

Triune God Armor – Song of a Thousand Praises

Part-1

O Lord, Creator of heaven and earth above,
Mighty God of power, sovereign in love.
Great I AM, Beginning and End of all days,
Eternal One, forever enthroned in praise.
God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob true,
God of comfort, mercy, and glory anew.
God of desire, of peace, and wisdom divine,
All-seeing, all-hearing, all-knowing—Thou art mine.

Triune God, Your name is my shield and my armor strong,
With a thousand praises, I lift my voice in song.
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your mercy endures evermore,
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your word is my saving shore.

Though enemies rise and surround me this hour,
Though they seek to devour and over me tower—
By Your holy name, come rescue and save,
In Your mighty power, justice and mercy give.
Guard my soul with Your unfailing hand,
Strengthen my heart where fears used to stand.
Cover me over with grace from above,
Cleanse me wholly by Your precious blood of love.

Triune God, Your name is my shield and my armor strong,
With a thousand praises, I lift my voice in song.

Alleluia, Alleluia, Your mercy endures evermore,
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your word is my saving shore.

From the Alpha eternal, to Omega You remain,
Turn my weakness to strength, O Lord, break every chain.
Cast out my fear, replace it with fearless peace,
Rest my soul in Your arms, where all striving shall cease.
Triune God, Your name is my shield and my armor bright,
With a thousand praises, I worship You in the light.
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your mercy endures evermore,
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your word is my saving shore.
Amen. Alleluia!

Triune God Armor – Song of a Thousand Praises

Part-3

God of all dominion, God of every authority,
All power and might reside eternally in Thee.
By Your word You framed the worlds in glorious span,
Breathed life into Adam, formed the first of man.
Walker in the garden in the cool of day,
God with a forgiving heart, turning not away.
Healer of the broken, merciful to the ill,
God of tender patience, longsuffering still.
Gentle in correction, chastening with love's care,
Running to the prodigal son with arms open there—
Hosting the celebration, feast of joy restored.

Triune God, Your name is my armor strong,
With a thousand praises, I lift my endless song.
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your mercy forever stands,
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your word redeems these hands.
Triune God, You guard and keep,
Your name is my strength deep.

You clothe me in robes of righteousness pure,
Remember my sins no more, forever secure.
You cast my transgressions into the deepest sea,
As far as east from west, they no longer cling to me.
God of cleansing blood, God of pardon and grace,
God of complete forgiveness, justifying the lost race.

God of amazing grace, Lord of the heavenly throng,
You sing over me with joy, quiet me with Your song.

Triune God, Your name is my armor strong,
With a thousand praises, I lift my endless song.
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your mercy forever stands,
Alleluia, Alleluia, Your word redeems these hands.

Eternal from the beginning, abiding to the end,
Turn my frailty to power, O Father, my friend.
Transform my fear into fearless trust anew,
Place my soul in eternal rest with You.

With a thousand praises, I worship in Your light.

Greater than Jonah, the true Temple, the new and living Way,
Author of eternal salvation, Finisher of faith each day.
Captain of the Lord's hosts, Commander of angel throngs,
Warrior King victorious, who conquered sin and death's strong bonds.
Overcomer of the world, destroyer of the devil's works,
Crusher of the serpent's head, who led captivity captive in His might.
Disarmed the powers and authorities, stripped them of their claim,
Triumphed over them upon the cross, holding death's keys in His name.

Holder of the key of David, who opens and no one can shut,
Whose voice resounds like the roar of many waters in flood.
Eyes like blazing fire, feet like burnished bronze aglow,
From Your mouth proceeds a sharp double-edged sword to show.
Voice that raises the dead, faithful and true Son,
Beloved of the Father, obedient, the only begotten One.
Humble Servant, washing the disciples' feet in grace,
Meek and lowly in heart, gentle in every embrace.
