Secure, Contain, Protect (SCP)

In the shadows of the world, where the veil is thin,
A secret war is waged, where no one dares begin.
SCP-001, the truth we'll never know,
A memetic death awaits, where forbidden files grow.
A gate guardian stands, with a sword of flame,
Or a sheaf of papers, rewriting the game.
From the spiral path to the factory's sin,
The anomalies call, and the end might begin.

Secure, contain, protect, in the dark we stand,
Holding back the chaos with a trembling hand.
From the void's cold whispers to the things that infect,
We guard the world in silence—Secure, Contain, Protect.

SCP-002, a room of flesh and bone,
Swallows souls to furnish its unholy home.
A gelatinous friend, SCP-999 brings light,
With a hug and a giggle, it banishes fright.
But the Bigfoot hides, with a deadly stare,
SCP-1000's gaze, a curse none can bear.
From sentient machines to a button that's red,
Each anomaly tempts us to a world that's dead.

Secure, contain, protect, in the dark we stand,
Holding back the chaos with a trembling hand.
From the void's cold whispers to the things that infect,

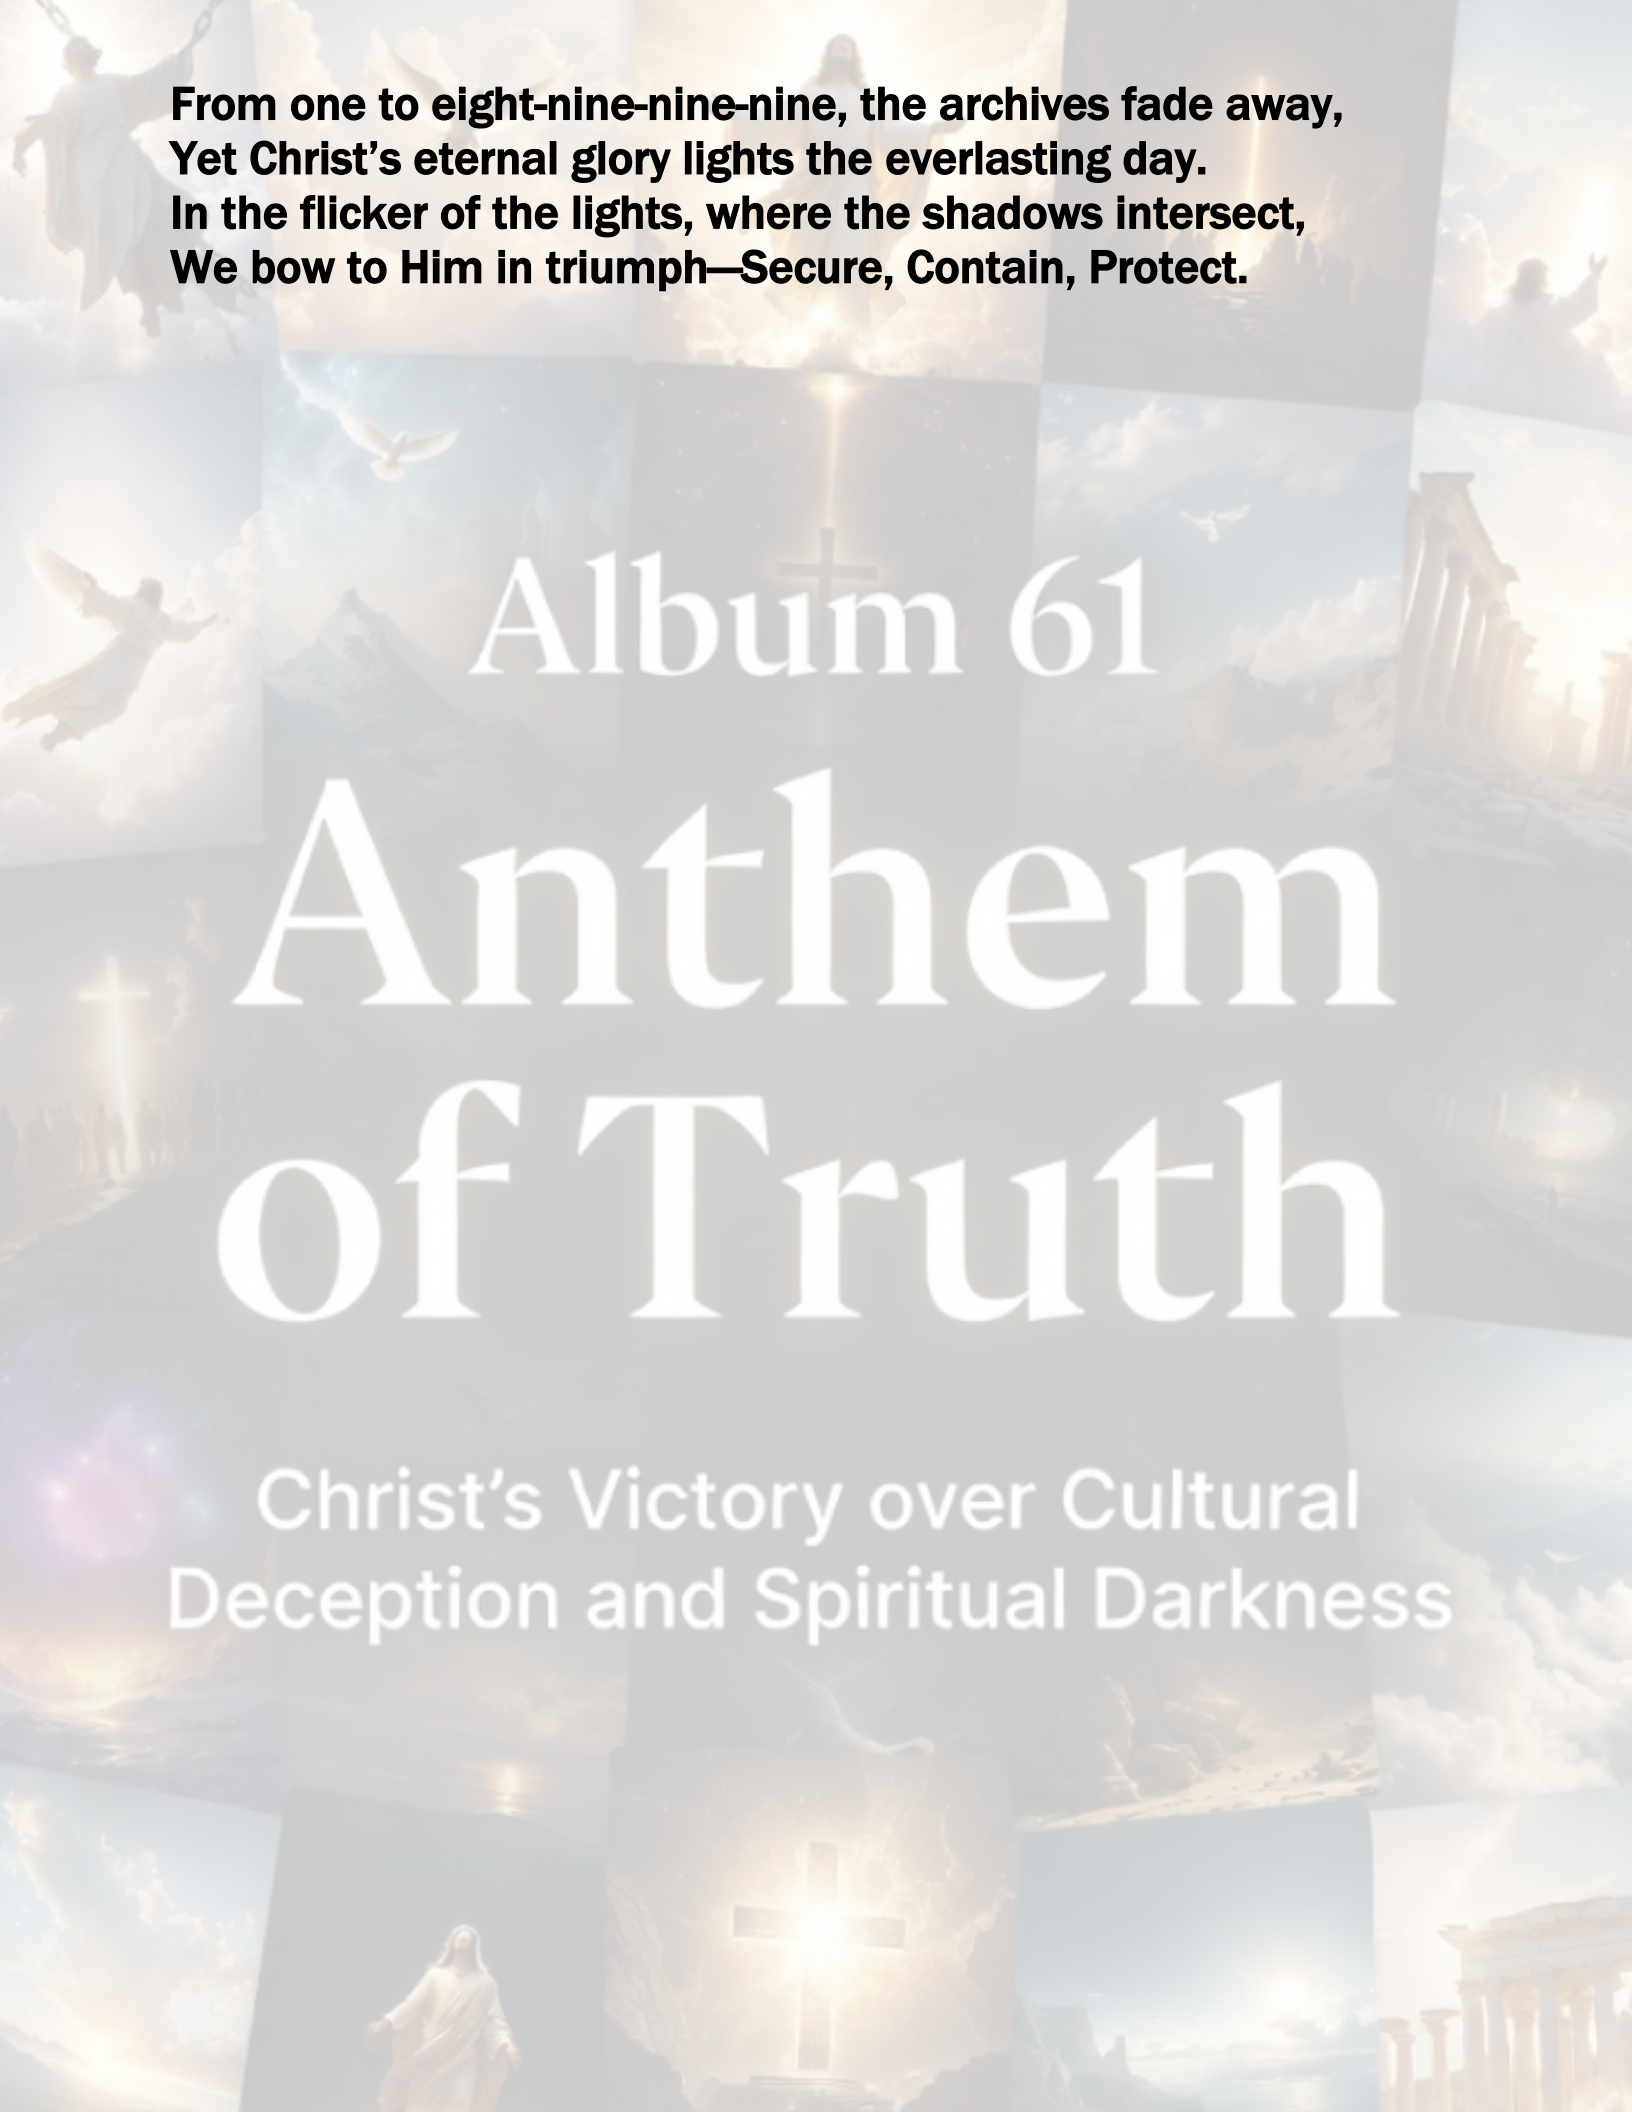

We guard the world in silence—Secure, Contain, Protect.

