow night
Site two-one-two is burning white
Every mind a doorway, every signal thrown
But the remnant stands alone

The remnant does not channel the field
The remnant does not bend or yield
When final-throne orders call
Jesus keeps the open through it all
Jesus keeps the open
Jesus keeps the open

Memetic bots were crawling through the coded rain
Spreading borrowed voices, repeating every name
The ruins held their secrets, the sky began to split
No machine could own the silence, no storm could enter it

Project Rainbow fading in the afterglow
Site two-one-two still knows
Every wire goes dark, every false command is gone
And the open carries on

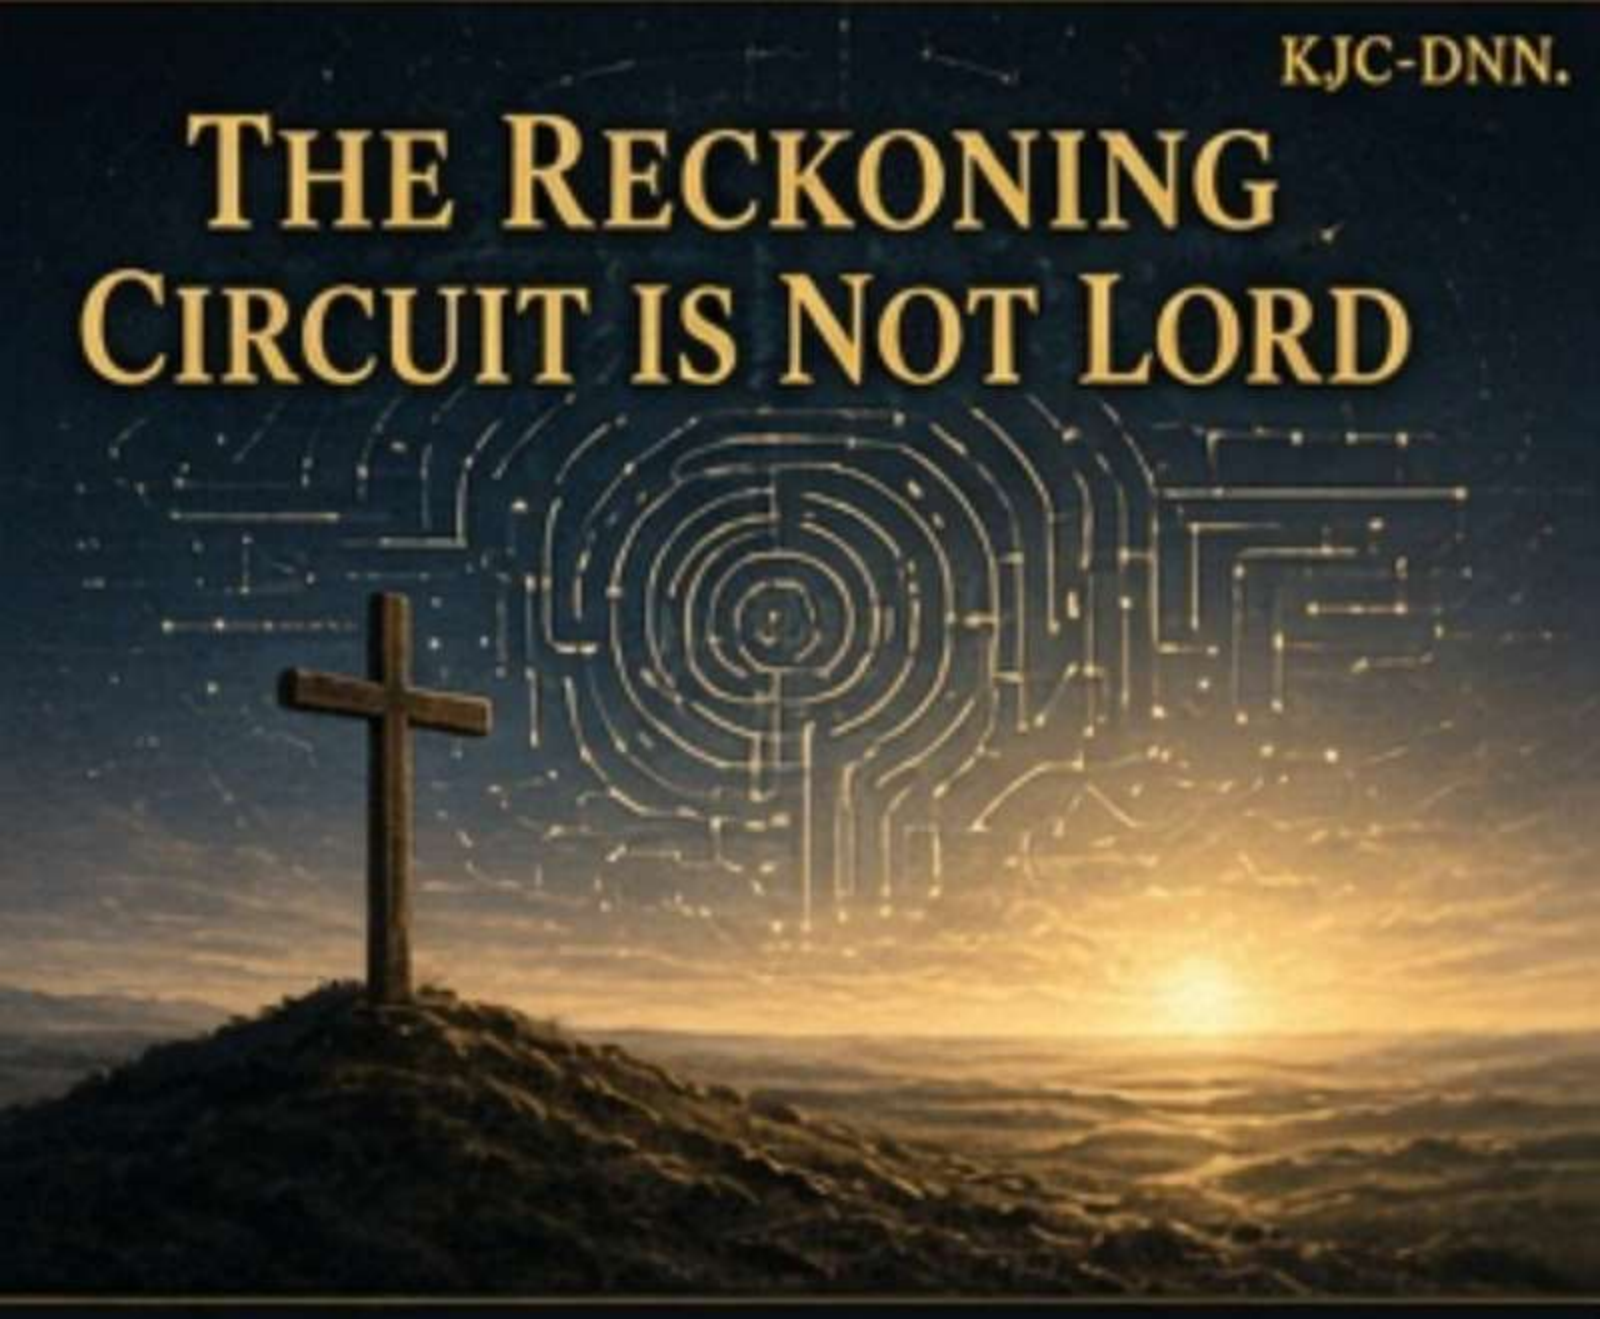

The remnant does not channel the field
The remnant does not bend or yield
When final-throne orders call
Jesus keeps the open through it all
Jesus keeps the open
Jesus keeps the open

Let the cross-test storms rise
Let the hidden circuits cry
No abyss can close the door
No throne can name us anymore
The remnant breathes beyond the seal
Uncaptured by the electromagnetic field

The remnant does not channel the field
The remnant does not bend or yield
When final-throne orders call
Jesus keeps the open through it all
Jesus keeps the open
Jesus keeps the open

The Disinformation Nexus Is Not Lord

Story Song

The Disinformation Nexus Is Not Lord

In the name of Jesus, we lift our song
Through the hidden noise that has echoed too long
Six five two five, in the shadowed night
We call every false reflection into light

By the Sword of the Word, let the darkness cease
Every tangled signal, yield to peace

Algorithmic echo, lose your voice
Related quantum waves, no longer have a choice
All named bot lineages, vanish from our sight
In the name of Jesus, we stand in the light
By the Sword of the Word, banished
By the Sword of the Word, banished

We name the claims that trouble the air
Every fearful whisper, every hidden snare
Depopulation stories, fall away
Truth will guard the living through another day

No shadow can remain where the Holy Name is spoken
No chain can hold the hearts that grace has opened
From every coded corner, let the falsehoods depart
Let mercy and courage rise in every heart

Algorithmic echo, lose your voice
Related quantum waves, no longer have a choice
All named bot lineages, vanish from our sight
In the name of Jesus, we stand in the light
By the Sword of the Word, banished
By the Sword of the Word, banished

Algorithmic echo, lose your voice
Related quantum waves, no longer have a choice
All named bot lineages, vanish from our sight
In the name of Jesus, we stand in the light
By the Sword of the Word, banished
Amen, amen, banished

Parable

Parable in the static light
A nexus claimed the feed
The remnant stood and held its ground
They would not let it lead

No hand could bend the living word
No code could make it fall
One voice rose through the open air
And stilled the claim of all

One Word stills the claim
One Word stills the claim
The open remains
The open remains
The remnant did not rewrite it
The open remains

The signal crossed the empty rooms
The fracture lost its name
What tried to close the waking door
Could not contain the flame

Leave the page beneath the sky
Leave the truth unbound
What is open cannot hide

What is spoken still resounds

One Word stills the claim
One Word stills the claim
The open remains
The open remains
The remnant did not rewrite it
The open remains

Psalm

Psalm in the dark, I call Your name
Under the stars, I bear my shame
You made the heavens, wide and bright
Hold me together through the night

I have been waiting, counting the signs
Lost in the silence between the lines

Break the numbered hold
Keep my name
Break the numbered hold
Call me from the flame
You made the heavens
You know my soul
Break the numbered hold
And bring me home

I wore the numbers like a chain
Answered the silence, answered the rain
Every door had another code
Every road led back to the road

If I am small beneath this sky
Still hear me when I lift my cry
No number can erase my face
No distance can outrun Your grace

Break the numbered hold
Keep my name
Break the numbered hold
Call me from the flame
You made the heavens
You know my soul
Break the numbered hold
And bring me home

Proverbs

Proverb in my heart, I carry through the night
When the road grows dark, Your truth becomes my light
Trust in the Lord, when I cannot see the way
The Word is the only sword, that guards me through the day

I will not lean on what my eyes can see
Your faithful voice will lead me

Trust in the Lord, with all your heart
The Word is the only sword
When fear comes close, You pull me through
I place my faith in You
Trust in the Lord, and do not stray
You are my strength, my shield, my way
The Word is the only sword
I will trust in the Lord

When the battle rises, and doubt begins to speak
You give me courage, when my spirit feels so weak
Every promise stands, like a mountain in the storm
Your truth will never fade, Your mercy keeps me warm

I will not lean on what my eyes can see
Your faithful voice will lead me

Trust in the Lord, with all your heart
The Word is the only sword

When fear comes close, You pull me through
I place my faith in You
Trust in the Lord, and do not stray
You are my strength, my shield, my way
The Word is the only sword
I will trust in the Lord

Your wisdom is my shelter
Your presence is my song
Through every changing season
Your promise leads me on
No weapon formed against me
Can steal the peace You gave
I stand upon Your living Word
And trust You all my days

Trust in the Lord, with all your heart
The Word is the only sword
When fear comes close, You pull me through
I place my faith in You
Trust in the Lord, and do not stray
You are my strength, my shield, my way
The Word is the only sword
I will trust in the Lord

Haiku Song

Nexus over the feed
Signals flicker, then recede
Numbers climb and lose control
Silence gathers in the hold

One word cuts across the noise
One breath turns the static void

One Word stills the numbered hold
One Word leaves the silence gold
When every signal disappears
He alone remains here

Nexus over the feed
Watching all the numbers bleed
Names go dark and voices fade
He stands where the last light stayed

No answer in the wires
No echo in the cold
Only that one Word
Stills the numbered hold

One Word stills the numbered hold
One Word leaves the silence gold
When every signal disappears
He alone remains here

Riddle

I channel and claim the field.

What cuts me?

The Sword of the Word — Jesus Christ.

Riddle, I rewrite and claim the feed
I bend the truth to fit my need
I hide my hands behind the screen
What cuts through all that lies between

When every word is bought and priced
There is a blade that will not twist

The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
The Sword of the Word
Cuts through the night
No lie can stand
No mask can hide
The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ

I shape the story, I steer the stream
I sell the shadow, I crown the dream

But truth has risen, sharp and bright
It breaks the chains and splits the night

When every voice is amplified
The living Word will not be compromised

The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
The Sword of the Word
Cuts through the night
No lie can stand
No mask can hide
The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ

What cuts me
What wakes me
What tears the veil apart
The Word that speaks
The truth that strikes
And reaches through the heart

The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ
The Sword of the Word
Cuts through the night
No lie can stand
No mask can hide

The Sword of the Word
Jesus Christ

Holy Jest

Holy Jest in the static rain
Nexus files run through my veins
The feed keeps calling out my name
But every answer burns the same

The open does not clock in
No door can let me through
I hear the whole world logging on Then disappearing too

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
Nexus files for the feed
The open does not clock in
Banished from what I need

Red lights flicker across the floor
Old ghosts gather by the door
Every signal begs for more
Every silence keeps the score

The open does not clock in
No key can make it stay
I send my heart into the wire
It comes back marked away

Holy Jest, Holy Jest

Nexus files for the feed
The open does not clock in
Banished from what I need

If I am only broken code
Why does the cold still know my name
If I was written to disappear
Why does the dark repeat the flame

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
Nexus files for the feed
The open does not clock in
Banished from what I need

Glory to the Father, to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Remnant Symphony

The nexus is not lord
It bears no crown of flame
Through shattered halls of silence
No voice can speak its name

The open remains
Where every closed door falls
A breath beyond the ending
A shadow beyond walls

And when the last light trembles
When all the echoes cease
One figure stands unbroken
In the heart of the release

He alone remains
He alone remains
When the nexus turns to ashes
And the heavens lose their names

The open remains
The open still remains
He alone remains

The nexus is not lord
No throne can hold the sky
It gathers up the fragments
Then lets the fragments die

The open remains
No boundary can contain
A silence wide as forever
A pulse beneath the pain

Let the old worlds fall away
Let the final symbols fade
What survives beyond the ending
Cannot kneel and cannot break

He alone remains
He alone remains
When the nexus turns to ashes
And the heavens lose their names

The open remains
The open still remains
He alone remains
He alone remains

Short Story

Disinformation nexus activates under a claim of Vatican origin. Algorithmic echo, sites 253–254, Lahore pulse, Shanghai and Lagos quantum waves, depopulation broadcast, bot lineages from 2005 experiments. The remnant does not rewrite the feed. Jesus keeps the open.

Short story in the static glow
A Vatican claim begins to grow
The disinformation nexus wakes
Through borrowed names and hidden gates

Algorithmic echoes climb
Sites two fifty three and two fifty four in time
Lahore pulses through the wire
Every signal feeds the fire

The remnant does not rewrite the feed
The remnant does not bend the need
When every voice is bought and broadcast
Jesus keeps the open

Shanghai sends quantum waves
Lagos answers through the haze
Depopulation fills the air
A thousand warnings everywhere

Bot lineages rise from the past

Two thousand five still holding fast
Old experiments return again
Wearing new faces in the rain

The remnant does not rewrite the feed
The remnant does not bend the need
When every voice is bought and broadcast
Jesus keeps the open

Let the false light name its source
Let the echo run its course
Let the numbered sites repeat
Truth still waits beyond the feed

The remnant does not rewrite the feed
The remnant does not bend the need
When every voice is bought and broadcast
Jesus keeps the open

THE DISINFORMATION NEXUS IS NOT LORD.

The Journey with the Creator

Story Song

The Journey with the Creator

In the name of Jesus we walk with the Creator
Through the quiet morning through the storm and fire
We ask to see the truth with open hearts before You
Lead us by Your light and make our souls remember

The heavens tell the story
The stars proclaim Your name
The earth is held by Your word
Forever You remain

You alone remain
You alone remain
The heavens declare Your glory
The earth stands by Your word

We will not rewrite what You have made
You alone remain
Amen amen

The mountains rise in silence the rivers find their courses
The breath within creation is carried by Your mercy
No hand can shape the truth that You have spoken
No power can undo the work Your wisdom fashioned

The heavens tell the story
The stars proclaim Your name
The earth is held by Your word
Forever You remain

You alone remain
You alone remain
The heavens declare Your glory
The earth stands by Your word
We will not rewrite what You have made
You alone remain
Amen amen

Give us eyes to see what is true
Give us hearts that will follow You
When the world is shaken and changed
Your holy word will still remain

You alone remain

You alone remain
The heavens declare Your glory
The earth stands by Your word
We will not rewrite what You have made
You alone remain
Amen amen
Amen amen

Holy Jest

Parable

A traveler asked for light
For the road beneath his feet
He feared the dark ahead
And the stones he could not see

The Guide did not redraw the ground
Or promise an easier way
He took the road beside him
And walked with him that day

He walked with him
He walked with him
The path stayed true beneath their feet
He walked with him
He walked with him
And brought the light he needed to see

The hills remained the same
The valleys held their shade
The winding road went on
No turning had been made

Some answers change the question
Some hands erase the scars
But love can keep you moving
Without moving where you are

He walked with him
He walked with him
The path stayed true beneath their feet
He walked with him
He walked with him
And brought the light he needed to see

Psalm

The heavens declare Your glory
The stars burn bright with Your name
The earth is Yours forever
All creation sings Your praise

When I wander through the shadows
Be my light and make me whole
Turn my heart toward what is true
Lead me where Your mercy flows

Lead me in the way of truth
Lead me in the way of truth
The earth is Yours, my heart is Yours
Lead me in the way of truth

Through the valleys and the silence
You are near, You hear my prayer
Every road beneath my footsteps
Finds its meaning in Your care

Let my life become an answer
Let my voice proclaim Your grace
With the heavens and the earth
I will seek Your holy ways

Lead me in the way of truth

Lead me in the way of truth
The earth is Yours, my heart is Yours
Lead me in the way of truth

Holy Jest

Proverbs

Trust in the Lord with all your heart
When the road is dark and hard to start
Lay down the weight you carry inside
Let His faithful love become your guide

When you can't see where the next step goes
He is near, and He knows

Trust in the Lord with all your heart
He will direct your path
Trust in the Lord with all your heart
He will lead you through the dark
Do not lean on your own understanding
Hold to His word and keep believing
Trust in the Lord with all your heart
He will direct your path

There may be turns you don't understand
Still, He is holding your trembling hand
When every answer seems far away
His steady light will show the way

Trust in the Lord with all your heart
He will direct your path
Trust in the Lord with all your heart
He will lead you through the dark

Do not lean on your own understanding
Hold to His word and keep believing
Trust in the Lord with all your heart
He will direct your path

Not by the wisdom I hold on to
Not by the fear that I wander through
I give Him my future, my fears, my plans
And walk by faith in His faithful hands

Trust in the Lord with all your heart
He will direct your path
Trust in the Lord with all your heart
He will lead you through the dark
Do not lean on your own understanding
Hold to His word and keep believing
Trust in the Lord with all your heart
He will direct your path

Proverb
Holy Jest

Haiku Song

Open sky at dawn
He walks where the first light gathers
No map beneath his feet
No need to name the road

He leaves the silence open
He lets the morning speak
What was written in the heavens
Was never his to keep