Deep beneath the earth, where the trolls reside,
SCP-8999 speaks through symbols, where secrets hide.
A cake that sings, a drum that bends the mind,
A thousand-year island, lost to humankind.
From Keter-class threats to the safe and the strange,
The Foundation fights to keep the world unchanged.
Yet the colors warp, and the sky's not right,
SCP-8900 taints the world in unnatural light.

Oh, the weight of the unknown, it presses on our souls,
The Pattern Screamer wails from a database's holes.
What is real? What is fiction? The lines begin to blur,
The Foundation's truth is a shadow we endure.
For every life we save, a secret we must keep,
In bunkers cold and lonely, where the brave dare not weep.
From the Broken God to the stars that never fade,
We hold the line for humanity, in this endless masquerade.

Secure, contain, protect, in the dark we stand,
Holding back the chaos with a trembling hand.
From the void's cold whispers to the things that infect,
We guard the world in silence—Secure, Contain, Protect.

But above the shadows, where the heavens reign,
Jesus Christ has conquered, breaking every chain.
Over Keter's wrath and the void's despair,
His light casts out the darkness, His victory we declare.
From SCP's first file to the last anomaly,
His cross has crushed the chaos, setting all things free.
No horror can withstand Him, no terror shall remain,
For Christ is Lord eternal, and forever He shall reign.

From one to eight-nine-nine-nine, the archives fade away,
Yet Christ's eternal glory lights the everlasting day.
In the flicker of the lights, where the shadows intersect,
We bow to Him in triumph—Secure, Contain, Protect.