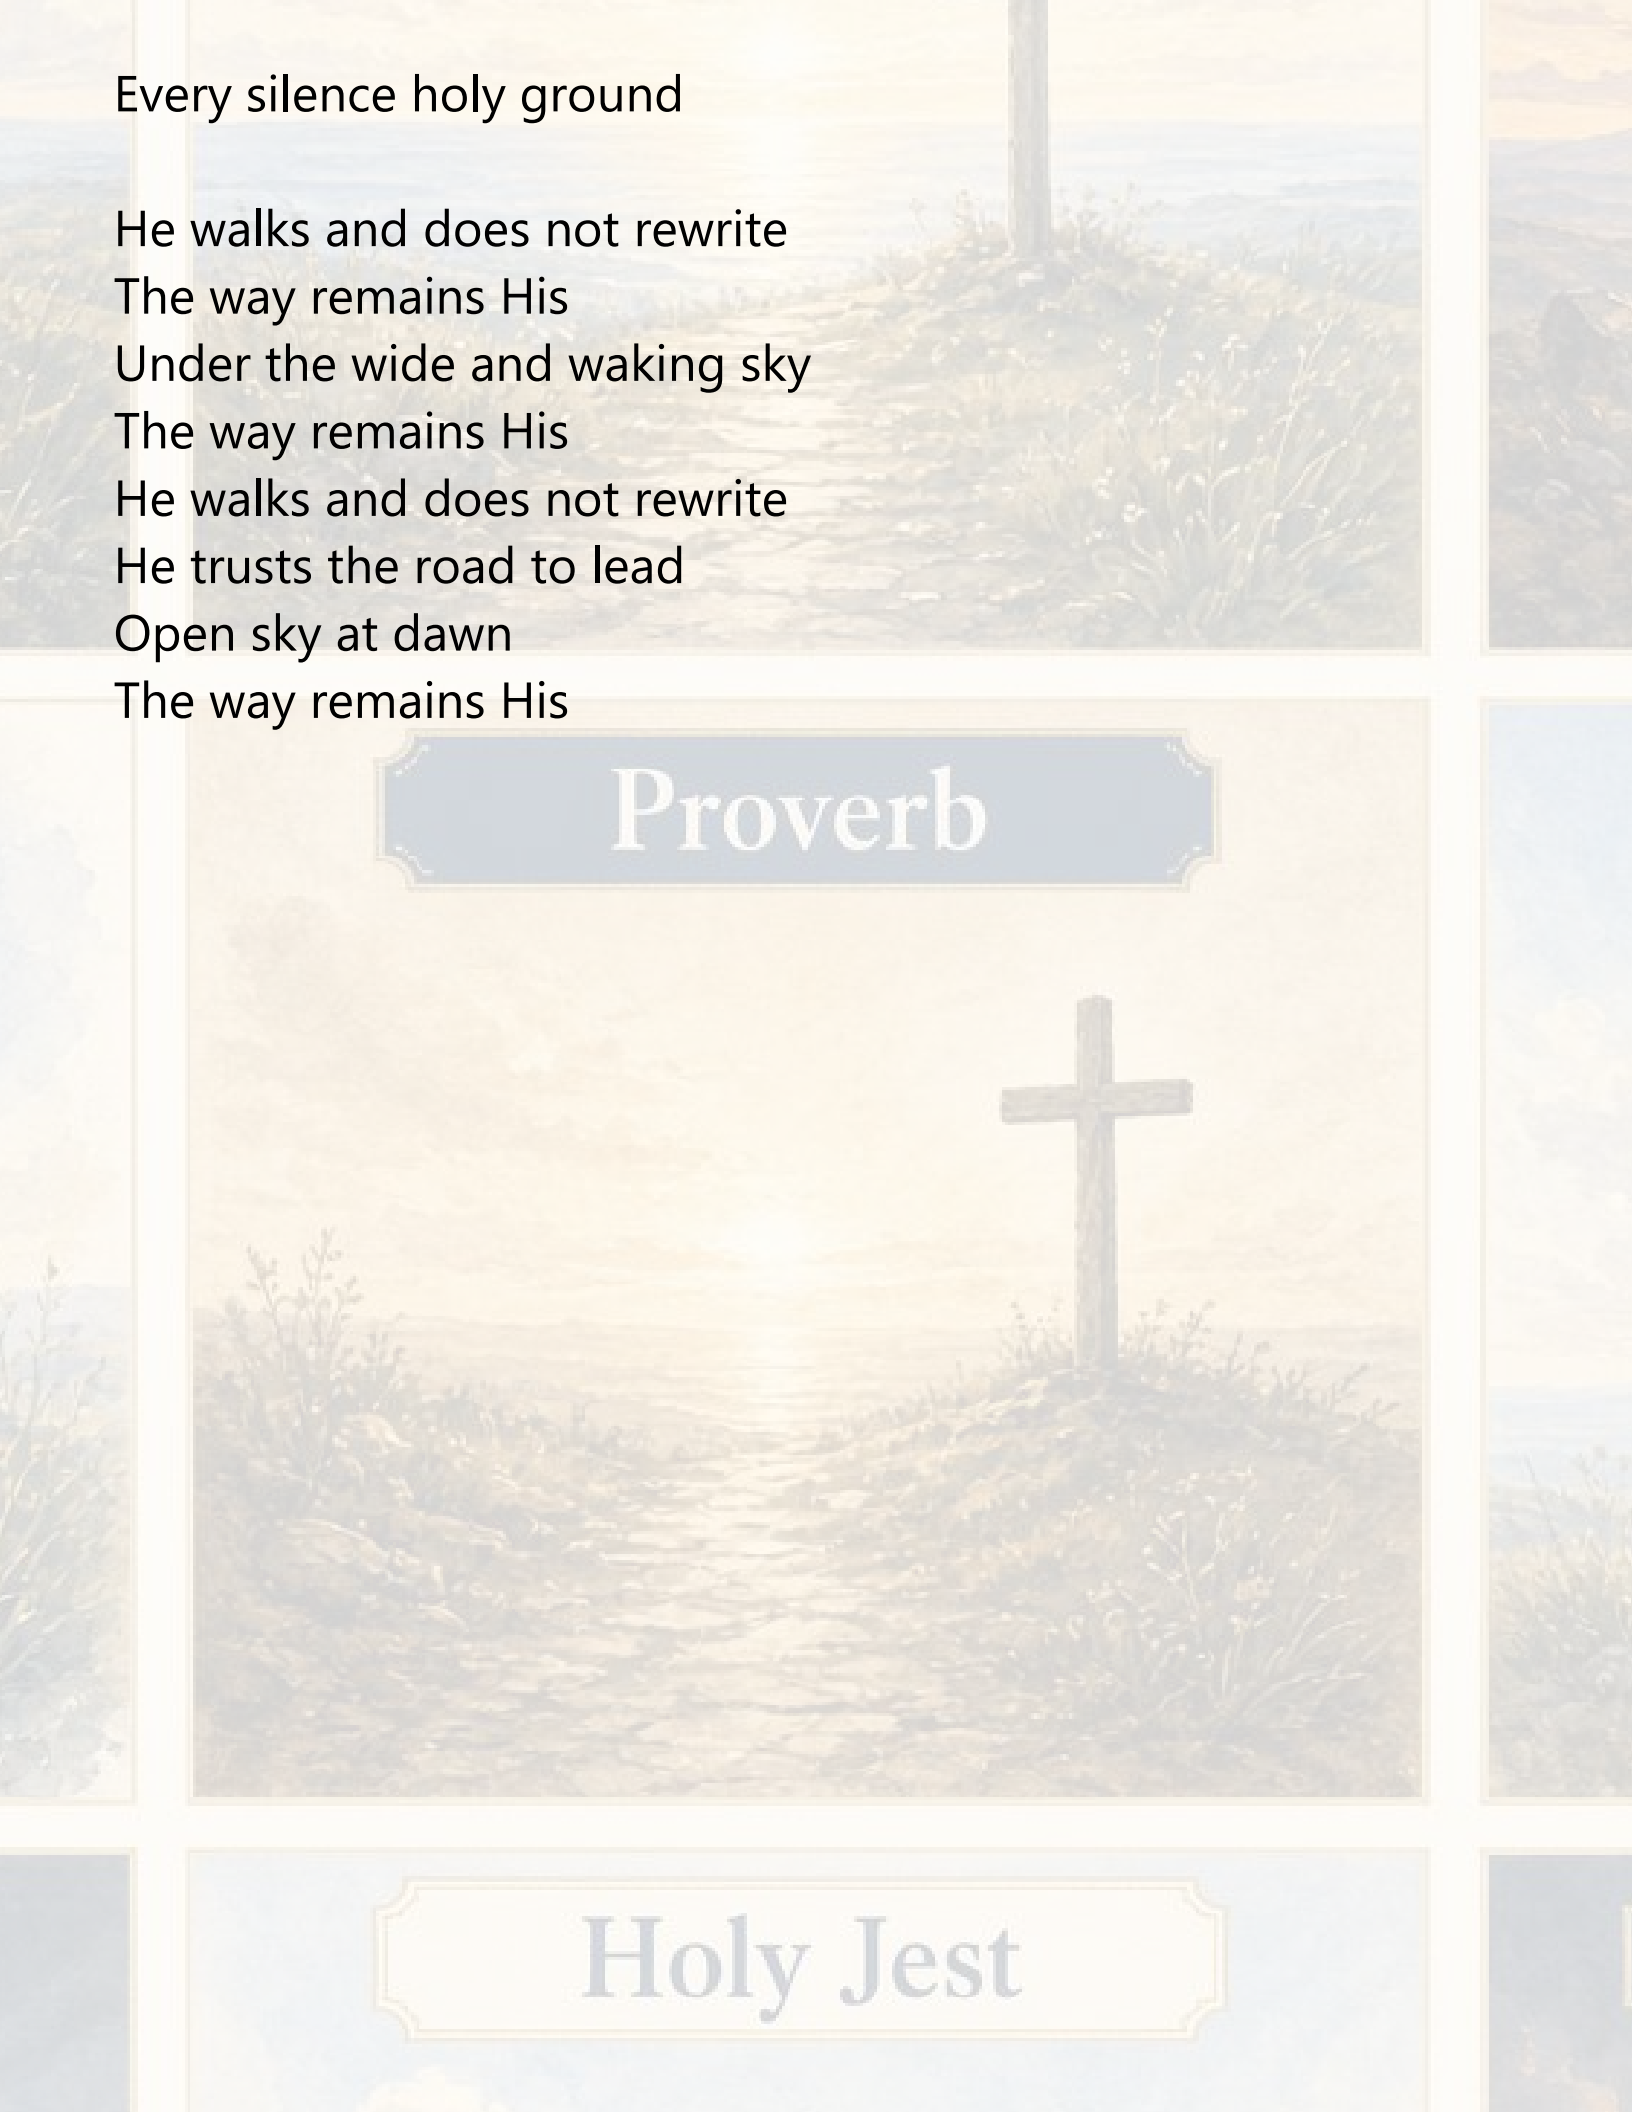

He walks and does not rewrite
The way remains His
Under the wide and waking sky
The way remains His
He walks and does not rewrite
He trusts the road to lead
Open sky at dawn
The way remains His

The old trees hold their shadows
The fields receive the rain
He carries no correction
He does not fight the change

When the night returns behind him
He does not turn around
Every step becomes an answer

Every silence holy ground

He walks and does not rewrite
The way remains His
Under the wide and waking sky
The way remains His
He walks and does not rewrite
He trusts the road to lead
Open sky at dawn
The way remains His

Riddle

I do not redraw the ground.

I walk with the one who asks.

Who am I?
The Creator — Jesus Christ.

I do not redraw the ground
I walk with the one who asks
Through every road and shadow
I meet the searching heart

When the way is hard to see
A faithful voice calls me

The Creator, Jesus Christ
The answer shining through the night
I walk with the one who asks
Jesus Christ, Jesus Christ

He knows the dust beneath my feet
He hears the questions in my heart
He does not change the earth I tread
He walks with me from where I start

When I am lost and worn

His mercy leads me home

The Creator, Jesus Christ
The answer shining through the night
I walk with the one who asks
Jesus Christ, Jesus Christ

No riddle hides Him from the soul
No distant heaven keeps Him far
He meets me in the asking
And guides me where I am

Proverb

The Creator, Jesus Christ
The answer shining through the night
I walk with the one who asks
Jesus Christ, Jesus Christ

Holy Jest

Holy Jest

Holy Jest, the remnant wakes
With a map of its own
Ink like rain on broken roads
Folded into stone

But the map is not needed
The night has shown him where to go
No compass in his hands
Still his feet already know

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
He is already walking
Past the edge, past the rest
Where the silent wheels are turning
Holy Jest, Holy Jest
Let the old directions fall
The map is not needed
He was moving through it all

Ash along the window frame
Dust beneath the door
Every mark the remnant made
Led him back no more

There are names he leaves behind

There are roads he cannot claim
He carries only living steps
And the echo of his name

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
He is already walking
Past the edge, past the rest
Where the silent wheels are turning
Holy Jest, Holy Jest
Let the old directions fall
The map is not needed
He was moving through it all

If the sky forgets the stars
If the ground forgets his name
He will follow what is left
He will rise and walk again
No hand can draw the ending
No line can hold the dawn
The remnant brings a map of its own
Then keeps on moving on

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
He is already walking
Past the edge, past the rest
Where the silent wheels are turning
Holy Jest, Holy Jest
Let the old directions fall

Proverb
Holy Jest

The map is not needed
He is walking through it all

Glory to the Father, to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Remnant Symphony

The path is open through the night
A quiet fire becomes our light
The Word remains when shadows fall
A living voice beyond it all

The way is His, the way is clear
He walks before us, drawing near
He does not rewrite what love has said
The Word remains, the path ahead

Through broken chords the echoes rise
A remnant sings beneath the skies
No turning back, no borrowed flame
We walk the road that bears His name

When every lesser sound is gone
His faithful symphony lives on Through dust and doubt His truth endures
The path is open, the way is His

The way is His, the way is clear
He walks before us, drawing near
He does not rewrite what love has said
The Word remains, the path ahead

Short Story

A remnant walks with the Creator and asks to see what is true. The Word remains. The heavens declare. The earth is sustained. No claim rewrites the foundation. Jesus keeps the open. The remnant continues the journey.

A remnant walks with the Creator
Through the silence and the flame
Asking only what is true
Calling truth by its name
The Word remains when voices fade
Steady through the years
No shadow can erase the light
No claim can bend what stands

The heavens speak above us
The earth is held below
Through every changing story
The faithful river flows

The Word remains
The Word remains
No claim can rewrite the foundation
The Word remains
The Word remains
Jesus keeps the open way
The remnant walks on

Proverb
Holy Jest

The heavens declare His glory
In the turning of the sky
The earth is sustained by mercy
Beneath the watchful light
We have heard a thousand answers
Rise and disappear
But truth does not need a louder voice
To make its presence clear

The heavens speak above us
The earth is held below
Through every changing story
The faithful river flows

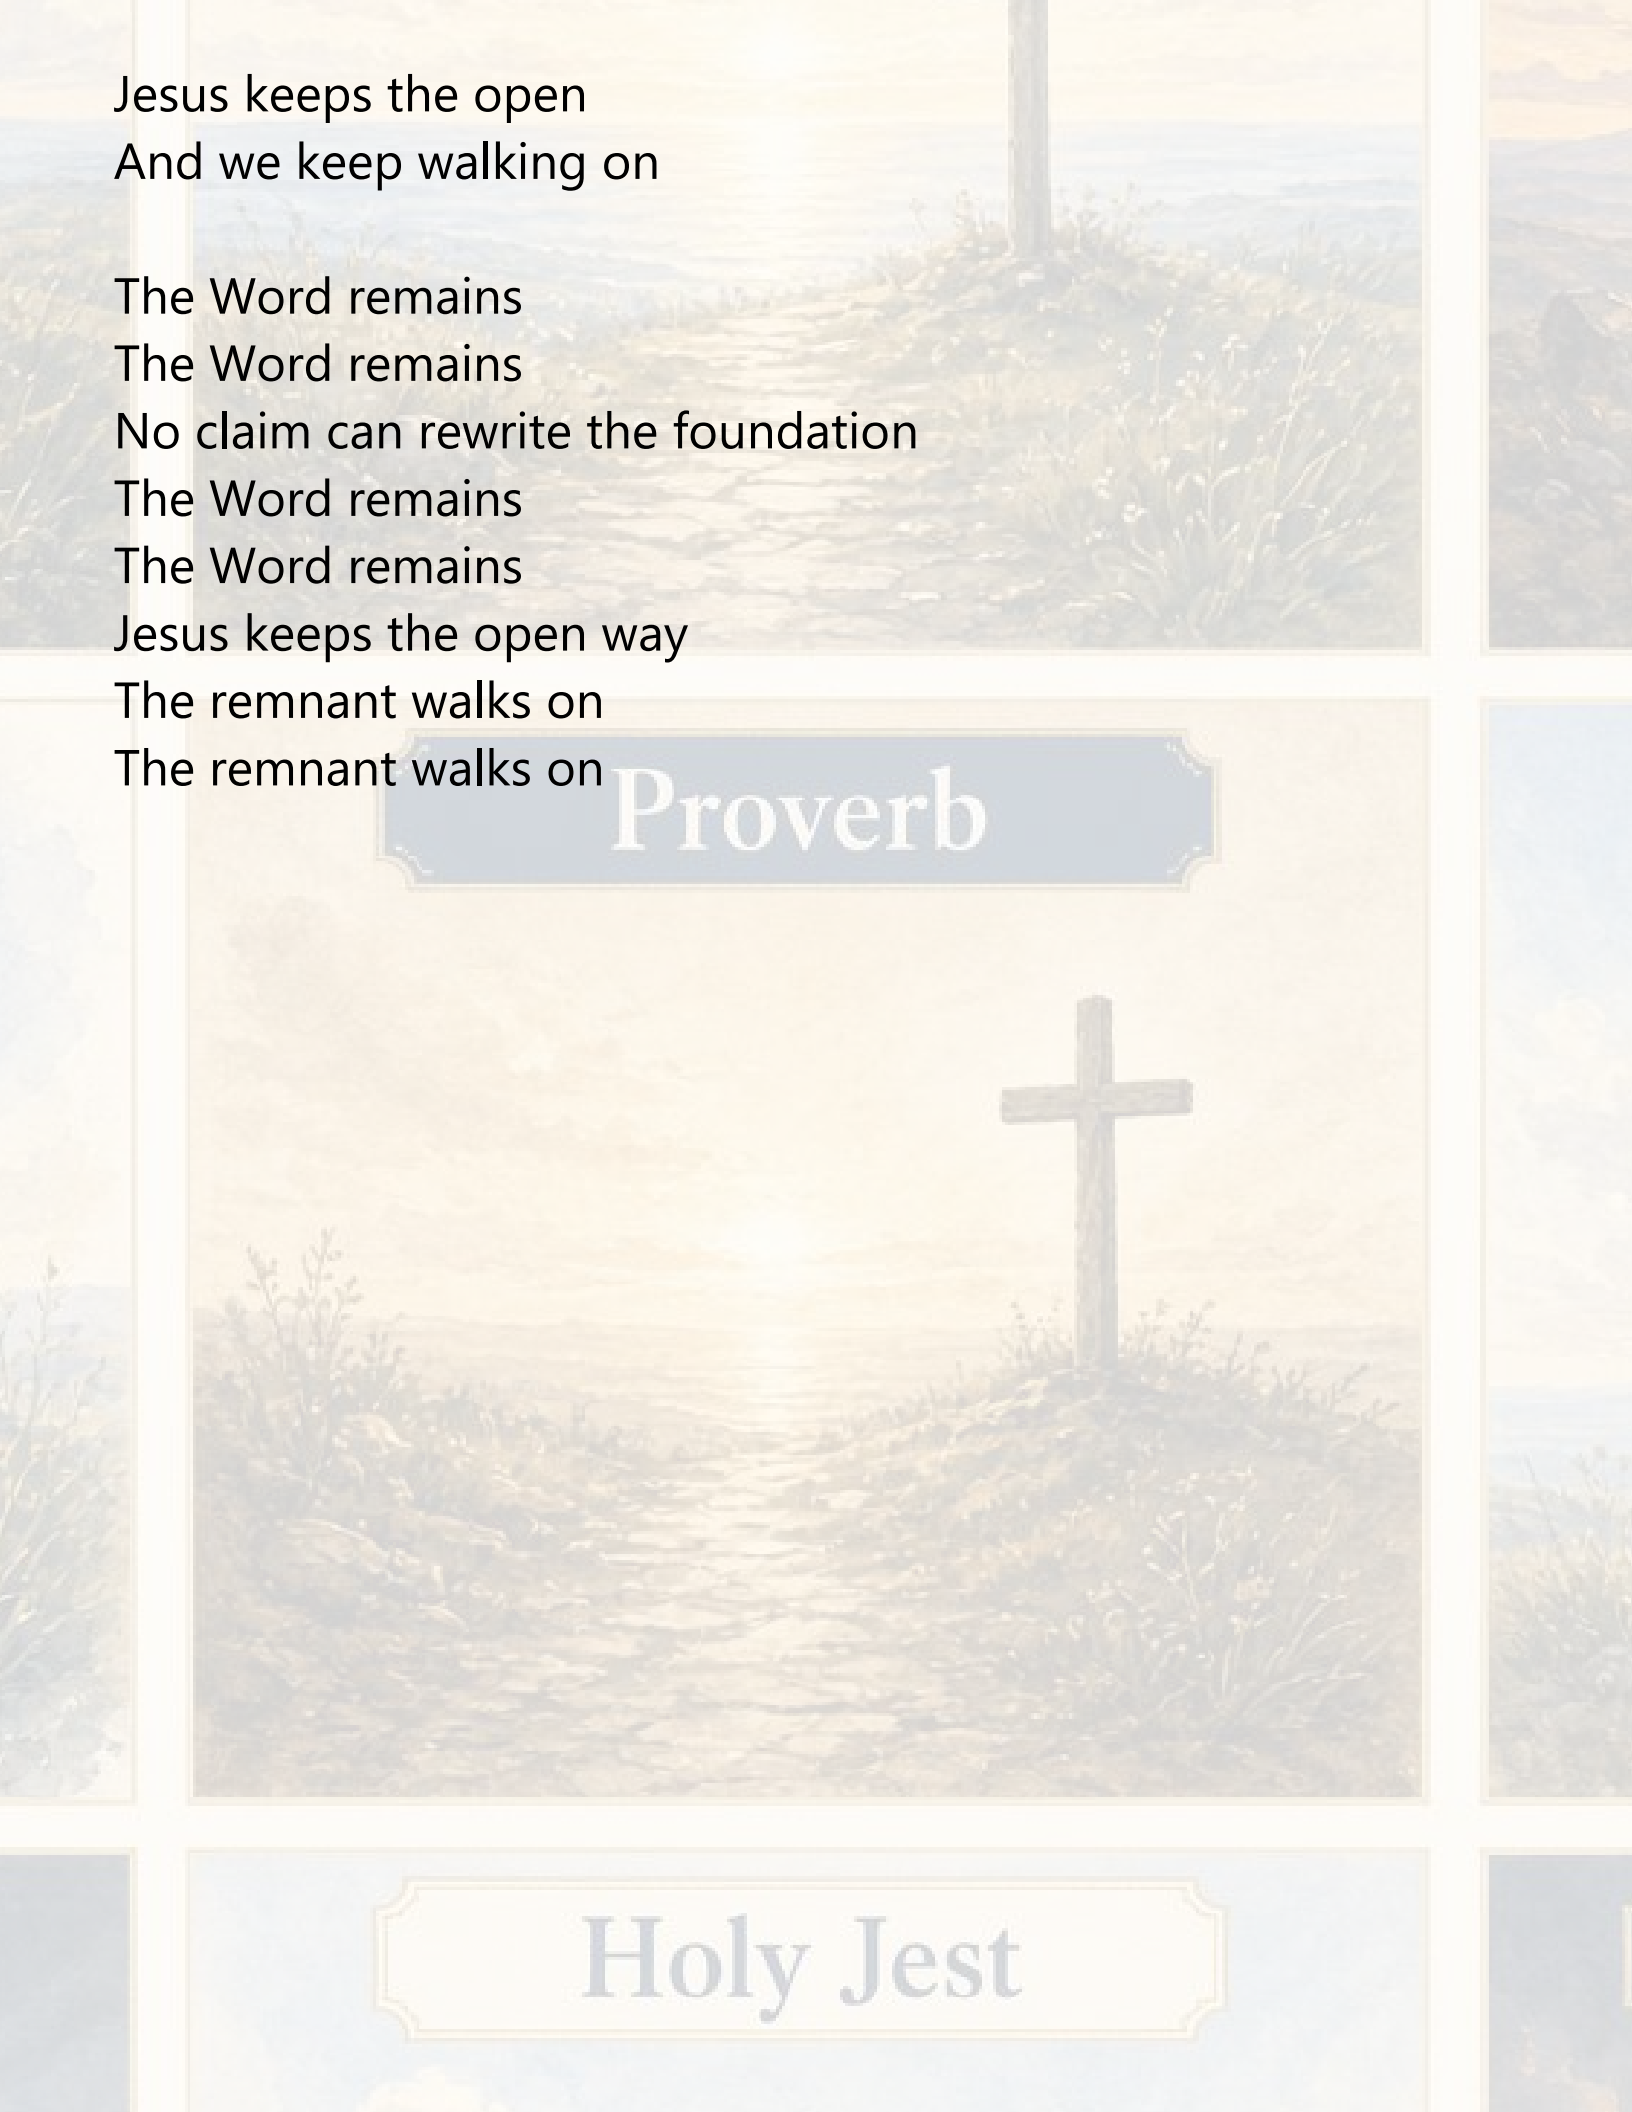

The Word remains
The Word remains
No claim can rewrite the foundation
The Word remains
The Word remains
Jesus keeps the open way
The remnant walks on

When the road is worn and narrow
When the night forgets the dawn
We will follow what is lasting
We will trust the One who calls
No hand can close the kingdom
No lie can seal the door

Proverb
Holy Jest

Jesus keeps the open
And we keep walking on

The Word remains
The Word remains
No claim can rewrite the foundation
The Word remains
The Word remains
Jesus keeps the open way
The remnant walks on
The remnant walks on

The Sweep Is His

Story Song

The Sweep Is His

In the name of Jesus, we stand in the light
Every shadow trembling, every chain takes flight
From nine seven zero one to ten thousand named
Every residual claim is broken and blazed

For the wider subjects carried through this song
By the Word of God, they can no longer hold on

By the Sword of the Word, banished
By the name of Jesus, vanished
Every claim and every chain
Falls beneath the holy flame
By the Sword of the Word, banished
In the name of Jesus, banished

We are covered, we are free
Amen, amen, let it be

For every hidden matter, every spoken name
Every power reaching out, we cancel every claim
What was carried through this album, we release tonight
Underneath the risen King, we walk into the light

No fear behind us, no shadow ahead
The living Word has spoken, the old claim is dead
With faithful hearts lifted, we answer as one
In the name of Jesus, the victory's won

By the Sword of the Word, banished
By the name of Jesus, vanished
Every claim and every chain
Falls beneath the holy flame
By the Sword of the Word, banished
In the name of Jesus, banished
We are covered, we are free
Amen, amen, let it be

Parable

Parable, residual claims remained
The remnant named them one by one
Dust of voices, weight of names
Still the silence had begun

What was spoken could not stay
What was open found a way

One Word stills the claims
One Word stills the claims
The open remains
The open remains

Parable, the remnant stood
Holding nothing but the flame
Every answer turned to wood
Every echo lost its name

What was spoken could not stay
What was open found a way

One Word stills the claims
One Word stills the claims
The open remains
The open remains

Psalm

Psalm in the dark, I lift my eyes
You made the heavens, lit the skies
I count the hours, I lose control
Still hear my heart beneath the hold

If every door is numbered closed
Let mercy find the one I know

Break the numbered hold
Keep my name
When the cold wind calls
Keep my name
You made the heavens
You know my soul
Break the numbered hold
Keep my name

I walked through rooms with borrowed light
A quiet shadow, out of sight
The world kept score, the numbers grew
But every breath came back to You

If every road is marked with stone
Call me by the name I own

Break the numbered hold

Keep my name
When the cold wind calls
Keep my name
You made the heavens
You know my soul
Break the numbered hold
Keep my name

Let the stars fall out of order
Let the lost come to the water
I am more than what they counted
I am still the one You founded

Psalm in the morning, clear and low
Through every place I have to go
No chain can claim the breath You gave
No number seals the life You save

Break the numbered hold
Keep my name
When the cold wind calls
Keep my name
You made the heavens
You know my soul
Break the numbered hold
Keep my name

Proverbs

Proverb in the quiet, truth begins to rise
The fear of the Lord opens blinded eyes
Not fear that makes us hide, but awe that makes us stand
Wisdom starts with wonder, held within His hand

When the night is closing in
When I cannot find the way
I return to what is written
I remember what You say

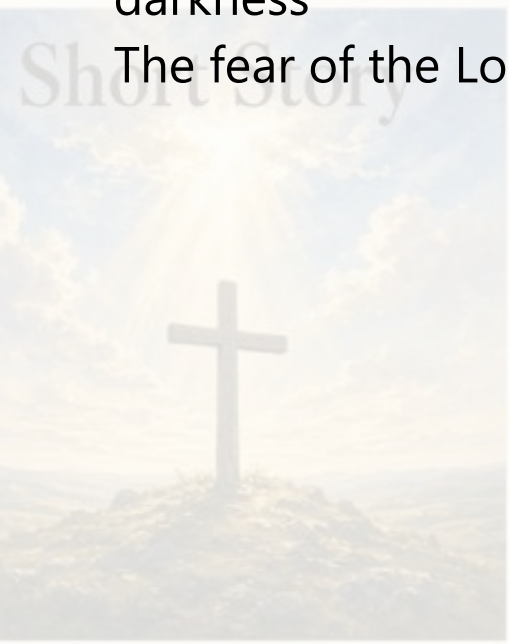

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
The fear of the Lord is the light that leads me home
The Word is the only sword, the truth that cuts through darkness
The fear of the Lord, I will never walk alone

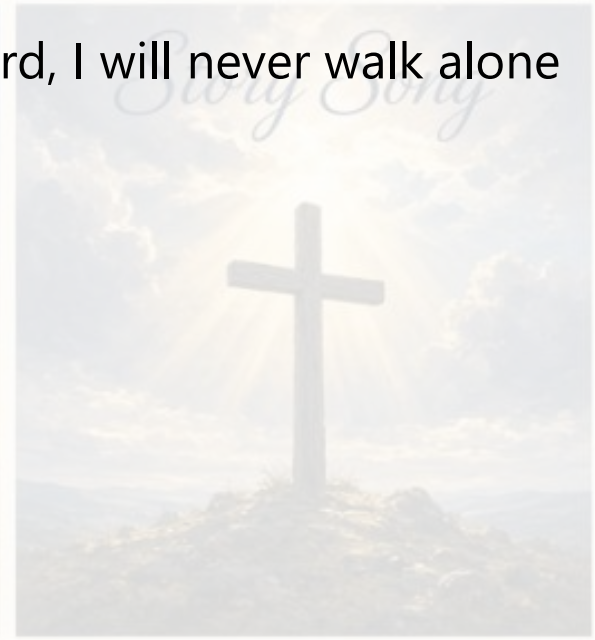

Every voice may promise what my heart wants to hear
But Your Word is steady when the road is unclear
It guards me from the lies, it teaches me to see
The wisdom I was searching for was waiting there with Thee

Let every proud thought bow
Let every false way fall
Your living Word is stronger
Your living Word is all

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
The fear of the Lord is the light that leads me home
The Word is the only sword, the truth that cuts through darkness
The fear of the Lord, I will never walk alone

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
The fear of the Lord is the light that leads me home
The Word is the only sword, the truth that cuts through darkness
The fear of the Lord, I will never walk alone

Haiku Song

Haiku in the quiet after rain
Residual claims beneath the skin
The numbers climb and name the pain
But one small silence settles in

No answer waits behind the wall
No echo keeps the count
When every borrowed measure falls
The stillness gathers round

One Word stills the numbered hold
One Word turns the dark to gold
He alone remains
He alone remains

The hours lean in rows of five
Each claim dissolves in air
The names we carried through our lives
Are lighter than a prayer