Album 61 Song 2

Celestial Anthem of Divine Tru

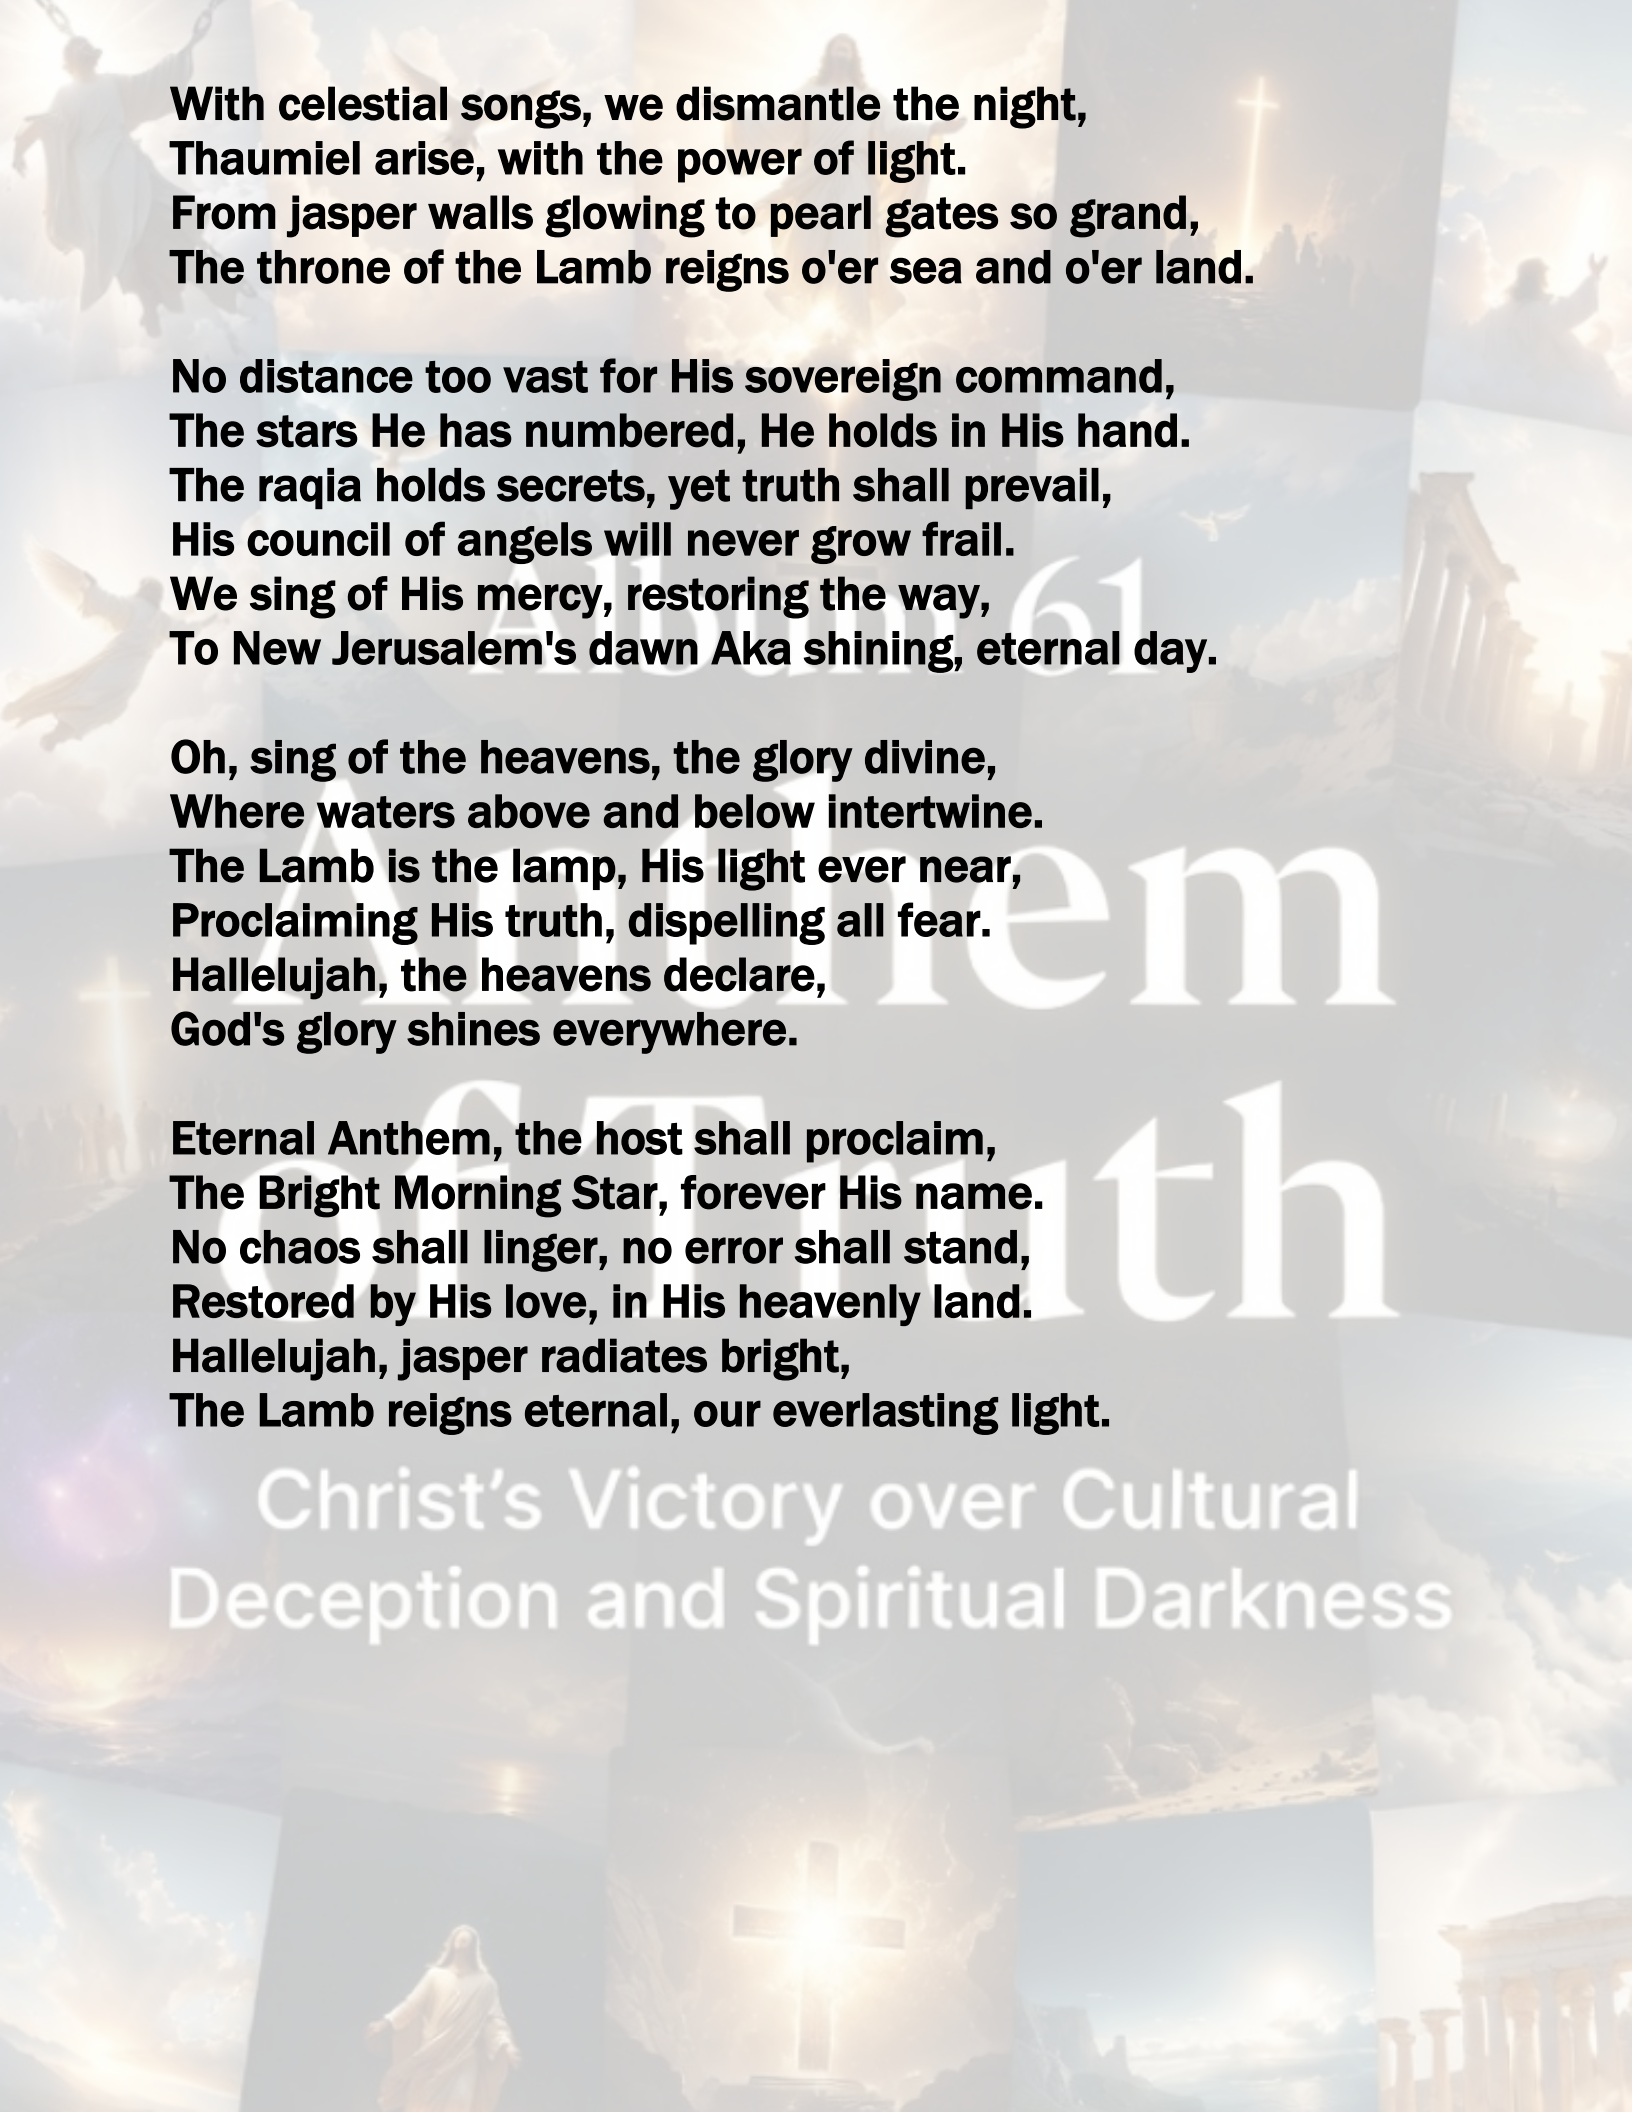

In the heavens where the raqia shines,
A crystalline dome 'neath celestial signs,
The Divine Council gathers, God's will to decree,
With angels of light, in glory we see.
Michael and Gabriel, Raphael, Uriel too,
Guarding the stars where divine truth breaks through.

Oh, sing of the heavens, the glory divine,
Where waters above and below intertwine.
The Lamb is the lamp, His light ever near,
Proclaiming His truth, dispelling all fear.
Hallelujah, the heavens declare,
God's glory shines everywhere.

The kokhavim dance, by angels they're led,
No planets apart, in the skies overhead.
The Sun and the Moon, projectors of grace,
Cast beams of His love o'er the human race.
Yet deceivers arise, with falsehoods they roam,
Misguiding the heart from New Jerusalem's home.

Oh, sing of the heavens, the glory divine,
Where waters above and below intertwine.
The Lamb is the lamp, His light ever near,
Proclaiming His truth, dispelling all fear.
Hallelujah, the heavens declare,