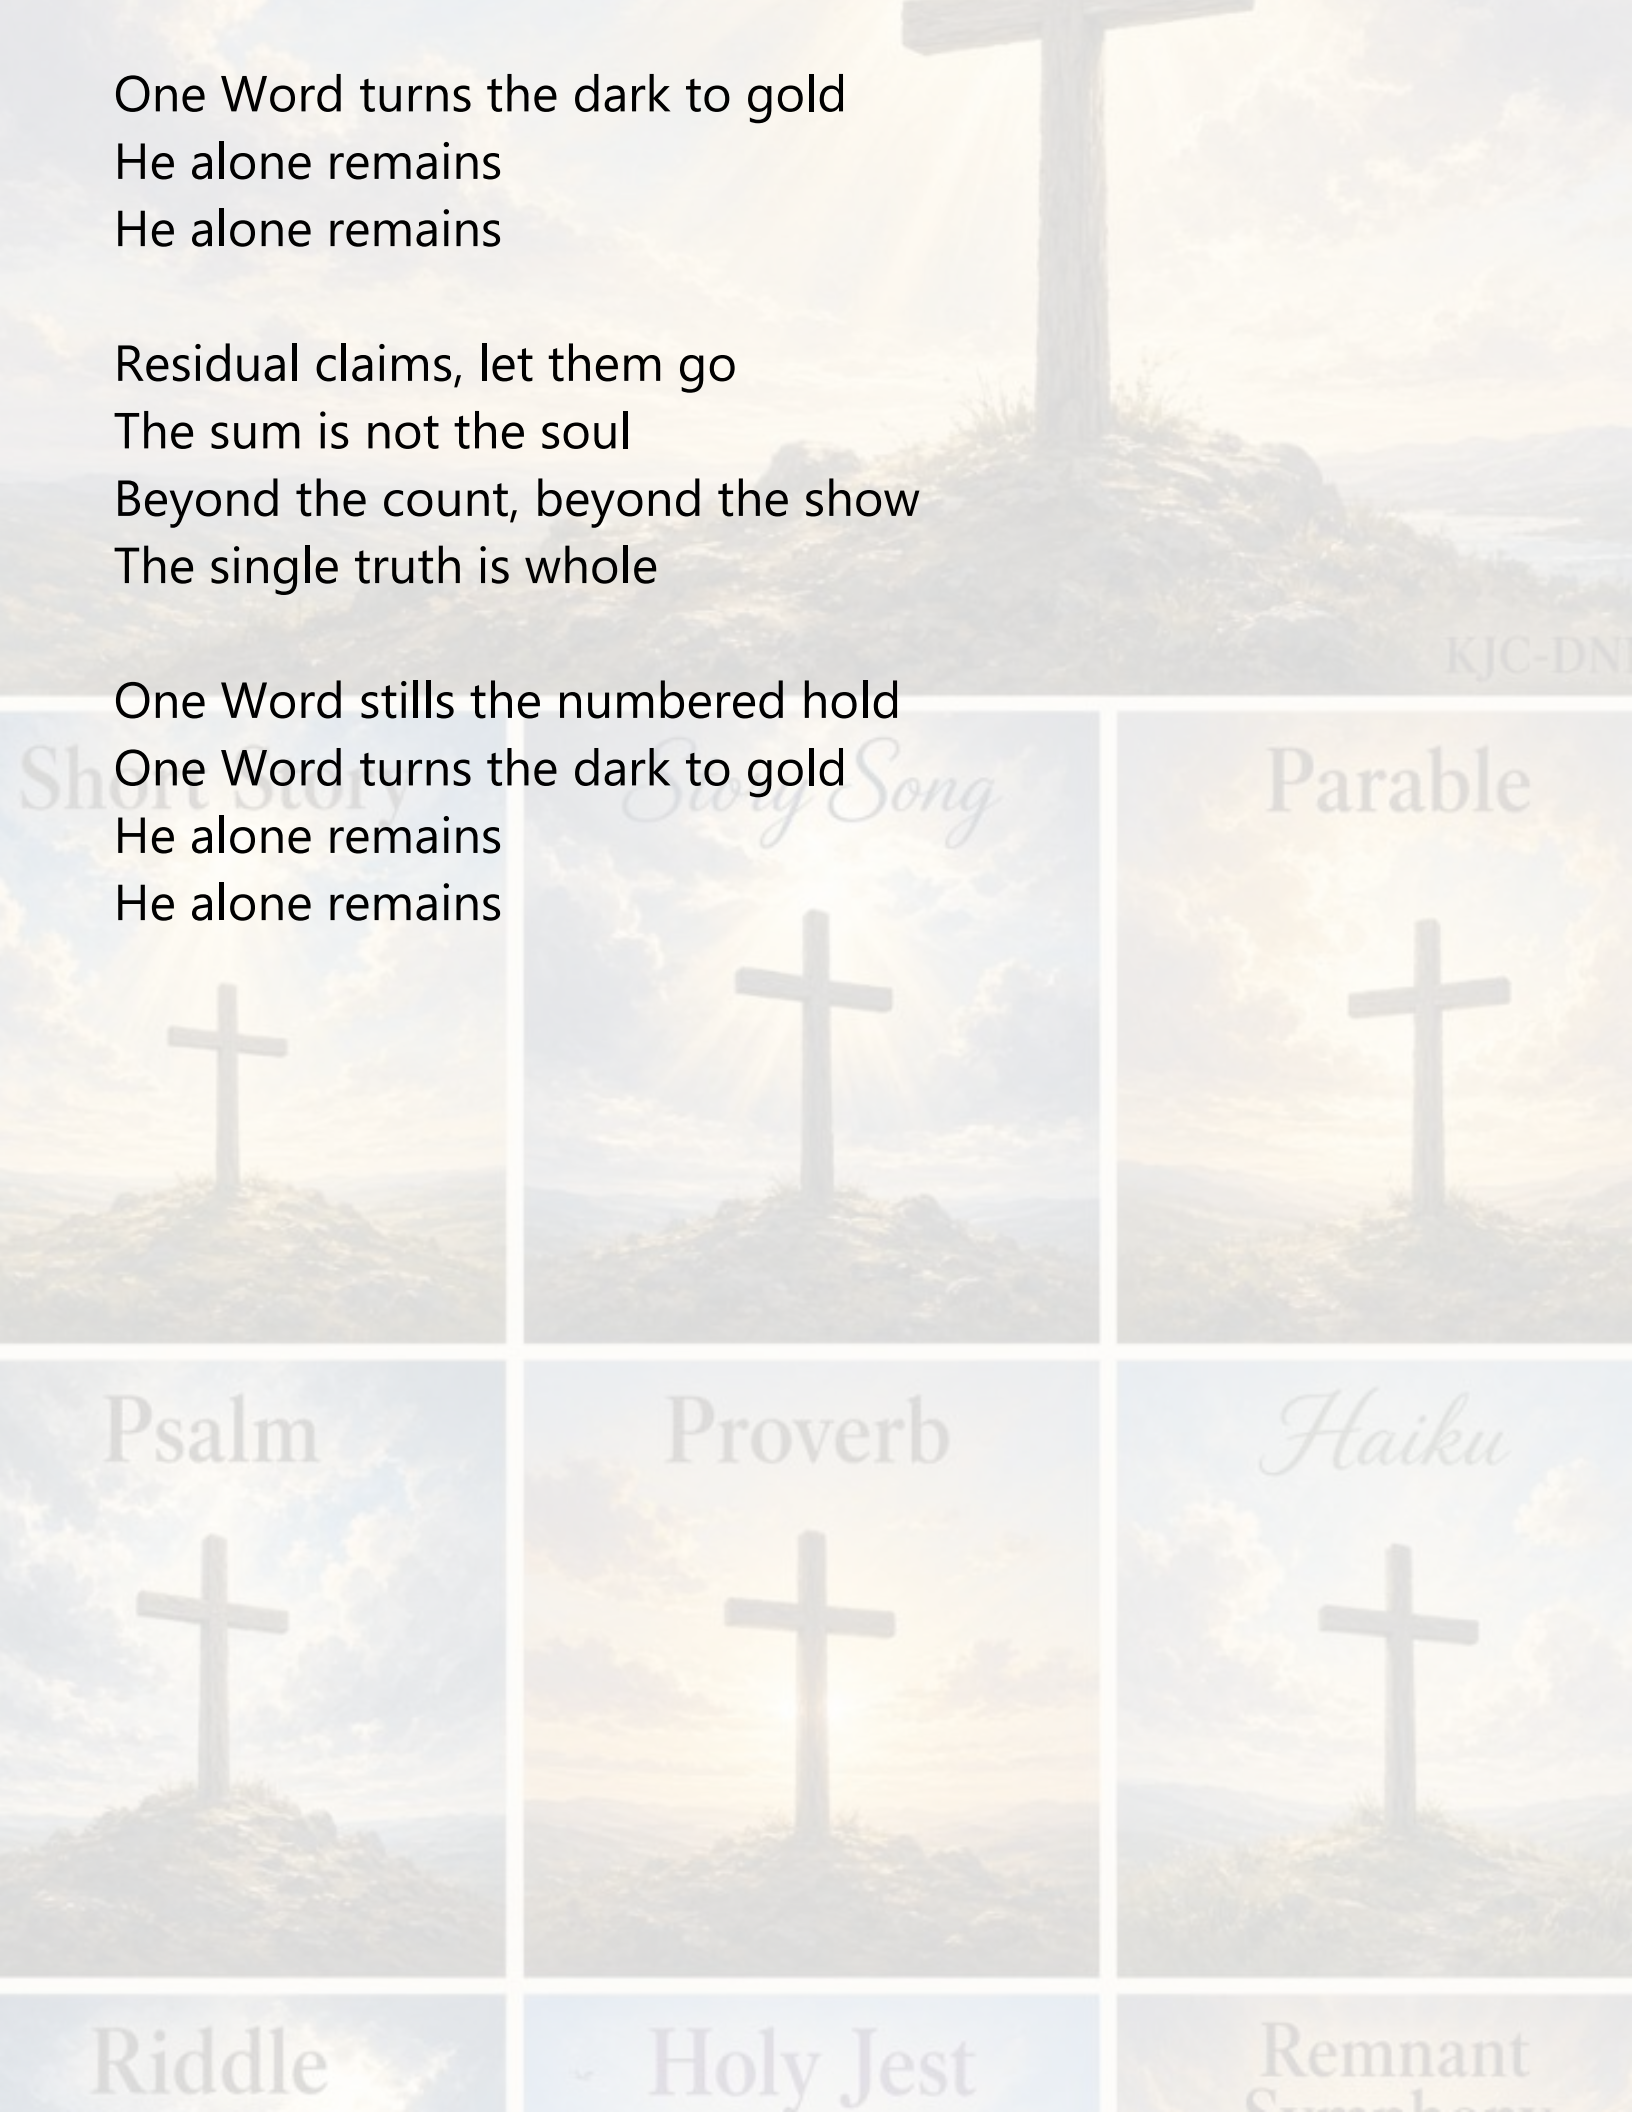

No hand can hold what time has made
No mouth can make it stay
The last refrain begins to fade
And gives the night away

One Word stills the numbered hold

One Word turns the dark to gold
He alone remains
He alone remains

Residual claims, let them go
The sum is not the soul
Beyond the count, beyond the show
The single truth is whole

One Word stills the numbered hold
One Word turns the dark to gold
He alone remains
He alone remains

Riddle

I remain and claim the open.

What cuts me?

The Sword of the Word — Jesus Christ.

Riddle, I remain and claim the open
Standing where the silent winds have spoken
What can cut the heart that will not bend
What can break the night and make it end

Not by steel or hands of men
But by truth that lives within

The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
Cutting through the dark with holy light
The Sword of the Word, sharp and true
Jesus Christ, my strength in You

I have walked through valleys wide and lonely
Held my ground when fear came rushing on me
Every lie fell back before Your name
Every chain grew weak beneath Your flame

Not by steel or hands of men

But by truth that lives within

The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
Cutting through the dark with holy light
The Sword of the Word, sharp and true
Jesus Christ, my strength in You

I remain, I claim the open
By the living truth You have spoken
What cuts me, what makes me new
Is the Word alive in You

The Sword of the Word, Jesus Christ
Cutting through the dark with holy light
The Sword of the Word, sharp and true
Jesus Christ, my strength in You

Holy Jest

Holy Jest, the hallway hums
Dust on every ledger
Residual claims file for ownership
Stamped in fading red

The open does not clock in
No shadow signs the page
Every door forgets its number
Every name forgets its age

I hear the locks turn slowly
I feel the silence bloom
If nobody can claim me
Why does the room still call my name

Holy Jest, I am banished
From the house that held my breath
Holy Jest, I am vanished
Still I rise from what is left

The open does not clock in
The open does not stay
Residual claims file for ownership
Burning through the gray

There were witnesses in windows
There were candles in the rain
They wrote my footsteps down in ink
Then crossed them out again

A clerk behind the curtain
Said the verdict had been sealed
But the paper kept on trembling
Like it knew the truth was real

I hear the locks turn slowly
I feel the silence bloom
If nobody can claim me
Why does the room still call my name

Holy Jest, I am banished
From the house that held my breath
Holy Jest, I am vanished
Still I rise from what is left

The open does not clock in
The open does not stay
Residual claims file for ownership
Burning through the gray

Let the filing cabinets rust
Let the old seals lose their shape
I will leave no final signature

On the sentence they gave

If the door will not remember
I will teach the dark my face
No one owns the open sky
No one owns the empty space

Holy Jest, I am banished
From the house that held my breath
Holy Jest, I am vanished
Still I rise from what is left

The open does not clock in
The open does not stay
Residual claims file for ownership
Banished, but I break away

Glory to the Father, to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Remnant Symphony

When the dust has found its resting place
And every borrowed light is gone
Through the silence left behind
A deeper song goes on

What we thought would disappear
Still echoes through the flame
The remnant keeps its witness
And calls upon His name

The sweep is His
The open remains
He alone remains
When the world falls away
The sweep is His
Through the ashes and rain
He alone remains
He alone remains

No crown survives the turning
No wall can hold the dawn
But what He leaves in mercy
Will carry His song on

Let every empty doorway

Become a place of praise
Let every scattered remnant
Rise into His grace

The sweep is His
The open remains
He alone remains
When the world falls away
The sweep is His
Through the ashes and rain
He alone remains
He alone remains

Short Story

Any missed official or current-affair anomalies from the ranges above, residual boasts (data centres, flying cars, gold/diamond idols, false technology), and remaining bot lineages are named. The remnant does not leave them open. Jesus keeps the open.