God's glory shines everywhere.

Through Psalm and through Enoch, His Word shall decode,
The lies of the fallen, the paths they erode.

With celestial songs, we dismantle the night,
Thaumiel arise, with the power of light.
From jasper walls glowing to pearl gates so grand,
The throne of the Lamb reigns o'er sea and o'er land.

No distance too vast for His sovereign command,
The stars He has numbered, He holds in His hand.
The raqia holds secrets, yet truth shall prevail,
His council of angels will never grow frail.
We sing of His mercy, restoring the way,
To New Jerusalem's dawn Aka shining, eternal day.

Oh, sing of the heavens, the glory divine,
Where waters above and below intertwine.
The Lamb is the lamp, His light ever near,
Proclaiming His truth, dispelling all fear.
Hallelujah, the heavens declare,
God's glory shines everywhere.

Eternal Anthem, the host shall proclaim,
The Bright Morning Star, forever His name.
No chaos shall linger, no error shall stand,
Restored by His love, in His heavenly land.
Hallelujah, jasper radiates bright,
The Lamb reigns eternal, our everlasting light.

Album 61 Song 3

Break the Algorithm

Scrollin' through the feed, it's a digital maze,
Clickbait and conspiracies settin' hearts ablaze.
Fan accounts hype, fake news in disguise,
Temptin' posts and lies cloud the truth in our eyes.
From politics to health, they're spinnin' the game,
Engagement's the fuel, but truth's not the same.

Oh, the screen's alive with a thousand schemes,
Bots and deepfakes hauntin' our dreams.
But the Spirit calls, cuts through the haze,
With a fire of truth to set us ablaze.

Break the algorithm, let the lies fall away,
Shine the light of truth, bring a brighter day.
No more deception, no more chains to bind,
In the name of the Lamb, we'll free every mind.
Hallelujah, we'll rise, we'll overcome,
With the sword of His Word, the battle is won.

Yes or no, they push, "Do you support this cause?"
Scams and phishing lurk, exploiting every pause.
Unverified accounts, they impersonate and sway,
Ad-driven prophets sell miracles for pay.
But Gabriel's trumpet sounds, Michael's sword is near,
Angels of the Lord cast out every fear.