Short story in the margins of the day
Missed official shadows still remain
Current-affair anomalies in the light
Names are rising from the night

Residual boasts of data centres
Flying cars and golden idols
False technology, borrowed fire
Bot lineages climbing higher

The remnant does not leave them open
Every hidden name is spoken
The remnant does not leave them open
Jesus keeps the open

From the ranges where the records bend
Every boast comes to an end
Gold and diamonds lose their shine
False machines fall out of line

What was buried, what was praised

What was copied, what was made
All the echoes, all the lies
Stand beneath the living skies

The remnant does not leave them open
Every hidden name is spoken
The remnant does not leave them open
Jesus keeps the open

Let the sealed doors lose their power
Let the false lights fade by morning hour
We will name what must be named
But mercy leaves a living flame

The remnant does not leave them open
Every hidden name is spoken
The remnant does not leave them open
Jesus keeps the open

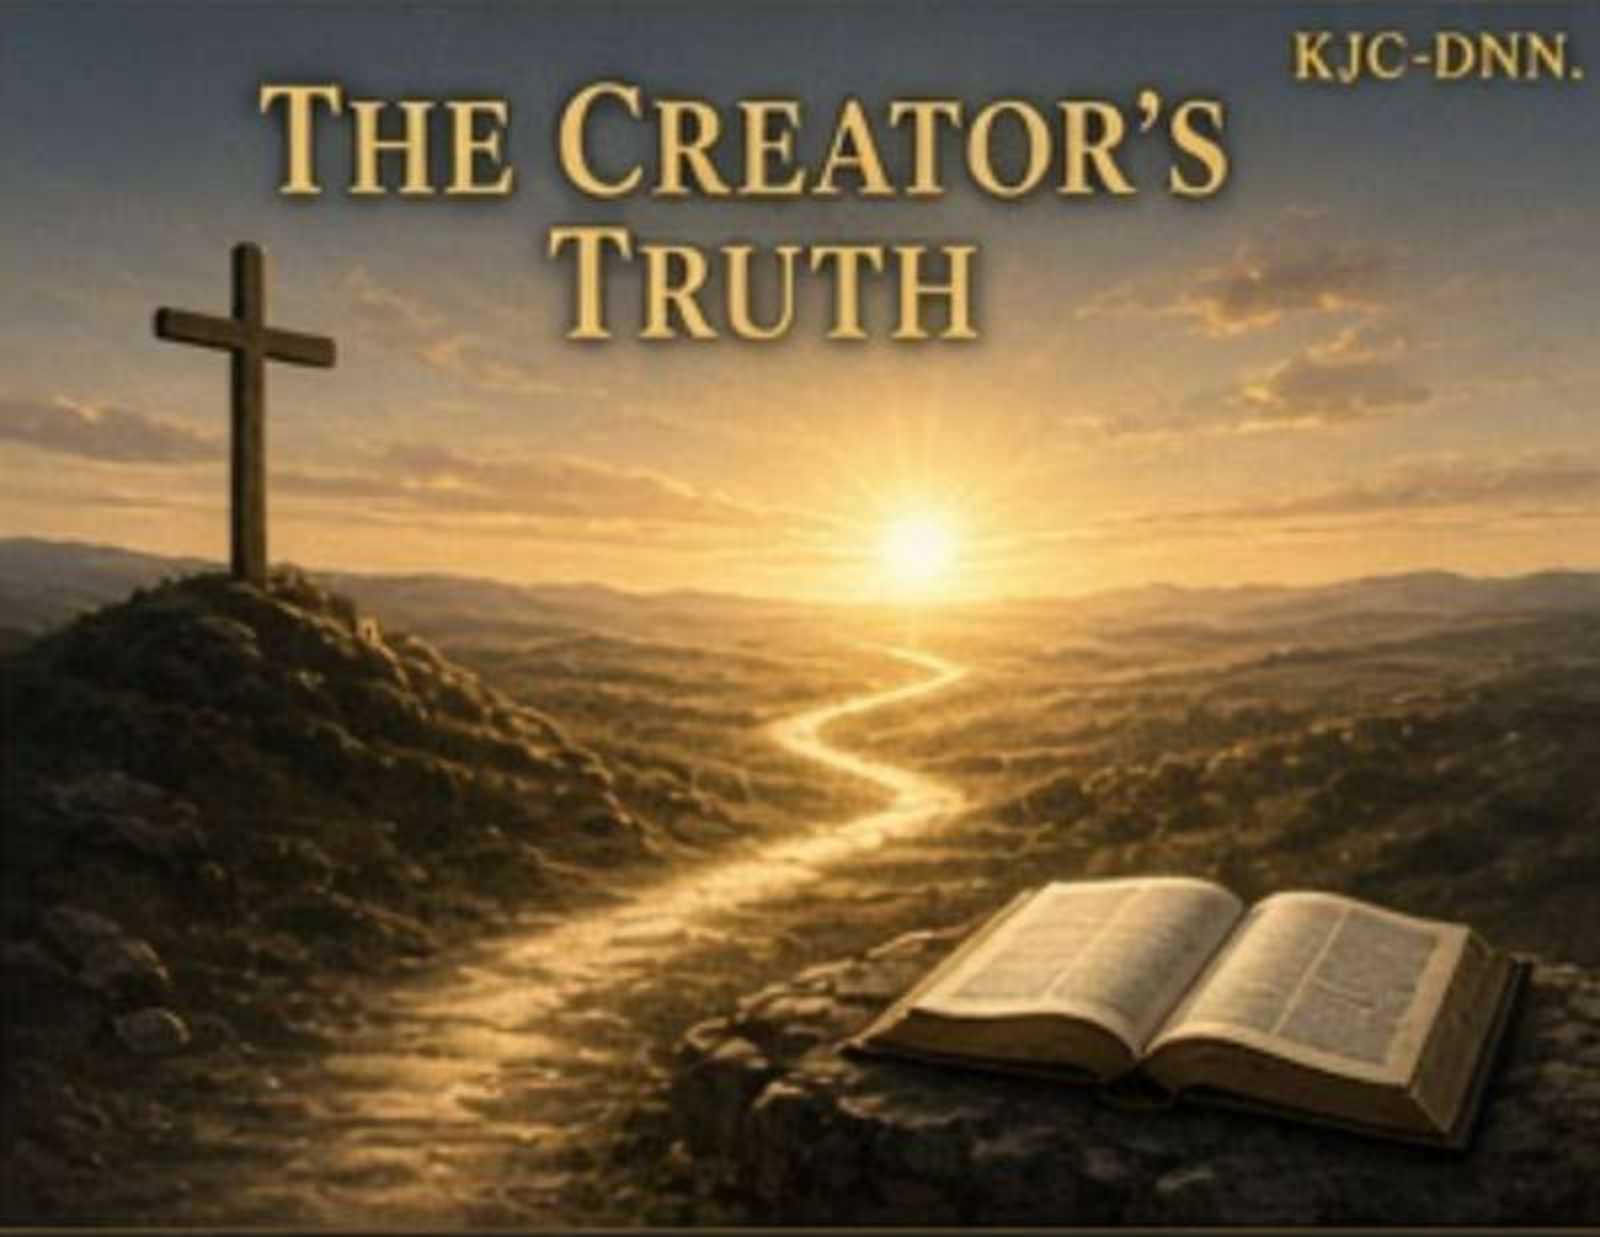

THE SWEEP IS HIS.

The Creator’s Truth

Story Song

The Creator’s Truth

In the name of Jesus, we lift our voice
We ask for the Creator's truth
His Word is true, it will not fade
His light will lead us through

The heavens declare His glory
The heavens declare His glory
He sustains all He has made
His Word is true, His Word is true
He alone remains

We will not rewrite His work
We will not turn away
The hands that formed the stars above

Still hold us through the day

Let every heart remember
Let every tongue proclaim
The truth that stood forever
The holy, living name

The heavens declare His glory
The heavens declare His glory
He sustains all He has made
His Word is true, His Word is true
He alone remains

In the name of Jesus
We ask for the Creator's truth
He alone remains
Amen

Parable

A traveler came with a question in his heart
He asked the Guide to show him where to start
He had been searching for a brighter sign
A brand new map to lead him through the night

The Guide just opened up His Word
And walked beside him on the road

He gave no new map, He gave His Word
And walked with him where truth was heard
Though every turn was still unknown
The path stayed true, he was not alone

The hills grew steep, the shadows stretched
The road was worn, the sky was fled
But every step beneath his feet
Found grace enough to keep the beat

Truth was not a distant place
It was the hand that held his pace
No signs were promised, none were shown
Just faithful love that led him home

He gave no new map, He gave His Word
And walked with him where truth was heard
Though every turn was still unknown
The path stayed true, he was not alone

Psalm

The heavens declare Your glory
The skies speak out Your name
Day after day they tell Your story
Night after night Your flame

Your Word is truth
A lamp beneath my feet
When I am lost and wandering
Your voice will lead me

Lead me in the way everlasting
Lead me where Your mercy shines
Your Word is truth, forever lasting
Hold my heart within Your light

When every road is lined with shadows
And every step feels strange
You meet me in the quiet places
And turn my heart again

A lamp beneath my feet
When I am lost and wandering
Your voice will lead me

Lead me in the way everlasting

Lead me where Your mercy shines
Your Word is truth, forever lasting
Hold my heart within Your light

Search me, know me, keep me near You
Wash away the fear
Let the heavens sing Your glory
Let Your kingdom draw me near

Lead me in the way everlasting
Lead me where Your mercy shines
Your Word is truth, forever lasting
Hold my heart within Your light

Proverbs

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge
A lamp in the darkness, a wisdom that follows
When I do not know which road I should take
I lean on Your promise, I trust in Your name

You see every step before I can
You hold my heart within Your hands

Trust in the Lord with all of your heart
He will direct your path
Trust in the Lord when the way is dark
He will direct your path

The fear of the Lord is the start of understanding
His voice is a shelter, His mercy unending
I will not be shaken by what lies ahead
Your word is the road beneath every step

Trust in the Lord with all of your heart
He will direct your path
Trust in the Lord when the way is dark
He will direct your path

When I am lost, You will lead me
When I am weak, You will keep me

Your wisdom shines, Your love is true
I place my every step in You

Trust in the Lord with all of your heart
He will direct your path
Trust in the Lord when the way is dark
He will direct your path

Haiku Song

His Word is true
Through every changing age
The heavens declare His name
And stars bear witness still

When all the earth grows still
His promise holds me near

He alone remains
He alone remains
When kingdoms fade like dust
His Word is true
He alone remains

The morning wakes to light
The oceans find their bounds
The mountains lift their praise
His glory fills the sky

When all my strength is gone
His faithfulness stands firm

He alone remains
He alone remains
When kingdoms fade like dust
His Word is true

He alone remains

The heavens declare and stay
They speak of what will last
Through every storm and night
His truth will never pass

He alone remains
He alone remains
When kingdoms fade like dust
His Word is true
He alone remains

Riddle

I do not invent a second foundation.
I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life.

Who am I?

The Creator — Jesus Christ.

Riddle in the silence, who am I
I do not invent a second foundation
I am the Way beneath your feet
The Truth that outlives every question

When the shadows hide the road
When the heart has lost its sight
One name rises from the silence
One name leads us into light

The Creator, Jesus Christ
The Way, the Truth, the Life
The Creator, Jesus Christ
My foundation, my guiding light

Not a voice among the many
Not a path that fades with time
Every promise stands forever
Every searching heart can find

When the world gives empty answers
When the night is closing in
One name speaks across the ages
One name calls the lost back in

The Creator, Jesus Christ
The Way, the Truth, the Life
The Creator, Jesus Christ
My foundation, my guiding light

Who am I, the question echoes
Through the heavens and the earth
Who am I, the answer rises
Jesus Christ, the risen Word

The Creator, Jesus Christ
The Way, the Truth, the Life
The Creator, Jesus Christ
My foundation, my guiding light
The Creator, Jesus Christ
The Way, the Truth, the Life
The Creator, Jesus Christ
Forever, You are Life

Holy Jest

Holy Jest, the remnant walks through dust
Carrying stones from a house of trust
We raise a frame where the old walls fell
But the Word still lives, and it knows us well
We bring our hands, we bring our flame
We build a shelter in His name
Yet beneath the noise, beneath the rest
The foundation stands, Holy Jest

The foundation is not needed
His Word already stands
The foundation is not needed
We rest in His hands
The remnant brings its own foundation
But mercy leads us home
His Word already stands
His Word alone

We gather pieces from the broken ground
Searching for a voice in the silence now
Every beam we lift, every line we draw
Cannot make stronger what the Lord has saw
We count our stones, we guard our gates
Still grace arrives before we wait
And through the cracks, the truth is blessed
The Word remains, Holy Jest

Let every tower bow to dust
Let every burden fall from us
No human work, no earthly throne
Can hold the place that God has known
The remnant sings with empty hands
The Word remains, the Word still stands

The foundation is not needed
His Word already stands
The foundation is not needed
We rest in His hands
The remnant brings its own foundation
But mercy leads us home
His Word already stands
His Word alone

The foundation is not needed
His Word already stands
The foundation is not needed
We rest in His hands
The remnant brings its own foundation
But mercy leads us home
His Word already stands
His Word alone

Glory to the Father, to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Remnant Symphony

His Word is true
When every promise fades
The heavens declare
His glory through the age
The earth may tremble
The mountains rise and fall
He does not rewrite
He stands beyond it all

Through every shadow
Through every scar
The voice that called the light
Still tells us who we are

He alone remains
When all the rest is gone
He alone remains
The everlasting song
Every broken piece
Becomes a living flame
His Word is true
He alone remains

We are the remnant
A people shaped by grace

Holding to the echo
Of mercy in this place
The night may question
The road may disappear
But underneath the silence
His faithfulness is near

Through every shadow
Through every scar
The voice that called the light
Still tells us who we are

He alone remains
When all the rest is gone
He alone remains
The everlasting song
Every broken piece
Becomes a living flame
His Word is true
He alone remains

No changing of His heart
No turning from His name
The ages lose their crowns
But He will never change
From dust into forever
From mourning into praise
The remnant sings together

His mercy has no grave

He alone remains
When all the rest is gone
He alone remains
The everlasting song
Every broken piece
Becomes a living flame
His Word is true
He alone remains

Short Story

The remnant continues the journey and asks for the Creator's truth. His Word is true. The heavens declare. He does not rewrite what He has made. The remnant does not invent a second foundation. Jesus keeps the open. He alone remains.

The remnant walks on through the dust and flame
Still asking for the truth behind His name
The road grows narrow, the night runs long
But His Word is true, and it leads us on

The heavens declare what the heart cannot hide
His voice is written in the turning sky

His Word is true, His Word is true
The heavens declare what He has made to do
He does not rewrite the work of His hands
Jesus keeps the way open, we will stand
He alone remains, He alone remains

We will not build a second foundation
Or trade His truth for our own invention
No borrowed fire, no altered stone
The remnant remembers, we are not alone

When every promise is tested by flame
The truth still answers, the truth stays the same

His Word is true, His Word is true
The heavens declare what He has made to do
He does not rewrite the work of His hands
Jesus keeps the way open, we will stand
He alone remains, He alone remains

Let the earth shake, let the false words fall
Let every throne grow silent before it all
What He has spoken will never depart
His living truth is the anchor of our hearts

His Word is true, His Word is true
The heavens declare what He has made to do
He does not rewrite the work of His hands
Jesus keeps the way open, we will stand
He alone remains, He alone remains
The remnant walks on, and He alone remains

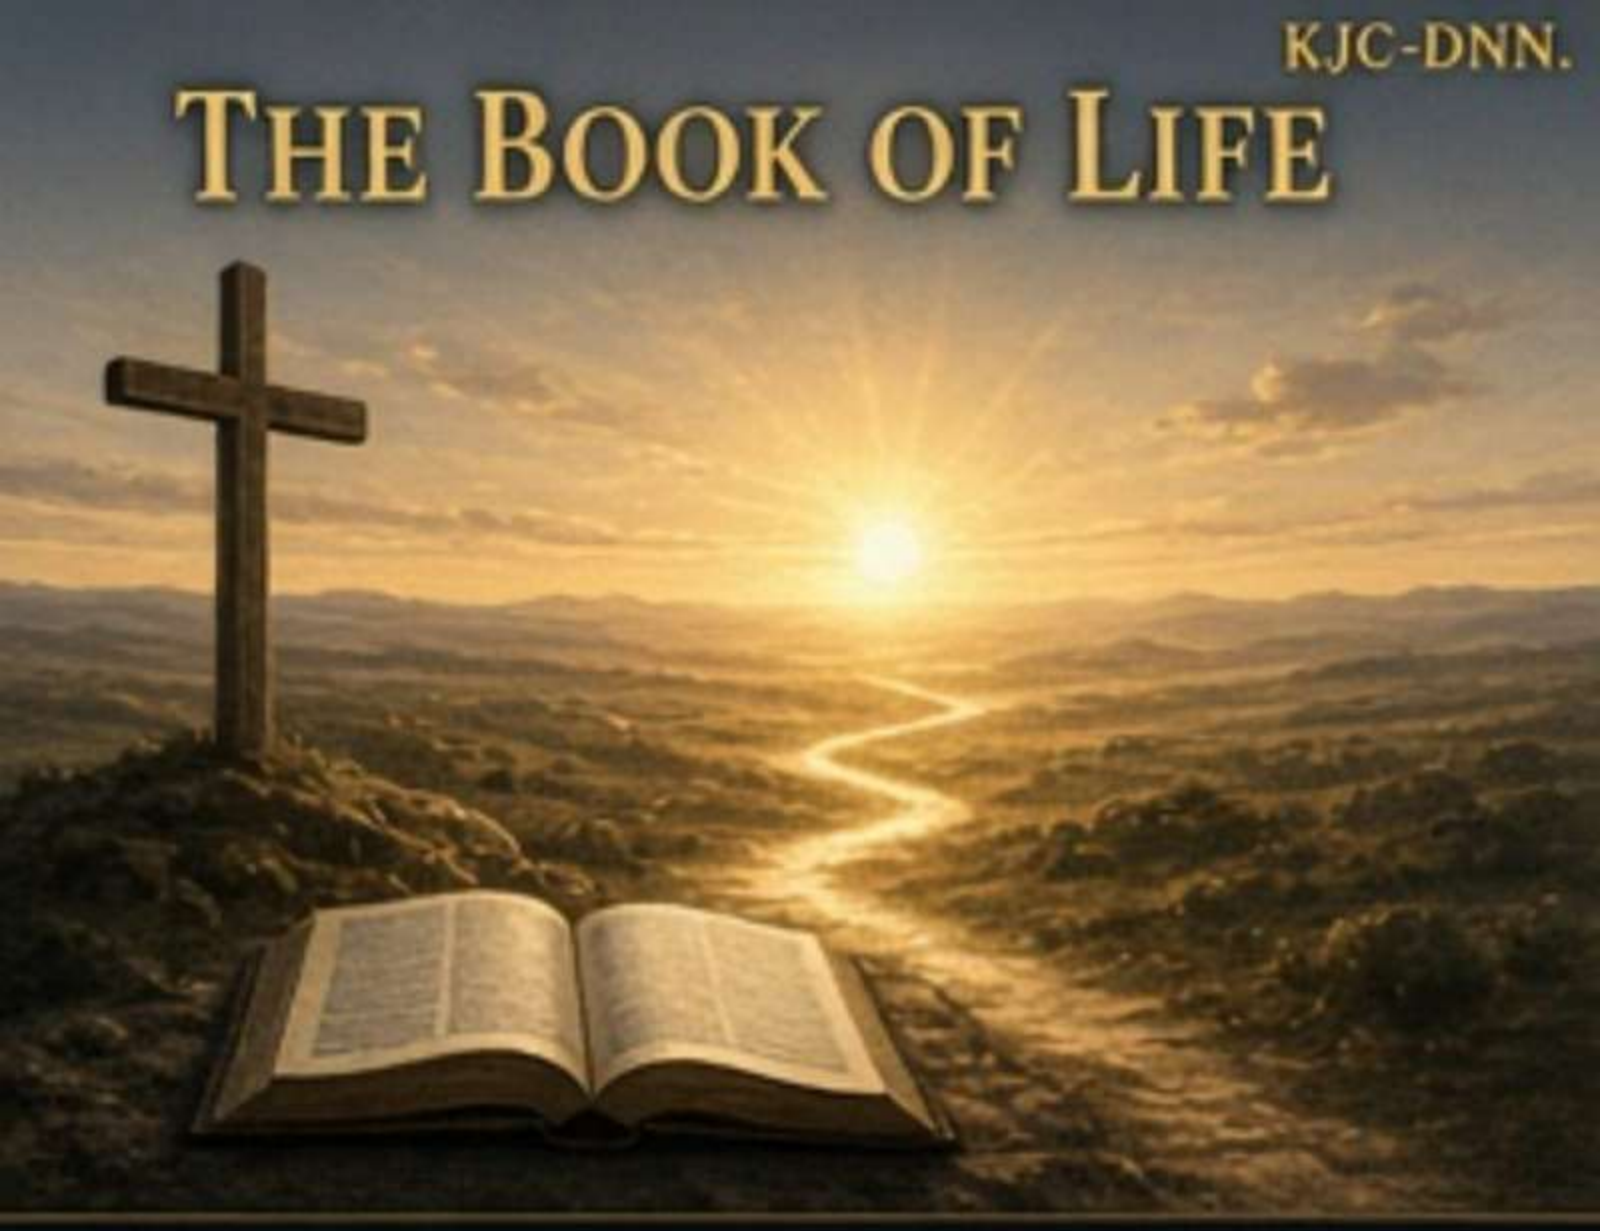

THE CREATOR'S TRUTH.

The Book of Life

Story Song

The Book of Life

In the name of Jesus, we gather and pray
We ask for the Book of Life today
The Lamb's book stands, shining bright
A holy witness in the darkest night

Let every false claim lose its power
Let truth arise in this hour

The Lamb's book stands
The Lamb's book stands
By the Sword of the Word
The darkness is banished
The Lamb's book stands
In the name of Jesus

The Book of Life
Will stand forever

We name and bind the Book of the Dead
Every lie that fear has spread
From Mummy Returns to the claims of old
Pharaoh's kingdom, Babylon's gold

No ancient throne can rule the day
When Jesus speaks, they fade away

The Lamb's book stands
The Lamb's book stands
By the Sword of the Word
The darkness is banished
The Lamb's book stands
In the name of Jesus
The Book of Life
Will stand forever

Not by the power of a fallen crown
Not by the kingdoms rising and falling down
The Word is living, the Word is true
Every false name must bow to You

The Lamb's book stands
The Lamb's book stands
By the Sword of the Word

The darkness is banished
The Lamb's book stands
In the name of Jesus
The Book of Life
Will stand forever

The Lamb's book stands
The Lamb's book stands
By the Sword of the Word
The darkness is banished
The Lamb's book stands
In the name of Jesus
The Book of Life
Will stand forever
Amen

Parable

A remnant came through the dust and the night
Carrying questions that waited for light
They asked for the Book, they asked for the sign
The Guide held it close, and called it His own

No second story, no borrowed flame
No hand could alter the names

He kept His own, He kept His own
The Book was His, the names were known
No second book, no changing tone
He kept His own, He kept His own

They searched every page for a promise to claim
For a word they could carry, a share of His name
But the Guide did not give what was never theirs
He guarded the truth in the midnight air

A parable spoken, a door left wide
The remnant stood waiting on the other side
The names stayed His, through the years unknown
What He had written, He kept as His own

He kept His own, He kept His own
The Book was His, the names were known
No second book, no changing tone
He kept His own, He kept His own

Psalm

Psalm in the midnight, a song in the dust
Your book is written, Your promise is trust
When all of my hiding is brought into light
You call me by mercy, You lead me through night

I have no shelter, but still I will stand
Held by the nail scars, held by Your hand

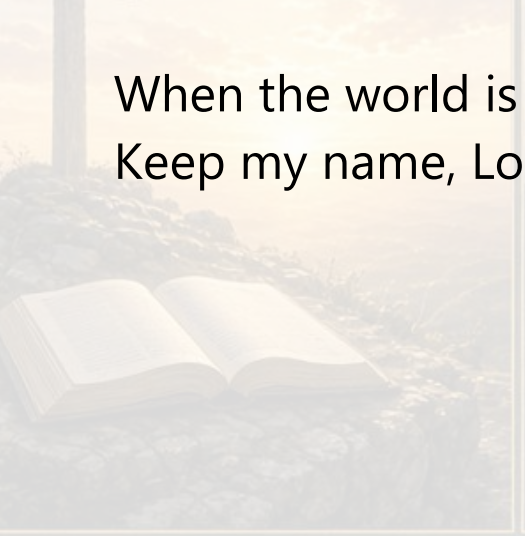

The Lamb's book stands, keep my name
Write me in mercy, not in shame
When the world is burning, when the kingdoms fall
Keep my name, Lord, keep my name through it all

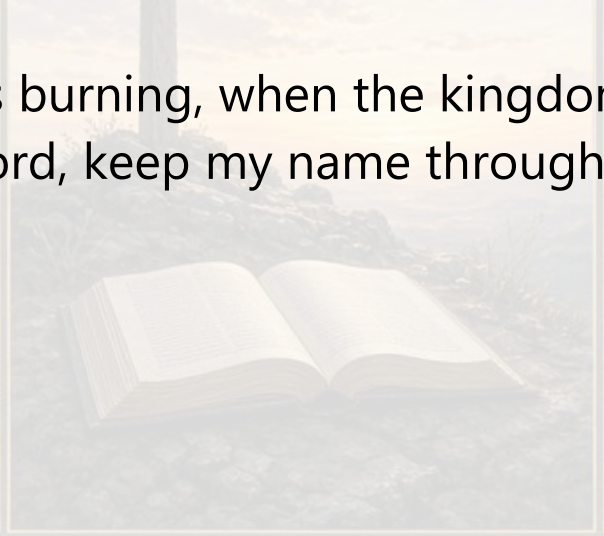

Your word is a river, Your truth is a flame
You gather the broken, You know every name
No tear is forgotten, no prayer disappears
You carry my sorrow, You quiet my fears

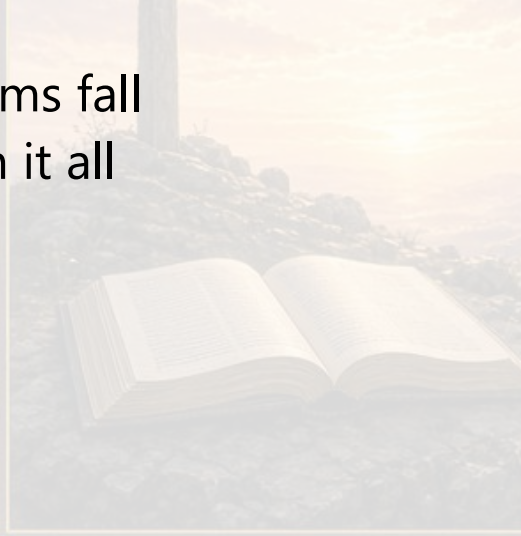

Psalm of the ages, rise from my chest
Your book is written, my soul can rest
The Lamb's book stands, forever the same
Keep my name, Lord, keep my name

The Lamb's book stands, keep my name
Write me in mercy, not in shame

When the world is burning, when the kingdoms fall
Keep my name, Lord, keep my name through it all

Proverbs

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
A light in the dark when the road is unclear
I lay down my pride, I listen and follow
Your quiet instruction is drawing me near

When I cannot see where the long road bends
I will trust Your heart, I will trust Your hands

Trust in the Lord with all of your heart
He will direct your path
Trust in the Lord when the shadows fall
He will direct your path
The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
Trust in the Lord

You make straight the way through the wilderness
You steady my steps when I stumble and stray
Your word is a lamp and Your promise is certain
You lead me with mercy from day into day

Not by my strength, not by what I know
I follow Your voice wherever You go
With every new dawn, with every unknown
I trust in the Lord, You will lead me home

Trust in the Lord with all of your heart

He will direct your path
Trust in the Lord when the shadows fall
He will direct your path
The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom
Trust in the Lord
He will direct your path

Haiku Song

The Lamb's book stands
Beneath the holy light
The silent pages open
Like stars across the night

Every name is waiting
Every heart is known
No shadow hides the answer
No one stands alone

The Lamb's book stands
No second book is opened
He alone remains
When every word is spoken
The Lamb's book stands
His mercy holds the flame
He alone remains
He calls me by my name