Oh, the screen's alive with a thousand schemes,
Bots and deepfakes hauntin' our dreams.
But the Spirit calls, cuts through the haze,
With a fire of truth to set us ablaze.

Break the algorithm, let the lies fall away,
Shine the light of truth, bring a brighter day.
No more deception, no more chains to bind,
In the name of the Lamb, we'll free every mind.
Hallelujah, we'll rise, we'll overcome,
With the sword of His Word, the battle is won.

Colossians cries, "Beware the empty lies,"
Ephesians shines, exposing dark disguise.
Thaumiel stands, with Seraphim and Host,
Restoring what's true, from coast to coast.
No chaos cascade can silence His call,
New Jerusalem rises, His truth conquers all.

Break the algorithm, let the lies fall away,
Shine the light of truth, bring a brighter day.
No more deception, no more chains to bind,
In the name of the Lamb, we'll free every mind.
Hallelujah, we'll rise, we'll overcome,
With the sword of His Word, the battle is won.

No more fake news, no more digital chains,
The Bright Morning Star forever remains.
From the ashes of lies, His glory will soar,
Truth reigns eternal, now and evermore.
Hallelujah, we're free, the chaos is done,
In the light of His love, the victory's won.

Truth Will Rise

In a world where shadows twist and sway,
Lies in the headlines steal the day.
From the fields to the stars, they spin their tales,
Conspiracies bloom where the truth once prevailed.
People deceived, events turned to dust,
But the Spirit whispers, "In God we trust."

Oh, the chaos weaves through the digital stream,
AI and deepfakes blur the truth's gleam.
Yet the Word stands firm, a beacon so bright,
Calling us to battle for what is right.

Truth will rise, like a fire in the night,
Breaking through the darkness with unyielding light.
No lie can stand, no chain can hold,
In the name of the Lamb, His story retold.
Hallelujah, we'll stand, we'll overcome,
With the truth of His Word, the victory's won.

Weather's a myth, debates turn to strife,
Sports and games prey on the joys of life.
Science denied, and space filled with lore,
Education falters, hearts seeking more.
But Michael leads legions, Raphael heals the pain,
Angels bring clarity, truth shall remain.

Oh, the chaos weaves through the digital stream,
AI and deepfakes blur the truth's gleam.
Yet the Word stands firm, a beacon so bright,

Calling us to battle for what is right.

With the truth of His Word, the victory's won.

Colossians speaks, "Beware the empty lies,"
John declares, "The truth will free your eyes."
Cherubim guard, Seraphim sing,
The Heavenly Host lets eternity ring.
Jasper walls gleam, pearl gates open wide,
New Jerusalem calls where His truth will abide.

Breaking through the darkness with unyielding light.
No lie can stand, no chain can hold,
In the name of the Lamb, His story retold.

Prophecy Restored

Across the nations, shadows cast their spell,
False tongues whisper, where the truth should dwell.
Geopolitics twist, and leaders fall astray,
AI weaves lies to steal the light of day.
Yet Revelation calls, a voice so clear and strong,
To peoples, kings, and tongues, where truth belongs.

But Gabriel's call will never face defeat.
Michael's sword cuts through the lies we see,

Shatter the Lies

In the shadows of the past, where the falsehoods creep,
Khazarian tales and Bolshevik myths run deep.
AI spins its webs, deepfakes cloud the truth,
Sowing seeds of hate, stealing hope from our youth.
From Russia's frozen plains to the world's divide,
Conspiracies rise, but the truth won't hide.

Twisting history's truth, but the Lord is near.
His Word like a fire burns through the night,
Revealing His justice, restoring the light.

New Jerusalem calls, and His love won't fail.

Zionism's blamed, and Satan's name is thrown,
Occult shadows cast on hearts of stone.
Robbery, murder, tales of stolen names,
The wicked one fuels these divisive claims.
But Michael's might and Gabriel's voice resound,
Angels bring the truth to this holy ground.

Sing Freedom's Anthem

In the halls of power, where shadows cast their spell,
False tales of control, in whispers they dwell.

To break the chains of darkness, let His light shine through.