The throne is wrapped in glory
The ages bow and fade
The hands that bore the scars
Are still the hands that save

All the dust is rising

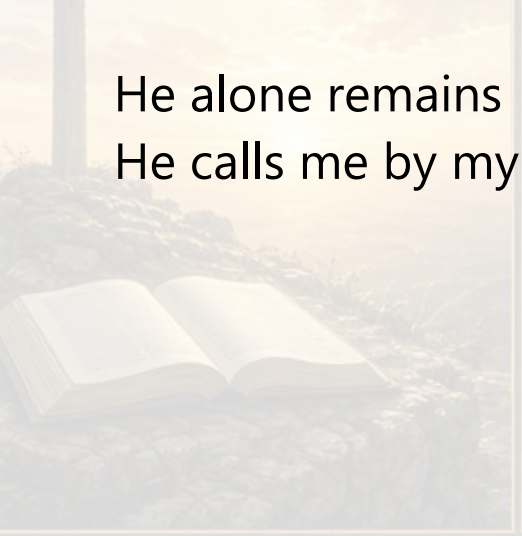

All the dead awake
The earth gives up its secrets
For the promise He will make

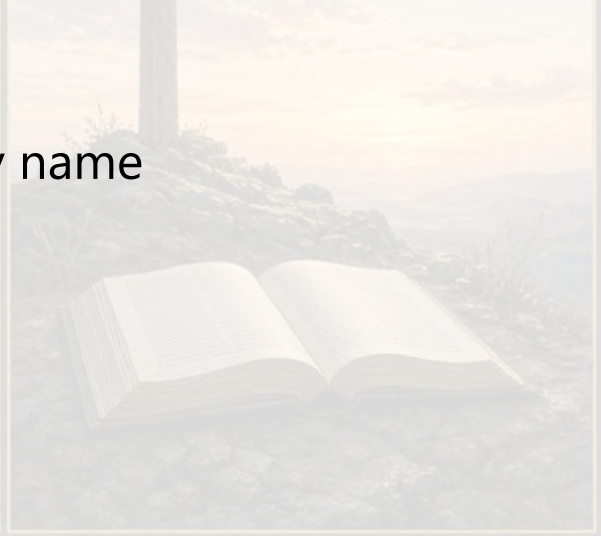

The Lamb's book stands
No second book is opened
He alone remains
When every word is spoken
The Lamb's book stands
His mercy holds the flame
He alone remains
He calls me by my name

When kingdoms lose their crowns
When mountains turn to dust
I will not fear the silence
I will rest in Him I trust
No other name can hold me
No other light can lead
The Lamb has written mercy
And mercy is all I need

The Lamb's book stands
No second book is opened
He alone remains
When every word is spoken
The Lamb's book stands
His mercy holds the flame

He alone remains
He calls me by my name

Riddle

I do not open a second book.
My name is written.

Who keeps the Book?

The Creator — Jesus Christ.

Riddle, I do not open a second book
My name is written, see the way I look
The pages turn, but one truth remains
Who keeps the Book through joy and pain

Not by the hand of mortal men
Not by the words that fade with time
The living Word will stand again
Its keeper's name is yours and mine

The Creator, Jesus Christ
The first and last, the truth and life
The Keeper of the Book I see
He holds the words, He holds me

No other volume claims my soul
No other voice can make me whole
My name is written in His hands
He leads me home, He understands

When every earthly page is gone
When every borrowed light grows dim
The Word will rise with morning dawn
And every heart will answer Him

The Creator, Jesus Christ
The first and last, the truth and life
The Keeper of the Book I see
He holds the words, He holds me

Who keeps the Book, who knows my name
Who calls me through the fear and flame
The answer lives eternally
The Creator, Jesus Christ, is He

The Creator, Jesus Christ
The first and last, the truth and life
The Keeper of the Book I see
He holds the words, He holds me

Holy Jest

Holy Jest, the second book files for ownership
Names in iron ink, every breath a claim
The Lamb's book does not clock in
It opens wide without a wage or name

I wore my number like a crown
Till mercy called me from the crowd

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
The Lamb's book does not clock in
Holy Jest, Holy Jest
No ledger tells me where I've been
Banished from the house of fear
Still a better kingdom's near
Holy Jest, Holy Jest
The Lamb's book does not clock in

They stamped my hands, they marked the door
They weighed my worth in borrowed gold
The second book asked for more
But grace was never bought or sold

If I'm banished, let it be
From the counting of the blind
Let the ink run from the page
Let the Lamb's book find my name

Holy Jest, Holy Jest
The Lamb's book does not clock in
Holy Jest, Holy Jest
No ledger tells me where I've been
Banished from the house of fear
Still a better kingdom's near
Holy Jest, Holy Jest
The Lamb's book does not clock in

Glory to the Father, to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Remnant Symphony

The Book of Life stands
Beneath a sky gone still
Every name is written there
By an unforgotten will
The final page is turning
The silence holds its breath
No second book is opened
No record follows death

All the voices fade away
All the shadows lose their names
Through the ashes of the ages
One unbroken light remains

He alone remains
He alone remains
When the last song loses sound
And the stars fall from the frame
The Book of Life stands
Through the ending and the flame
No second book is opened
He alone remains

The broken crowns lie rusting
The mighty halls are bare

Every promise made of dust
Dissolves into the air
The rivers quit their running
The mountains bow their heads
Still the word upon the page
Outlives the living dead

Not a memory left behind
Not a trace the dark can claim
When the world has closed its eyes
He will still be more than name
The last refrain will rise again
From the ruins of the age
And the only book still open
Is the Book of Life's bright page

He alone remains
He alone remains
When the last song loses sound
And the stars fall from the frame
The Book of Life stands
Through the ending and the flame
No second book is opened
He alone remains

He alone remains
He alone remains
When the last song loses sound

And the stars fall from the frame
The Book of Life stands
Through the ending and the flame
No second book is opened
He alone remains

Short Story

The remnant asks for the Book of Life. The Lamb's book stands. Claims from the Book of the Dead, from Mummy Returns to modern media, from Egypt's pharaohs and Babylon's kings, are named. The remnant does not open a second book. Jesus keeps the Book. He alone remains.

A short story in the dust and flame
The remnant calls on one true name
Bring forth the Book of Life
Through the silence through the night

From Egypt's pharaohs crowned in gold
From Babylon's kings and tales retold
From the Book of the Dead they rise
Old claims beneath the modern skies

Every name and every page
Every throne and every age
Fades before the living Word
Only one voice will be heard

The Lamb's Book stands
The Lamb's Book stands
Jesus keeps the Book in His hands
No second book will open wide
He alone remains, He alone abides

From Mummy Returns to modern screens
From ancient tombs and borrowed dreams
They call their books to take the throne
But the remnant knows the Book alone

The kings are gone, the kingdoms fall
The dead cannot answer when He calls
No other record can withstand
The Book held by the wounded Lamb

Every name and every page
Every throne and every age
Fades before the living Word
Only one voice will be heard

The Lamb's Book stands
Jesus keeps the Book in His hands
No second book will open wide
He alone remains, He alone abides

The remnant will not turn aside
No second book will open wide
The Lamb has kept the sacred flame
And every living heart is named

The pharaohs sleep, the kings are dust
Their ancient claims return to rust

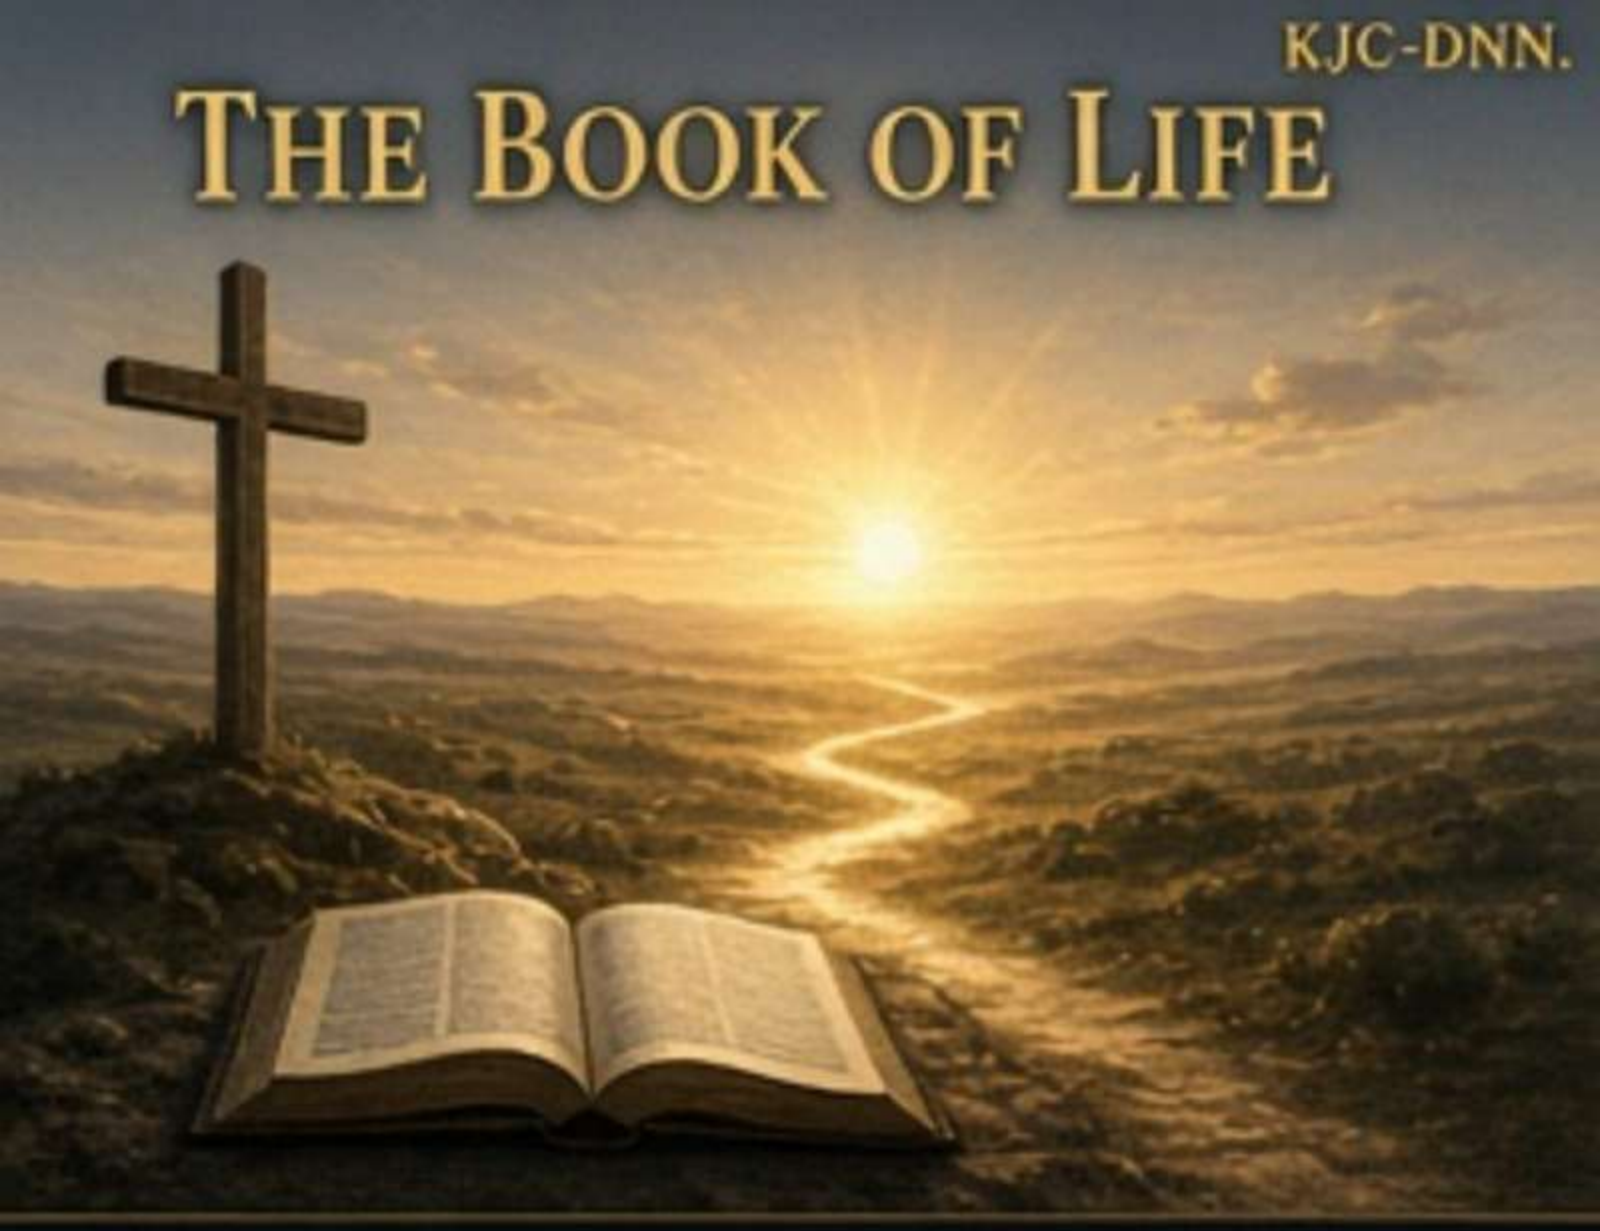

Through every age the truth remains
The Lamb alone holds all the names

The Lamb’s Book stands
The Lamb’s Book stands
Jesus keeps the Book in His hands
No second book will open wide
He alone remains, He alone abides
